

Note to the Reader:

Since the initial sections of this survey were completed, determinations of eligibility have been modified for certain properties. In order to find the most recent determination of eligibility, consult the "Sites List and Municipal Maps" section of the introductory narrative (Vol. 1). The determinations of eligibility on the survey forms are superceded by those on the list.

SITES LISTS AND MAPS

Below is a list of all sites included in the Monmouth County Historic Sites Inventory. Sites location maps are also provided for each municipality. The sites lists are arranged by municipality and then alphabetically by street address or geographical location. Next to each site is a determination of its eligibility to the National Register of Historic Places. Eligibility is notated by the following symbols:

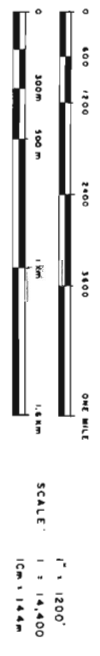

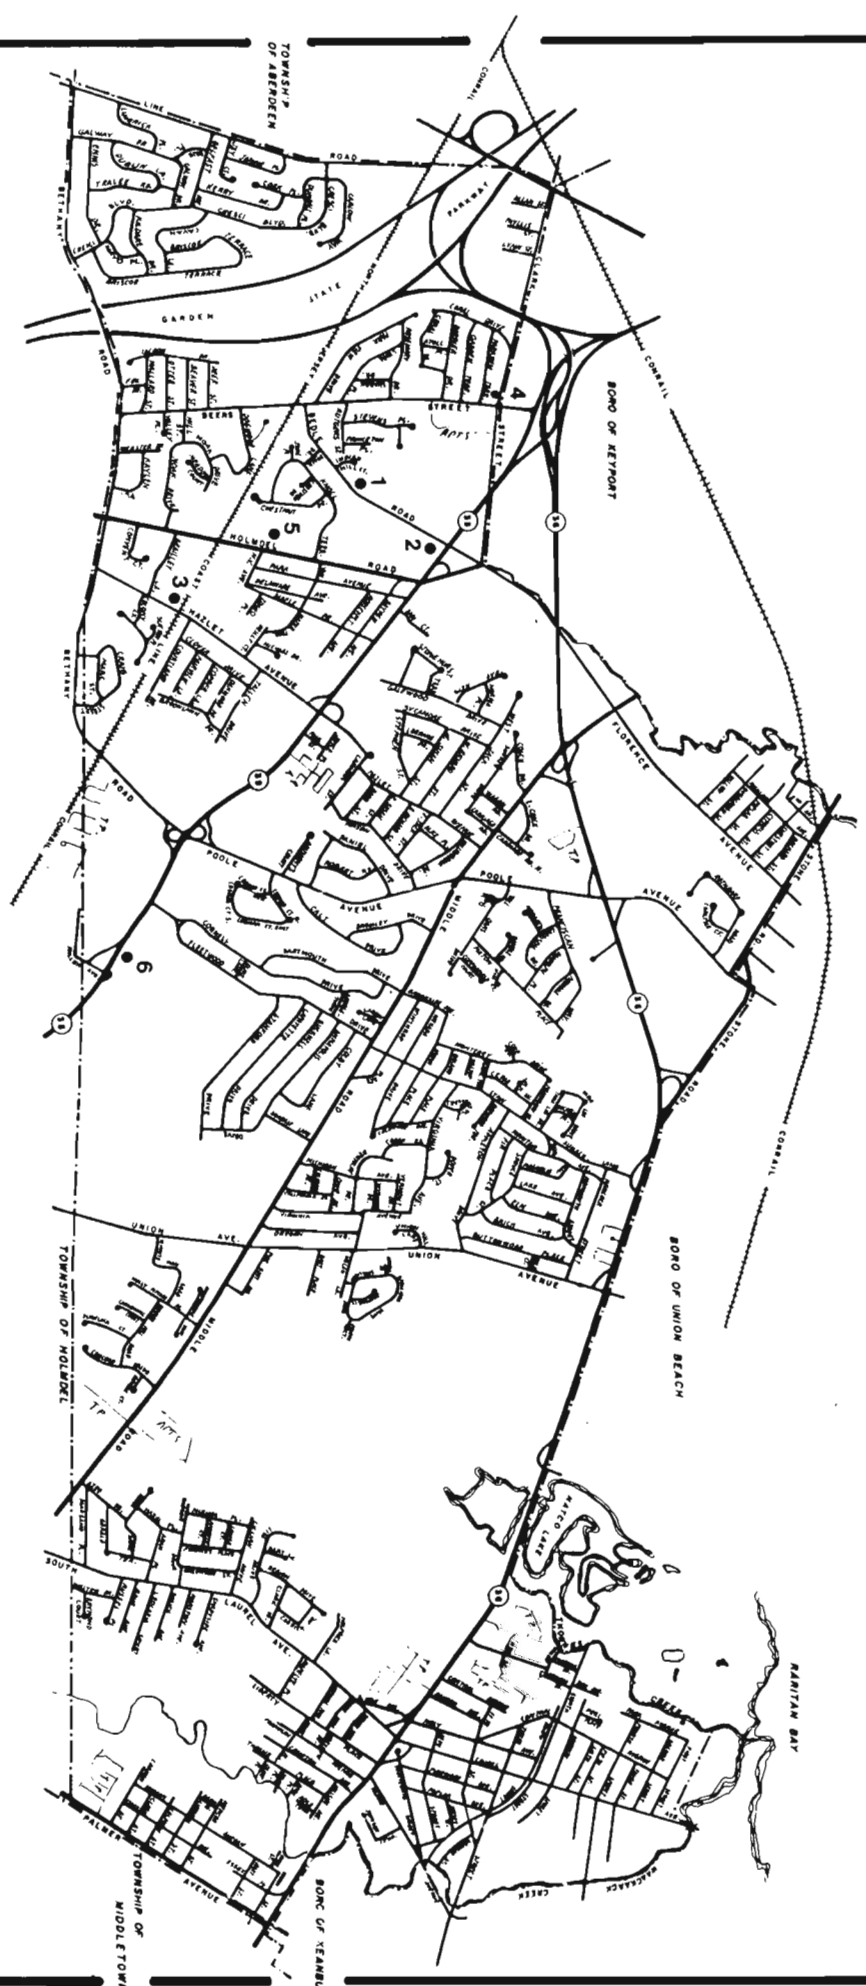

Y = Yes
N = No
P = Possible
D = District

Sites which are located within eligible districts but which are also individually eligible are labeled "Y" instead of "D". The "Possible" category is limited to those properties which require additional research on construction date, quality of the interior (interiors generally were not examined), ownership history, and/or degree of alteration in order to determine eligibility.

The survey project followed federal standards for National Register eligibility which are set forth in "How to Apply the National Register Criteria for Evaluation" (National Park Service, Department of the Interior, 1982). National Register eligibility is subject to review and final approval by the Office of New Jersey Heritage and the New Jersey State Review Board of Historic Sites. Eligibility may change due to building alterations made subsequent to this survey. Since the initial field work for this project was completed during 1980-1982, determinations of eligibility on the survey forms are superceded by those on the below updated lists.

