Disaster Damage:

Housing:

New Jersey's CDBG-DR Action Plan detailed the substantial damage that Superstorm Sandy caused to the State's housing sector. While damage from Superstorm Sandy occurred throughout the state, housing damage was particularly concentrated in communities bordering or near the Atlantic Ocean or the Hudson River. Many of these communities were flooded by Sandy's storm surge. FEMA Individual Assistance data as of March 12, 2013 reflected that the greatest concentrations of housing damage were located in the following counties: Atlantic (12%), Bergen (5%), Cape May (4%), Essex (2%), Hudson (6%), Middlesex (5%), Monmouth (16%), Ocean (35%) and Union (6%).

Superstorm Sandy significantly affected both homeowner and rental properties. Based on FEMA Individual Assistance data effective March 12, 2013, approximately 40,500 owners' primary residences and over 15,600 rental units sustained "severe" or "major" damage according to classifications made by HUD. Moreover, many residences were "substantially damaged," meaning that damages exceed 50% of the homes pre-disaster value. In total, the FEMA data from March 12, 2013 indicated that 59,971 owner-occupied homes and 21,900 rental units sustained some level of physical damage from the storm. As referenced in the State's Action Plan, these figures likely underestimate the breadth of Superstorm Sandy's impact on the housing sector.

The storm's impact on low- to moderate-income (LMI) households in New Jersey was particularly pronounced. FEMA Individual Assistance data as of March 12, 2013 demonstrated that of applicants who reported major or severe damage to their homes, 49% were LMI households. Moreover, 74% of renters that reported damage to their homes to FEMA were LMI households. While LMI households throughout the State were affected by the storm, the most impacted LMI households generally were within the counties with the greatest concentrations of damage, identified above.

Economic Development:

Superstorm Sandy devastated many businesses in New Jersey, causing substantial commercial property damage and short-term and long-term business operations losses. In addition to the physical damage Sandy caused to businesses themselves, widespread power outages resulted in inventory losses and working capital losses. Damage to public infrastructure such as roads, rail and bridges as well as compromised water utility systems and gas unavailability compounded those damages. This explains why data compiled soon after the storm suggested that businesses within 113 of New Jersey's 565 municipalities incurred a combined $382,000,000 in commercial property losses and another $63,900,000 in business interruption losses. While Superstorm Sandy caused damage across all state industries, some industries -- particularly the tourism industry -- were substantially affected.

The storm also is estimated to have affected over 1,000,000 employees in New Jersey's workforce. Data compiled in the months after the storm indicates that approximately 138,000 workers filed unemployment claims in November 2012, the first full month after Superstorm Sandy. By comparison, unemployment claims in November 2011 totaled 54,444 claims.

Infrastructure:

Superstorm Sandy's storm surge and associated flooding extensively impacted New Jersey's infrastructure. Critical facilities and assets throughout the State were directly damaged. Sandy left nearly seventy percent of ratepayers statewide without electricity. Water and wastewater treatment facilities were unable to sustain operations. Roadways experienced significant damage from extensive flooding and sustained winds resulted in debris that made critical evacuation routes impassable. Rail and other public transit systems, which suspended operations in anticipation of the storm, were substantially damaged.

Recovery Needs:

Housing:

New Jersey estimated in its Action Plan an unmet need in the housing sector totaling $2,504,993,992. The State calculated that figure by adding estimated repair and replacement costs and estimated costs for required elevations to reach a total need figure. The State then subtracted funding provided from other sources such as private insurance, FEMA, and SBA, to reach the unmet need. As stated in the Action Plan, this figure likely understates the extent of New Jersey's housing needs.

Economic: New Jersey estimated in its Action Plan an unmet need in the economic sector of $1,727,813,413. The State calculated that figure by adding estimated commercial losses and business interruption losses to arrive at a total need figure. The State then subtracted funding provided from other sources, such as commercial insurance and SBA. As stated in the Action Plan, this figure does not account for long-term losses or systemic impacts to the State's key economic base, notably the tourism and coastal real estate market. As a result, this figure likely understates the extent of New Jersey's needs in the economic sector.

Infrastructure: New Jersey estimated in its Action Plan an unmet need in the infrastructure sector of $25,432,594,266. The State calculated that figure by adding estimated damage costs to needed hazard mitigation measures to arrive at a total need figure. The State then subtracted funding provided from other sources, such as FEMA Public Assistance. As stated in the Action Plan, these figures are preliminary and subject to change.

