On the occasion of the anniversary of the liberation of the Mauthausen concentration camp, the Secretary General of the National Fund and of the General Settlement Fund delivered the commemoration speech on May 7, 2006

She has held many responsibilities in Austria regarding the aftermath of the Holocaust including work with Washington, DC

“One of the initial reasons for me to travel around the world and speak was to convey to Austrian Survivors everywhere, that Austria has taken up its responsibility for the horrors of the Holocaust. As time goes by and the survivors are passing away, my aim is more and more to keep a promise that I gave to the survivors. It is our generations legacy to remember and work in an educative way. Soon memory will be all which will be left. We are responsible to keep this memory alive, by teaching the next generations to come.” – Hannah M. Lessing
