JUNE 2010 HIGHLIGHTS

- At mid year, New Jersey's construction industry continues to struggle, but June showed signs of recovery. The estimated cost of work authorized by building permits for the month was $937 million. This was 34.3 percent more than last month and 25.8 percent more than June 2009.
- Work was split evenly between residential and office, retail, and other commercial activity. New houses and residential renovations totaled $467 million in June, 50.2 percent of all authorized construction. Nonresidential work amounted to $467 million, or 49.8 percent; 552 of New Jersey's 566 municipalities reported.
- New homes accounted for 20 percent of all authorized work. A total of 986 new houses were authorized by building permits in June. Thus far for 2010, this was the highest monthly total.
- Hoboken, Hudson County had the most work, $37.5 million. About 90 percent was for new houses. Hoboken had 161 authorized dwellings in June, top among municipalities. A 157-unit condominium project with retail space accounted for $33 million.
- Paramus, Bergen County had $34.4 million of construction in June. Over 93 percent was from new commercial buildings, including a Lowe's home improvement center and an auto dealership.
- Delran Township, Burlington County reported $21.1 million. School additions accounted for more than three-quarters of this total.
- Princeton Township, Mercer County had $18.2 million of work. Half of this was for a new, 249,000 square foot science building for Princeton University.
- "State buildings" refers to a category of building permits issued to New Jersey State government agencies or their instrumentalities. June activity totaled $72.2 million. Among the larger projects were large capital improvements at both Montclair and Rutgers universities.

Mid-Year Review

- 2009 was a bad year for the construction industry, particularly homebuilders, and halfway through 2010, conditions have not changed markedly one way or the other.
- The estimated cost of construction authorized by building permits between January and June 2010 totaled $4.717 billion. This was only about $70 million below the amount of activity reported for the same six-month period last year, a decline of 1.5 percent.

- New home construction is up by more than 300 units in 2010 year compared to this same six-month period last year, an increase of 6.3 percent.
- Office construction is up by more than 900,000 square feet (57.8 percent), but new retail space is down by 170,000 square feet (16.6 percent) compared to January-June 2009.

- Plainsboro (Middlesex County) leads all municipalities with $165.4 million of construction. Over $145 million (88 percent of all activity) was for work on the University Medical Center.

- New Brunswick (Middlesex County) reported $91.1 million of work for the first half of 2010. A new, 23-story high rise development that will have a mix of residential and office uses accounted for over 80 percent of all authorized work. The 628,600 square foot building will have 192 dwelling units.
- Jersey City (Hudson County) had $89.3 million of work between January and June, 2010. Over the last ten years, no other municipality had more construction. New homes accounted for much of this activity. In 2010, construction is still strong, but not because of new houses. They only account for 23 percent of the activity in the City between January and June. More than half is from renovations and fit ups of existing commercial buildings.
- Franklin Township (Somerset County) had $84.1 million of work through June. Over half was for two commercial buildings. A new medical office complex is underway with an estimated construction cost of $35.9 million. The Township also reported a $12.2 million permit update for work on a new data center office building for investment bank Morgan Stanley. Work on the project began in 2008.
- One construction trend evident midway through 2010 is the high level of “State Building” activity. State buildings include large public improvements typically undertaken by State government agencies or their instrumentalities. This can encompass permits issued to special-purpose authorities, like New Jersey Transit or the Sports and Exposition Authority. It also includes work done by State Universities, and thus far, 2010 is a strong year for such development, accounting for nearly 2 of every $3 dollars authorized.

State University	Estimated Dollar Amount of Construction
Montclair	$122.7 million
Rutgers	65.5 million
The College of New Jersey	5.7 million
William Paterson	3.5 million
Total	$197.4 million

New House Prices

- A total of 2,200 new homes were completed and began enrollment in a new home warranty program in the second quarter of 2010. The median sales price of these houses was $382,105.
- The most expensive new houses were in Morris, Hunterdon, and Bergen Counties. The median sales price in Morris was $624,150. In Hunterdon and Bergen Counties, it was $623,770 and $558,500, respectively.

THE NEW JERSEY CONSTRUCTION REPORTER contains statistics on construction activity in New Jersey. Information in the report comes from construction officials who administer the State Uniform Construction Code (UCC) (N.J.A.C. 5:23-1 et seq.) in New Jersey's 566 municipalities.

