

J. Major Capital Projects

The college continues to make significant improvements to its 35 year-old West Windsor Campus. As part of a strategic plan, five classrooms each year have been upgraded for optimum high-technology learning and student convenience. In addition, 10-15 faculty offices are renovated yearly. The four major lecture halls have also been upgraded, as has the Physical Education Building. During 2007-08, two additional science laboratories underwent major renovation as phase 2 of a multi-year process to upgrade science facilities.

Renovation of the library and student center at the West Windsor Campus commenced in Spring 2008 and the anticipated completion date is January 2009. The One Stop Student Center and Library renovations will provide students the ability to meet admission requirements, register for classes, get approvals for financial aid, pay bills, meet with an academic advisor and eat meals all in one convenient one-stop facility. The newly constructed 2nd floor of the library will house the book store, the Holocaust Center, the Academic Testing Center and Academic Support Services. These enhancements will allow for five additional classrooms to be added in the Liberal Arts building.

A facilities master planning process is well underway. This will help the college project and prioritize its capital needs for the next ten years.