Affirmatively Further Fair Housing:

The State is committed to affirmatively further fair housing through its housing programs, following all applicable federal and state statutes and regulations, and enforcing fair housing laws. The State will ensure that housing assistance relating to Superstorm Sandy recovery is prioritized and allocated solely based on disaster-related need, without regard to race or ethnicity. Information relating to demographics of impacted communities will be utilized to ensure that assistance is accessible and reaches New Jerseyans in need. In support, the State, among other things, has stood up household assistance centers in each of the nine most impacted counties to assist residence and communities with recovery programs and the application process.

Overall Progress Narrative:

SUMMARY FOR 3rd QUARTER 2013 QPR:
1st allocation

New Jersey continues to make substantial strides in the Sandy disaster recovery and rebuilding efforts.

This Quarterly Performance Report, required by HUD, exclusively focuses on the progress of programs and projects funded with Community Development Block Grant-Disaster Recovery (CDBG-DR). Using CDBG-DR funds, the State launched 17 programs to assist Sandy-impacted homeowners, renters, businesses and communities. Programs were widely publicized, and the interest in the State's programs has been robust.

HOUSING ACTIVITIES:

Using CDBG-DR funds, the State has taken a number of steps to address the substantial damage that Superstorm Sandy caused to New Jersey's housing sector.

The State began accepting applications for the Homeowner Resettlement Program on May 24, 2013, less than a month after the New Jersey Disaster Recovery Action Plan was approved. This program provided $10,000 grants to eligible homeowners to assist with non-construction recovery expenses. More than 22,600 Resettlement applications were received by the time the application period closed on August 1, 2013. More than 1,500 applicants are on the wait list. Through the Resettlement Program, as of September 30, 2013, almost $118 million has been disbursed to nearly 11,800 families.

The Reconstruction, Rehabilitation, Elevation and Mitigation (RREM) Program, the State's largest housing initiative, has made considerable progress since launching May 24, 2013. The program provides grants up to $150,000 to eligible homeowners to reconstruct, repair, elevate or undertake mitigation measures for their storm-damaged homes. When the RREM application period closed on August 1, 2013, more than 15,100 RREM applications had been submitted. As of September 30, 2013, the State has processed all applications and sent preliminary funding approval letters to more than 3,500 households. Of these households, more than 1,600 field inspections were completed to identify the estimated cost to repair the existing structure and nearly 800 environmental reviews were contracted out with nearly 80 of these reviews being cleared. By the end of the third quarter, the RREM Program was poised to begin scheduling applicants for grant agreement signings early within the following quarterly reporting period and preparing to disburse construction award funds. Importantly, more than 8,000 applicants are on the waitlist awaiting additional funding to be infused into the program.

Programs designed to replenish the stock of rental housing throughout Sandy-affected areas, repair affordable rental units affected by the storm, and provide affordable housing for residents in need are well under way in New Jersey.

The Fund for Restoration of Multi-Family Housing committed nearly $110 million to 34 projects coupled with tax credits to create affordable housing opportunities in the nine counties most impacted by the storm. With the goal of leveraging CDBG-DR funds, the State accelerated the 2013 application deadline for the competitive 9% Low Income Housing Tax Credits from June 2013 to May 2013 for projects located in the nine most impacted counties. This enabled developers to apply for both CDBG-DR funds and the 9% tax credits simultaneously to support the rehabilitation or construction of large multi-family properties. The projects should significantly increase housing for low-to moderate-income households, and alleviate some of the pressure on rents caused by the damage Superstorm Sandy caused to the rental housing sector.

The Sandy Special Needs Housing Fund committed more than $10.6 million to three projects that will provide permanent supportive rental housing units for special needs populations, including individuals with mental, physical, or developmental disabilities. An additional 26 projects were in the pipeline as of September 30, 2013.

The Landlord Incentive Program awarded nearly $4.3 million of funding to 30 rental property owners to help finance 256 units of affordable rental housing throughout New Jersey. The grants are providing rental property owners with fair market rents so that they can make their housing units affordable to low- and moderate-income families.

The Sandy Homebuyer Assistance Program closed on two interest-free, forgivable mortgages to help low- and moderate-income families buy homes in Sandy-impacted communities. Another six mortgages were approved and committed by the end of the third quarter. The program, which provides $50,000 grants for down payments to assist households with purchasing homes (including helping renters become first-time homebuyers), was quickly oversubscribed.

The Pre-Development Loan Fund for Affordable Rental Housing awarded $3 million to six projects to cover the predevelopment and planning soft costs associated with projects that will yield more affordable housing units. These funds are assisting non-profit developers at the early stages of development to allow them to complete site preparation work as well as work to finalize construction and permanent financing.