Each month, construction officials send to the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs (DCA) reports on the permits and certificates they issue. Permits authorize the start of construction and cover four types of activity: (1) New construction permits authorize the start of a new structure. (2) Permits for additions refer to work that will add space (volume and square feet) to an existing building. (3) Alterations also involve existing structures, but the work authorized will not add space. Typically, construction officials issue permits for alterations when the work is subject to one or more of the UCC's major subcodes (building, electrical, plumbing, fire protection). (4) Demolition permits authorize the removal of a building or some other structure. The CONSTRUCTION REPORTER identifies only those demolitions that will result in the loss of housing.

In addition to permits, the CONSTRUCTION REPORTER has information on the certificates issued by construction officials. While permits authorize the start of construction, certificates are issued for work completed and ready for occupancy. Each month, the CONSTRUCTION REPORTER will report on the number of housing units and the amount of office and retail space authorized for construction, along with the number of housing units and the amount of office and retail space completed.

Data Comparability

The CONSTRUCTION REPORTER contains information on authorized housing units that is tabulated two different ways. The DCA tabulates Tables 1 through 3 and Tables 8 through 13 based on the use of buildings, defined in "groups" by New Jersey's UCC. Exhibit B on page 3 summarizes these groups.

Tables 4, 5, and 6 show authorized housing units as defined and tabulated by the United States Census Bureau. The New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development prepares these tables for publication in the CONSTRUCTION REPORTER. Exhibit C on page 4 describes the housing definitions used by the Census Bureau.

The DCA series and the Census Bureau series on authorized housing units differ two important ways. First, the DCA series includes housing units created as a result of permits issued to alter or make additions to existing structures. The Census Bureau counts only those housing units authorized from permits issued for new construction.

Second, the Census Bureau imputes data for localities that fail to submit monthly reports on time. An asterisk in the Census column of data appearing in the Municipal Summary Data table at the back of the CONSTRUCTION REPORTER indicates those towns with imputed data. The Census Bureau bases these imputations on historic trends. The DCA series shows information for only those towns that submitted monthly reports. If a municipality failed to submit a monthly report on time, "No report" appears in the appropriate columns in the Municipal Summary Data table.

Additional Terms

A number of other terms appear in the tables throughout the CONSTRUCTION REPORTER. Exhibit A on page 2 defines additional construction permit and certificate terms.

Exhibit A

Summary of Building Permit and Certificate Terms
Addition	Permit type issued for construction work that adds space (volume and square feet) to an existing structure.
Alteration	Permit type involving one or more subcodes (building, electrical, fire protection, and plumbing). The work is authorized for an existing structure and does not add new space.
Certificate	A document issued by a construction official indicating completion of work for which a permit was issued.
Dollar Amount of Construction	Estimated cost of work, as reported by the permit applicant to the construction official.
Demolition	Permit type authorizing the demolition of an existing structure.

Exhibit C

Residential Structures (U.S. Census Bureau Definitions)

Tables 4, 5, and 6 show authorized housing units based on the structure types defined below by the U.S. Census Bureau. The number of units shown in these tables refers to those authorized by building permits issued for new construction only.

Single-Family Houses

Include all detached one-family houses and all attached one-family houses separated by a wall that extends from ground to roof with no common heating system or inter-structural public utilities. Include prefabricated, sectionalized, panelized, and modular homes that are manufactured partially off site, but are transported and assembled at the construction site.

Two-Family Buildings

Include all buildings with two housing units that may be above one another or side by side. If built side by side, the structures (1) do not have a wall that extends from ground to roof; or (2) share a heating system; or (3) have inter-structural public utilities, such as water supply and sewage disposal.

Three- and Four-Family Buildings

Include all buildings with three or four housing units. If built side by side, the structures (1) do not have a wall that extends from ground to roof; or (2) share a heating system; or (3) have inter-structural public utilities, such as water supply and sewage disposal.

Five-or-More-Family Buildings

Include all buildings with five or more housing units. If built side by side, the structures (1) do not have a wall that extends from ground to roof; or (2) share a heating system; or (3) have inter-structural public utilities, such as water supply and sewage disposal.

Private Housing Units

Housing owned by a private company or individual during the period of construction. This includes all housing built by nonprofit organizations and "turnkey" housing; for example, housing that will be sold to a local public housing authority when completed.

Public Housing Units

Housing owned by a governmental body during the period of construction.

NOTE:

Users of the monthly CONSTRUCTION REPORTER may notice that year-to-date figures in a particular issue may not be obtained by merely summing the monthly totals that appear in previous issues. This is because the construction data compiled by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs are continuously updated. Monthly construction reports submitted too late to make the January issue of the CONSTRUCTION REPORTER, for example, are included in the year-to-date totals that appear in the February issue.