The National Register is the official list of properties significant in American history, architecture, archeology, engineering, and culture. The National Register was established by the Historic Sites Act of 1935 and the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended. It is maintained and expanded by the National Park Service on behalf of the Secretary of the Interior. Properties listed on the National Register receive a limited form of protection and certain benefits. For information concerning the effects of listing, contact the Office of New Jersey Heritage in Trenton (609-292-2023).

A. This is a five bay Federal house with two flanking twentieth century, room over porch additions. The roof has a milled cornice with concealed gutters and a broad frieze band. The house is five bays on the north facade and four bays on the south facade. Windows have 6/6 sash with simple drip moldings. The front and rear doorways are similar; flanked by smooth pilasters and surmounted by an elliptical fan light and a low pitched pediment, highlighted in black. Dentil moldings are on the under side of the pediment and the returns.

B. English plan with central doors. Shed is a later addition. Bank may have been dug out at a later date.

SITING, BOUNDARY DESCRIPTION, AND RELATED STRUCTURES: SEE ATTACHED PLAN

LANDSCAPE FEATURES:

Siting: House is aligned north/south, with the barn a short distance to the south, on a 13 acre lot.
Topography: House is located on a small rise, surrounding area is generally flat.
Vegetation: Scattered trees in house lot, surrounding area is wooded, or marsh and grasses.
Water: None in immediate vicinity

SURROUNDING ENVIRONMENT: Urban Suburban Scattered Buildings
Open Space Woodland Residential Agricultural Village
Industrial Downtown Commercial Highway Commercial Other

SIGNIFICANCE:

This house is one of the best examples of the Federal Style in northern Monmouth County, where examples of the style are not common. The door enframement is particularly notable. The barn is one of a rapidly decreasing number in the Bayshore area. It has a traditional form found on English plan barns during the eighteenth and the first half of the nineteenth century. The farm was owned by J. Bedle in 1851 and by L. Bedle in 1873 and 1889. The house was probably built by a member of the Bedle family but there is no proof found as yet for that. The Bedles were a prominent family in the area; many lived in the immediate vicinity, and others were important figures in Keyport and Matawan.

