Third-Party Defendant Reckitt Benckiser Inc. (“Respondent” or “Reckitt”) hereby provides its Supplement to Initial Disclosure pursuant to Case Management Order (“CMO”) XII.

Reservations and Comments

1. Reckitt reserves the right to object to the production of any documents or other information on any ground, including relevance and undue burden, and to assert any applicable privilege, including the attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine, the common interest doctrine, confidentiality, trade secret and any other applicable protection. These disclosures are not intended to prejudice or waive any privileges or objections Reckitt may have with respect to any outstanding or subsequent requests for discovery.

2. Reckitt's investigation in this matter is continuing. Accordingly, it reserves the right to supplement, clarify, and revise these disclosures any time prior to trial to the extent additional information becomes available or is obtained through discovery. Further, Reckitt reserves the right to amend these disclosures to the extent the claims brought by or alleged against Reckitt in this litigation are amended.

3. Reckitt reserves its right to rely on any facts, documents or other evidence that may develop or come to Reckitt's attention during the course of this matter. Reckitt's responses are set forth herein without prejudice to its right to assert additional objections or supplement its responses should Reckitt discover additional grounds for doing so during the course of this matter.

4. "Documents," excluding electronic e-mail and Electronically Stored Information, shall have the meaning set forth in this Court's August 11, 2009 Order for Preservation of Documents and Data.

Production as to Paragraph 21(b)

Copies of all non-privileged Documents other than electronic email discovery, that relate to

(i) the alleged discharge of any hazardous wastes, hazardous substances, pollutants or contaminants (“Hazardous Materials”) to the Newark Bay Complex;

Response: See Reservations noted above. See Response to Paragraph 21c 1, i., below.

(ii) the potential pathways and methods by which the Hazardous Materials have been released to the Newark Bay Complex, as well as the quantity, nature and toxicity of such Hazardous Materials;

Response: See Reservations noted above. See Response to Paragraphs 21(c), 1, i.-iv., below.

(iii) other actions relating to properties or operations that may have adversely impacted the environmental condition of the Newark Bay Complex

Response: See Reservations noted above. See Response to Paragraphs 21(c), 1, i.-iv., below.P

(iv) the costs and damages costs and damages sought in connection with any alleged discharge of Hazardous Materials.

Response: See Reservations noted above. Reckitt further notes that all cross-claims and counterclaims asserting statutory or common law contribution or indemnification and Fourth-Party claims are stayed in the present action and, as such, it has made no such claim against parties in this action at this time.

Production as to Paragraph 21(c)

1. A copy of all Documents relating to the following information for the site(s), properties and/or operations with which the Third-Party Defendant is associated in the Third-Party Complaints:

i. the release or discharge of Hazardous Materials from or at that Third Party Defendant’s properties or operations.

Response: In addition to the Reservations stated above, and expressly subject to them, Reckitt states that it is unaware of any documents that would show the existence of any discharge or release of Hazardous Materials into the Newark Bay Complex from Reckitt’s properties. In an attempt to be responsive, Reckitt has previously provided a CD with non-privileged documents related to environmental compliance, investigation, and remediation at 111 Commerce Road, Carlstadt, New Jersey, Block 127, Lot 3 on the tax assessment map of the Borough of Carlstadt and at 145 and 179 Commerce Road, Carlstadt, New Jersey (the “Sites”). Reckitt also possesses two reels of microfilm received from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection containing documents relating to the Sites. Reckitt believes these documents are contained on the CD previously provided, but has provided herewith copies of these reels to counsel for Third-Party Plaintiffs and Liaison Counsel.

ii. the operations, manufacturing and/or production processes, any Hazardous Materials stored or utilized on the property, and any sampling that took place on the property and any sampling or testing of the materials, by products or waste products used in connection therewith;