The Neighborhood Enhancement Program awarded 15 zero-interest loans totaling more than $13.5 million to that will help finance 84 units of affordable housing. The funds are helping developers finance the rehabilitation of abandoned, foreclosed and vacant housing in the nine counties most impacted by Sandy and return blighted buildings to viability.

The Landlord Rental Repair Program, which launched on July 24, 2013, has received more than 1,200 applications affecting nearly 2,000 damaged housing units. The program supports the rehabilitation of damaged rental properties with 25 units or less, and making them available at affordable rates and to low-to moderate-income tenants. Applicants are actively moving through the application/intake appointment stage with nearly 1,100 application received notices issued, nearly 900 titles cleared, nearly 800 intake appointment packets sent out, nearly 300 intake appointments scheduled and more than 60 applicants ready for the initial site inspection as of September 30, 2013.

NON-HOUSING ACTIVITIES:

Using CDBG-DR funds, the State has stood up programs to address the impact that Superstorm Sandy had on the economic sector. The State established four programs directed at addressing the significant impacts Superstorm Sandy had across New Jersey's economic sectors. On May 1, two days after HUD approved the Action Plan, the New Jersey Economic Development Authority began accepting applications for the Stronger NJ Business Grant Program. The program offers grants up to $50,000 to eligible businesses for working capital or construction needs. As of September 30, 2013, the Stronger NJ Business Grant program has disbursed nearly $2.4 million to businesses, with additional applications being processed and more of these program funds soon to be disbursed. As of September 30, 2013, the NJ EDA has a robust pipeline of more than 300 businesses that opened a loan application for the program by the end of the third quarter.

Having received the State's requested waiver from HUD, the State dedicated CDBG-DR funds to a tourism marketing campaign aimed at drawing visitors to New Jersey tourism attractions in 2013, most notably the Jersey Shore. The campaign was critical to combating the misperception that Superstorm Sandy had devastated all tourism assets in the State, and drawing tourism monies into communities that rely on those revenues. The State expended more than $18.5 million on the "Stronger than the Storm" campaign. Moreover, more than 40 major events were hosted that reached nearly 320,000 individuals. The program also distributed 36,000 pieces of campaign-related materials at community events, reached more than 100,000 individuals through digital and social media efforts, and placed more than 1,500 media ads.

The State's Neighborhood and Community Revitalization Program is focused on various initiatives including: (i) funding for streetscapes, sidewalks, lighting and other types of physical improvements to commercial areas; (ii) funding for larger catalytic and transformative economic projects; and (iii) funding for Community Development Financial Institutions to support micro-lending initiatives. As of September 30, the New Jersey Economic Development Authority continues to receive and process applications under this program.

In support of communities hit hard by Superstorm Sandy, the State has awarded nearly $45 million through the Essential Services Grants Program. For many communities, the Community Disaster Loans offered by FEMA were not sufficient to ensure the necessary funding was available to provide essential services. Essential Services grants are helping maintain critical public services such as police and fire protection, public works and emergency first aid response in Atlantic City, Toms River, Sea Bright, Asbury Park, Brigantine, Keansburg, Lavallette, Little Egg Harbor and communities throughout Ocean County.

To facilitate thoughtful and resilient rebuilding, the State has offered planning assistance through the Post-Sandy Planning Assistance Grant Program. More than 30 award letters have issued to impacted communities that demonstrated how planning grant assistance would support greater community resilience moving forward.

Finally, the Code Enforcement Program has helped ensure that homes are built safer and up to code by conducting nearly 15,500 building code inspections as of September 30, 2013.

Location Description:

Trenton

Activity Progress Narrative:

The Sandy Recovery Division (SRD) was created to supplement capacity within the the Department of Community Affairs (DCA) in the aftermath of SuperStorm Sandy. The SRD administers the CDBG Disaster Recovery funds approved by Congress on January 29, 2013. Personnel were hired from around the United States, as well as within New Jersey, with experience in all aspects of CDBG programs. Managers and staff were retained in areas of homeownership housing, multifamily, rental and supportive housing, economic development, policy and reporting, finance, monitoring and compliance. Administration funds pay for the staff of the SRD, in support of the 9 local offices in the most impacted counties, and for technical experts to advise on CDBGDR policy and program implementation. The DCA will continue to evaluate the need for additional employees as the program progresses. Monitoring and transparency are critical areas that SRD will focus on ensuring fraud and waste is contained while programs are launched, and while programs are administered.

Activity Description:

FEMA Match – ONA – “Other Needs Assistance” is a FEMA Individual Assistance program that provides basic services to individuals impacted by disasters. The program is subject to a non-federal cost share. The cost share is provided through the NJ Department of Treasury, Office of Budget and Management.

Location Description:

All disaster declared counties.

Activity Progress Narrative:

During the 3rd quarter, HUD and the State continued a dialogue regarding whether all FEMA ONA claims are eligible for non-federal match reimbursement for this disaster. Until the issue is resolved, the state is replacing the request with eligible matches in Public Assistance (PA) claims, including Category A (debris removal) and Category B (Emergency Protective Measure) costs. The project worksheets addressed critical immediate post-Sandy response responsibilities that allowed New Jersey residents and communities to begin the recovery and restoration process.

Activity Description:

Many Sandy-impacted homeowner had significant property damage to their residences and have suffered diminished property values. Moreover, some homeowners whose residences were substantially damaged by the storm will be required to elevate their residences. Additionally, with the passage of the Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Act, flood insurance premiums for many are likely to rise, particularly for residences not above FEMA's base flood elevation. All of these costs threaten to force homeowners, and particularly LMI households, to leave their communities. The Homeowner Resettlement program is targeted to alleviate some of the pressures facing homeowners impacted by Superstorm Sandy.

Location Description:

Counties: Atlantic, Bergen, Cape May, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, Ocean, and Union

Activity Progress Narrative:

The State of New Jersey allocated $180 million in CDBG-DR funds to encourage homeowners in the 9 most impacted counties to remain in the county where their home was damaged. The Resettlement Program allows homeowners who meet eligibility requirements to receive an incentive grant of $10,000. Eligibility is based on the damaged property being located in one of the 9 most impacted categories, timely FEMA registration, proof of ownership, and primary residence at the time of the storm, having $8,000 of damage, or having sustained 1ft of water on the 1st floor of the residence. The applicant must be willing to remain in the county for three years. Applicants completed an application online, through a phone call, or in person at a regional recovery housing center. The initial application period ran from May 24, 2013 through June 30, 2013 (Group 1). A second application period ran from July 1, 2013 to August 1, 2013 (Group 2). For Group 1, 60% of funds initially were reserved for eligible LMI applicants. For Group 2, applicants were processed on a 1st received, 1st processed basis. Those applicants who received initial approval were scheduled for closing. During the closing, the applicant signed a notarized promissory note acknowledging the requirements of the grant, including the agreement to remain in the county for three years. If approved by DCA, the applicant received a $10,000 check. As of September 30th 2013, 11,772 resettlement grants have been processed for payment, for a total of $117,720,000. There are over 1500 applicants on the waitlist.

Funds will be used to revitalize New Jersey's tourism and encourage consumer confidence in the impacted regions. The State will develop a comprehensive marketing effort to promote within and outside the State that the impacted areas of New Jersey, including the Jersey shore, is recovering and open for business. (LMI) Round 1 05/13/13-05/12/15

Location Description:

Counties: Atlantic, Bergen, Cape May, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, Ocean, and Union

Activity Progress Narrative:

EDA's tourism marketing campaign was aimed at combatting the misperception that Superstorm Sandy destroyed all State tourism assets. Tourism is a vital industry in New Jersey, particularly on the Jersey Shore. EDA utilized funds to manage and support over 40 major events reaching nearly 320,000 individuals. The program distributed 36,000 pieces of campaign related materials at community events, raising awareness for regional recovery campaigns and directing people in New Jersey to engage in conversations on social media. Visually-focused digital and social media efforts highlighted residents, tourists, and the small businesses which are the hub for New Jersey's shore-based economy and resulted in over 100,000 online individuals being reached. Funds were also used to proactively target critical national and regional media markets that are key to the tourism sector, resulting in 1.1 billion media impressions and over 1,500 media placements occurring. EDA continues to work with local elected officials and Destination Marketing Organizations to directly support individual community needs.

Activity Progress Narrative:

EDA's tourism marketing campaign was aimed at combatting the misperception that Superstorm Sandy destroyed all State tourism assets. Tourism is a vital industry in New Jersey, particularly on the Jersey Shore. EDA utilized funds to manage and support over 40 major events reaching nearly 320,000 individuals. The program distributed 36,000 pieces of campaign related materials at community events, raising awareness for regional recovery campaigns and directing people in New Jersey to engage in conversations on social media. Visually-focused digital and social media efforts highlighted residents, tourists, and the small businesses which are the hub for New Jersey's shore-based economy and resulted in over 100,000 online individuals being reached. Funds were also used to proactively target critical national and regional media markets that are key to the tourism sector, resulting in 1.1 billion media impressions and over 1,500 media placements occurring. EDA continues to work with local elected officials and Destination Marketing Organizations to directly support individual community needs.
