

Instructions for Tidelands Lease Applications

A Tidelands lease is a long term rental agreement from the State of New Jersey for the use of its tidelands specifically for houses that have been constructed over currently flowed tidelands. As defined by N.J.S.A. 12:3-10 and N.J.S.A. 13:1B-13, tidelands are all lands currently and formerly flowed by the mean high tide of a natural waterway. These lands are the property of the State.

The State of New Jersey will rent and/or sell formerly flowed tidelands. However, at this time, currently flowed tidelands that have not been previously sold by the State may only be rented. The only exception is man-made waterways such as lagoons.

Leases must be obtained for all proposed construction as well as any past construction regardless of whether or not the current property owner is responsible for that construction. The State does not grandfather homes over water with respect to Tidelands conveyances. All structures that are currently occupying State-owned tidelands without the benefit of a Tidelands lease are considered illegal, and the State of New Jersey would be within its rights to file a lien against the upland.

A lease typically takes between two and three years to obtain.

The State of New Jersey is under no obligation to issue a Tidelands lease. Leases are not valid until delivered and may be revoked by the State at any time.

Lease Application Requirements:

The materials listed in Section A are required for all lease applications. Some applications will have further requirements as described in Sections B and C. Please note that an application may have requirements from multiple sections.
