Program Description Provided by the School

The Learning Clinic offers academic, residential and clinical programs to children, adolescents and young adults ages 6-23 and their families over the course of a 12-month program. TLC students are actively involved in art, music and drama. TLC recently built a new state of the art building for the Applied Arts. Our new Graphic Art concentration utilizes the latest software applications from Adobe, as well as large format, photographic and MakerBot printers. The program also offers young apprentice experiences in our local community from age 14 and older. Competitive employment and opportunities for part-time employment are goals of students in our Transition Program. TLC has a strong long term working relationship, since 1980, with Quinebaug Valley Community College academic and certificate programs. During their time at TLC, students are able to participate in college courses and earn credits toward a degree. TLC farm program, equestrian program, wooded campus trails and pond provide a natural ecology for experienced-based learning. The Maine Between the Rivers Nature Center provides a wilderness campus for environmental studies and a full range of activities in the Maine woods and waters.

Program Description Provided by the School

The Arch Bridge School provides therapeutic educational programs for students from Wellspring's residential school programs and for local day students. Academic instruction takes place in a small, structured, nurturing setting. Classes average six to eight students and are instructed by teachers who are certified in a specific subject area, in special education, or both. At the high school level, instruction is geared toward college prep with modifications made for students who have specific learning disabilities or who function below grade level. Elementary classes are small heavily staffed, and serve multiple grade levels. Our younger students' ability to function academically is more diverse and can range from remedial to grade level and above. Teachers in both programs are supported by mental health professionals and behavioral specialists. Emphasis is placed on providing a positive learning experience in a safe school environment while resolving major emotional and psychiatric issues which are obstacles to student learning, growing and returning to their home districts. The median length of stay at the Arch Bridge School at Wellspring is one school year.

Program Description Provided by the School
The Boston Higashi School’s mission is to help children and young adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder learn to reach their full potential through the application of the methodology of Daily Life Life Therapy. This unique educational philosophy incorporates a broad and balanced curriculum including academics, art, music, physical education, computer technology and social education. Students take on challenges, learn to overcome obstacles and gain confidence from their own success. This process allows our students to develop a love for learning so they may fully enjoy their family, community, and all life has to offer. As each student grows and learns, their personality and individual character matures allowing them to benefit from and most importantly contribute to society as adults.

Program Description Provided by the School

HMS School offers a special education day and residential program for students, who have severe, multiple disabilities, usually resulting from cerebral palsy, traumatic brain injury, or other neurological impairment. HMS's purpose is to provide highly individualized special education and intensive coordinated therapy in preparation for return to a less intensive local school program or transition for older students to adult services in the community. Our team reinforces students' learning as teachers collaborate with skilled physical, occupational, speech/language, and recreation therapists and nursing staff to achieve IEP goals. With emphasis on assistive technology, HMS School staff are adept at evaluating, recommending and training on a wide range of augmentative communication devices, wheelchair power mobility, therapeutic seating, and providing access to computers and other assistive technology. Music and dance therapy along with an adaptive art program are part of each student's program. Residential students have opportunities to participate in after-school activities that reinforce individual communication, mobility, feeding social and ADL goals. An extended school year program (ESY) is offered.

Program Description Provided by the School
Buxmont Academy and Community Service Foundation has a 38 year history of success helping young people who are struggling with behavioral, emotional and substance abuse issues. Buxmont schools pride themselves on being vibrant, supportive student and staff communities. All Buxmont schools employ the principles of restorative practices, which combine a high level of control with a high level of support. All teachers and counselors are trained in restorative practices. Research has proven that in the restorative environment of a Buxmont school, youth improve remarkably in terms of behavior, social values and self esteem, paving the way for post high school successor positive experiences as they transition back to their former schools. Academically, Buxmont also provides a curriculum instruction based on the national Common Core Standards. Individualized instruction is provided in math, English, science, social studies, digital arts, health, physical education, music and life skills. There are five Buxmont schools located in southeastern PA. Each Buxmont center is a licensed PA private school and provides regular education and special education in grades 6-12.

Program Description Provided by the School

Melmark, Inc. is an approved private day and residential school that is licensed through the Pennsylvania Department of Education - Bureau of Private Academic Schools. The school serves students with a range of intellectual and developmental disabilities, including Autism, acquired brain injuries and other neurological and genetic brain impairments. All of the students served possess moderate to severe deficits in expressive and receptive communication. The majority of students are referred because of a complex profile of severe problem behaviors and complex educational or medical needs. Therefore, about half of Melmark's student population are also served in our Children's Residential program as they require a 24/7 structured learning environment to be successful. All of the remaining students participate as day students and live within a bus ride to school. The school serves a diverse student population. In addition to traditional classroom and community-based instruction, Melmark offers a host of ancillary and related services such as: speech and language therapy, occupational therapy, physical therapy, adapted physical education, music art, and aquatics instruction. Melmark also offers 24-hour medical and dental treatment for our residential students.

Our typical student has not responded well to traditional educational and therapeutic approaches. Highly structured group programming emphasizes mature decision-making, social skills development, personal responsibility, and strong work habits. Back-to-basics outdoor living and adventure trips augment positive peer and adult influences. Students learn education is a privilege to be earned and valued. Academic classrooms offer individualized college prep, regular, remedial and special education courses in a small class setting. Instruction is encouraging yet challenging to stimulate content mastery. High school diplomas and GED preparatory classes are available to qualified students. Vocational exploration opportunities and integrated SAT/ACT prep are offered as needed. To facilitate successful transition home, the school provides consistent case management throughout enrollment. Substance abuse issues are addressed with both on-campus and off-campus 12 step recovery exposure. Clinical family counseling is offered as needed.

Program Description Provided by the School

Our instructional program meets the standards of the Virginia Department of Education and the West Virginia Department of Education. Instruction for out-of-state students is guided by a curriculum that is consistent with their graduation requirements. Typically, there are 10 students or fewer in a classroom. The educational program serves emotionally disturbed students, learning disabled students and general curriculum students. Decisions about the appropriate course of study are made with the family and the student when the Individual Education Plan (IEP) and the Individual Instruction Plan (IIP) are written. Educational staff have, or are pursuing, certificates to teach special education students, and the core high school teachers are certified in their content areas. School is in session for 12 months. From September through June, the students follow a block schedule of 4 class periods per day, which allows high school student to earn up to 8 credits toward their diploma. In the summer months, students enroll in educational classes to make up deficiencies from prior years, or they may also take classes to meet requirements for fine arts credits and other electives.
