Family Success Centers (FSC)

- Target Population: All New Jersey Families.
- Level of Service: 50 FSCs each serving at least 250 individuals each year. Levels of Service vary according to the award.

Family Success Center Model

Family Success Centers (FSCs) are neighborhood gathering places where any community resident can go for support, information and services.

The design and delivery of services are guided by parents' and individuals' voice and choice through a Parent/Community Advisory Board.

Family Success Center Approach

- It is a collaborative, strength-based method of organizing resources, supports and services to support the growth and development of families.
- Embraces families and partners to achieve their aspirations for the future.
- It strives to help families build upon those strengths through community involvement and shared-decision making with families.

Family Success Center Difference

- Enrich the lives of children by strengthening families and neighborhood.
- Develop and reinforce local networks and provide integrated, locally based services.
- Reduce isolation and promote social connections among family and community.

Family Success Center Difference

- Support activities and provide services in a friendly, safe and non stigmatizing location.
- Work towards long-term sustainability through collaboration, fundraising and the leveraging of funds and resources.
- Are success-driven which creates the conditions for families to address positive sustainable futures for themselves.

Family Success Center Difference

- Provide a defined set of activities and core services for parents, families and individuals.
- Families are “at the table” in all decisions that affect their lives. FSCs recognize that families possess the inherent strengths and knowledge they need to succeed given the opportunity, support and resources.
- Intended to be catalysts for transforming the way families, communities and resources connect.

Family Friendly Activities

- Family success goes beyond the predominant view of prevention.
- Family success focus on creating, promoting and supporting situations that allow well-being to flourish and ensures positive outcomes for individuals and families.
- Family success breaks away from the traditional targeted , time –constrained, casualty based interventions.

Family Friendly Activities

- Parenting Groups (evidenced based parent education),
- Support Groups for Young Parents (Mom's Group-New Babies, New Emotions, Kiddie Academy-Emotional Coaching),
- Computer Labs (Job Search, Resume Writing, Financial Literacy Workshop, etc.),
- Breast Feeding Support Groups, Prenatal Nutrition Classes, Adult Literacy Programs,
- Grandparents Support Groups,
- Parent & Me-Arts and Crafts Activities,
- Fatherhood Enrichment Activities (father-daughter dance, movie night, play with dad, exercise with dad, etc.),
- Girls Empowerment Groups, Tutoring, Gardening Clubs,
- Group exercise: Yoga, Zumba, Walking Clubs.

Strengthening Families™ Protective Factors Framework Logic Model

An Ounce of Prevention

- Well-being of children and prevention of child abuse and neglect is a shared responsibility.
- It is larger than any single entity or agency.
- Who bears the responsibility? Everyone.
 - Public and private stakeholders
 - Government
 - Healthcare
 - Social services
 - Early education
 - Schools
 - Legislators
 - Policymakers
 - Foundations
 - Community and faith-based groups
 - Families and other individuals

Defining Prevention

- Primary Prevention targets the general population and offers services and activities before any signs of undesired behaviors become present; there is no screening.
- Secondary Prevention is directed at those who are “at risk” of possibly maltreating or neglecting children. Secondary prevention efforts and services are provided before child is abuse or neglect occurs.
- Tertiary Prevention provided after maltreatment has occurred, to reduce the impact of maltreatment and to avoid future abuse
