

Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (HPAI) States

As of May 15, 2017, HPAI has not been detected in poultry within 60 days in any U.S. state or territory. Therefore, no permit is required for moving poultry or hatching eggs into New Jersey.

For importation of poultry and hatching eggs from countries other than the United States, please call the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, Division of Animal Health at: 609-671-6400
