

The NJ Department of Environmental Protection is holding a stakeholder meeting regarding its “Standards for Individual Subsurface Sewage Disposal Systems” regulation (N.J.A.C. 7:9A). A topic for discussion is the certification and credentialing requirement for installers of certain septic system products. The attached includes excerpts from the regulation identifying those requirements.

As a health officer that permits septic systems, designer or installer of onsite systems, or representative for septic technologies allowed through New Jersey’ regulation, we invite you (or your designated representative) to this meeting:
