

THE GOODWIN HOLOCAUST MUSEUM & EDUCATION CENTER

Presents

The Catskill Puppets

Production of

The Town That Fought Hate

December 10, 2009 or June 3, 2010

Time: 10:00 am

Admission: $5.00 per person

Location: Weinberg Jewish Community Campus

1301 Springdale Road, Cherry Hill, NJ 08003

The show is age appropriate for grades 3-5 and is based on an incident that made national headlines. The story recounts the remarkable events of the 1993 holiday season in Billings, Montana. A hate group harasses Jewish families and other groups, so residents band together to resist the forces of bigotry that threaten their community. The story is based on Janice Cohn's book "The Christmas Menorahs: How a Town Fought Hate." It is designed to help young children realize that individuals can find things to do to work against hatred and make changes in their community.

The puppet show is 50 minutes long and then we will answer student questions for approximately 30 minutes. Anyone who is interested in making reservations or would like further information can call 856-751-9500 x249 or e-mail: hkirschbaum@jfedsnj.org or register on-line at www.holocausteducationcenter.com

We also have teacher's guides available for anyone bringing students to the show.