

H. Profile of Ocean County College: Degrees and certificate programs

The college has been authorized to offer three degrees: the associate in arts (A.A.), the associate in science (A.S.), and the associate in applied science (A.A.S.). Currently available with the A.A. designation are the general studies, liberal arts programs and Digital Mass Media. Currently available with the A.S. designation are the following programs: aviation, biotechnology, business administration, computer science, criminal justice, engineering, environmental science, general studies, human services technician, and teaching assistant/child care. Currently available with the A.A.S. designation are the following programs: administrative office management, allied health, business, civil/construction technology, computer science/information technology, environmental technology, fire science, horticulture and turfgrass technology, interpreter training, nursing, print and broadcast journalism, technical studies, and visual communications technology. In addition, the college offers thirteen Certificate of Proficiency programs. They are in administrative office management, AutoCAD, construction management technology, criminal justice, exercise science, fire science, information technology, interpreter training, paralegal studies, small business management, surgical technology, teaching assistant/child care, and visual communications. See Section IV: Appendices (E) for a complete listing of all degree programs, options, transfer tracks, and certificate programs.