Response: In addition to the Reservations stated above, and expressly subject to them, Reckitt states that it is unaware of any documents that would show the existence of any discharge or release of Hazardous Materials into the Newark Bay Complex from Reckitt's properties. In an attempt to be responsive, Reckitt has previously provided a CD with non-privileged documents related to environmental compliance, investigation, and remediation at the Sites. Reckitt also possesses two reels of microfilm received from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection containing documents relating to the Sites. Reckitt believes these documents are contained on the CD previously provided, but has provided herewith copies of these reels to counsel for Third-Party Plaintiffs and Liaison Counsel.

iii. sampling results from environmental, chemical, or biological testing conducted at that Third Party Defendant's properties;

Response: In addition to the Reservations stated above, Reckitt states that it is unaware of any documents that would show the existence of any discharge or release of Hazardous Materials into the Newark Bay Complex from Reckitt's properties. In an attempt to be responsive, Reckitt has previously provided a CD with non-privileged documents related to environmental compliance, investigation, and remediation at the Sites. Reckitt also possesses two reels of microfilm received from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection containing documents relating to the Sites. Reckitt believes these documents are contained on the CD previously provided, but has herewith provided copies of these reels to counsel for Third-Party Plaintiffs and Liaison Counsel.

iv. any communications involving that Third-Party Defendant and any branch, department, agency or instrumentality of municipal, State or federal government relating to any discharges or releases of Hazardous Materials or this litigation.

Response: In addition to the Reservations stated above, and expressly subject to them, Reckitt states that it is unaware of any documents that would show the existence of any discharge or release of Hazardous Materials into the Newark Bay Complex from Reckitt's properties. In an attempt to be responsive, Reckitt has previously provided a CD with non-privileged documents related to environmental compliance, investigation, and remediation of the Sites. Reckitt also possesses two reels of microfilm received from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection containing documents relating to the Sites. Reckitt believes these documents are contained on the CD previously provided, but has provided herewith copies of these reels to counsel for Third-Party Plaintiffs and Liaison Counsel.

2. Any Documents relating to any industrial waste containing Hazardous Materials that was transported to, processed or treated at, or discharged from any of the sites and/or properties with which a Third Party Defendant is associated in the Third Party Complaints.

Response: In addition to the Reservations stated above, and expressly subject to them, Reckitt states that it is unaware of any documents that would show the existence of any discharge or release of Hazardous Materials into the Newark Bay Complex from Reckitt's properties. In an attempt to be responsive, Reckitt has previously provided a CD with non-privileged documents related to environmental compliance, investigation, and remediation of the Sites. Reckitt also possesses two reels of microfilm received from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection containing documents relating to the Sites. Reckitt believes these documents are contained on the CD previously provided, but has provided herewith copies of these reels to counsel for Third-Party Plaintiffs and Liaison Counsel.

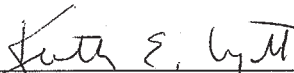

3. Any insurance or indemnity agreement under which another person or entity may be liable to satisfy all or part of a possible judgment in this action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy said judgment.

Response: No such documents have been identified at this time.

Dear Mr. Crout:

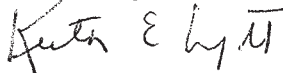

I write on behalf of Third Party Defendant Reckitt Benckiser Inc. ("Reckitt").

I attach a Supplemental Initial Disclosure of Third-Party Defendant Reckitt Benckiser, Inc. In addition, I am providing to you and those copied on this letter an Initial Privilege Log with respect to Reckitt's Initial Disclosures. Finally, I am providing to you and those copied on this letter two reels of microfilm received from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection pertaining to Reckitt's former properties in Carlstadt, New Jersey. As noted in earlier correspondence, I believe copies of the documents contained on these reels are also contained on the CD previously provided, but I provide the reels for purposes of completeness. Reckitt reserves its right to supplement and/or amend its CMO XII document production and Initial Disclosures should additional information become available.

In response to Mr. Gentile's letter of January 10, 2012, Reckitt has not asserted or relied upon objections as to "Excepted Information" in providing documents in connection with its Initial Disclosures.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions or require any additional information.

Sincerely,

Keith E. Lynott