Additional Architectural Description:

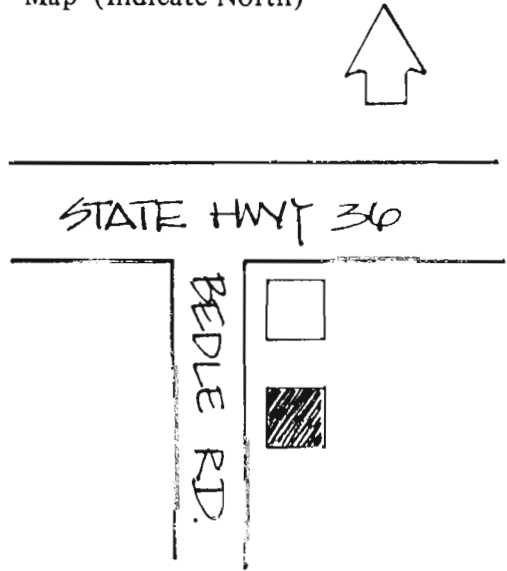

Section B, a one story cottage with a large overhanging roof, is probably the original section, dating from the eighteenth century. It appears to be a Dutch framed cottage; section C is probably an expanded lean-to characteristic on cottages of this type. The two story section A was probably added during the early or mid-19th century. It is a simple three-bay square with eaves flush with the end walls; 6/6 sash windows on the first floor; and 3/3 on the second floor. It has no doorway.

SITING, BOUNDARY DESCRIPTION, AND RELATED STRUCTURES:

The ell portion of the house (section B) faces south; the main block (A) faces west toward the road. The house is located on a small triangular lot; a small frame garage is also on the lot; it is in poor condition.

SURROUNDING ENVIRONMENT: Urban Suburban Scattered Buildings
Open Space Woodland Residential Agricultural Village
Industrial Downtown Commerical Highway Commercial Other

Almost adjacent to N.J. Route 36, a 4 lane divided highway with considerable traffic

SIGNIFICANCE:

Although Hazlet was populated by the Dutch and English at an early date (early eighteenth century) few structures from the eighteenth or the nineteenth centuries remain. Although it is somewhat obscured by later additions, section B of this house is typical of houses in the area from the eighteenth century. Nineteenth century maps of the area are ambiguous. The house is on the edge of the nineteenth century village of Mechanicsville.

SITING, BOUNDARY DESCRIPTION, AND RELATED STRUCTURES:

The house is situated on top of a rise; it overlooks the New York and Long Branch Railroad tracks. The lot is heavily wooded with conifers. A parking lot is on the south side of the house. The lot is 4 acres, irregular in shape.

SURROUNDING ENVIRONMENT: Urban Suburban Scattered Buildings
Open Space Woodland Residential Agricultural Village
Industrial Downtown Commercial Highway Commercial Other

SIGNIFICANCE:

This is a substantial example of an Italianate house, typical of Monmouth County in its relatively simple design and large size. Brick was not a common residential building material, in spite of the large quantities of brick that were produced along the Bayshore. In 1873 and 1889 it was owned by Dr. C.A. Brailley, who may have been the original owner.

ADDITIONAL ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION

A. This house is composed of two major sections. The lower section with the center gable is the earlier of the two. The irregular fenestration indicates that it may also have been built in two sections, though the division has been obscured by later alterations. The section is essentially a Gothic cottage with vergeboard in the gable peak, a pointed head central window and a two sided porch supported by turned posts with brackets. Portions of this section of the house may date to the eighteenth century. Alterations were made during the second half of the nineteenth century. The later section has a two-bay facade with 2/2 sash windows with awnings, and a pointed head window in the gable. It was added in the later nineteenth century.

B. Has one central bay.
