I. Introduction

The New Jersey Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS) continues to develop its system for providing emergency behavioral health response services following disasters. The need for emergency response services was highlighted in the recommendations set forth in the Governor's Task Force on Mental Health final report issued March 2005. The recommendations of the Task Force secured funding to maintain staffing for the emergency response programs developed within the DMHAS following the events of September 11, 2001.

This current Request for Proposal (RFP) focuses on pre-certification of currently contracted Behavioral Health Providers to support and staff behavioral health services in the aftermath of Presidentially-declared disasters. A Presidentially-declared disaster provides the opportunity for a program funded under the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) known as Individual Assistance (IA). Under this program, the State Mental Health Authority - DMHAS - develops a grant application for an Immediate Services Program (ISP) to provide crisis counseling for the first 60 days following a disaster and for a Regular Services Program (RSP), if needed, for an additional nine months. The crisis counseling program is administered by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in coordination with the State Mental Health Authority.

The requirements of participation by states in the FEMA-funded Crisis Counseling Program (CCP) includes an immediate response in the aftermath of the disaster pending approval of grant funds. There are typically long learning curves for Providers who do not have previous experience with these programs. The State's readiness for a disaster would be highly enhanced with a pool of pre-qualified Providers willing to accept the FEMA rate of reimbursement and who are knowledgeable about the FEMA/SAMHSA grant application and crisis counseling program requirements in advance of a disaster event. This pre-qualified cadre of providers would be pre-trained as a condition of participation in the response process, and would therefore be ready to provide an immediate, effective and efficient response. This would also minimize the need to provide the education and orientation necessary for the response process while simultaneously trying to manage the response. The pre-qualification process for Providers is a complement to the existing process for certifying crisis counselors.

II. Background

Although the New Jersey Department of Human Services, Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services, (DMHAS) has a long history of responding to disasters and other traumatic events, this is the first time an RFP has been issued to seek to pre-certify Providers to support emergency response. DMHAS began developing a more formal behavioral health response to declared disasters in 1989 in coordination with the New Jersey Office of Emergency Management and other response partners including the American Red Cross, Salvation Army, and Volunteer Organizations Active in Disasters (VOADs). The first Mental Health Emergency Response Plan was developed as the Social Services Annex for the Department of Human Services Emergency Response Plan.

A curriculum committee was formed to develop a training program to begin preparing the mental health workforce to respond to disasters and overwhelming community incidents. At the onset of the events of September 11th, 300 people had been trained borrowing from best practice training models developed by the SAMHSA and endorsed by FEMA.

New Jersey's behavioral health emergency response program continued to grow following the events of September 11th which underscored and validated the need to have a trained workforce to respond to the behavioral health needs of persons affected by disasters. Through federal funds that became available for expansion of preparedness programs and subsequent funding recommended by the Governor's Task force, New Jersey has developed a robust nationally recognized behavioral health emergency response program. The Disaster and Terrorism Branch (DTB) housed within the DMHAS was created with support from an appropriation recommended by the Governor's Task Force. Subsequently, a program for certifying behavioral health responders was created in 2004. Additional information about the certification program is housed at <http://www.state.nj.us/humanservices/dmhs/disaster/> under the credentialing tab.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) was created by Executive Order 12148; the Director of FEMA has primary responsibility for administering the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (Public Laws 93-288 and 100-707). Section 416 of the Stafford Act authorizes crisis counseling assistance and training in the form of grants to qualifying states. The Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services is designated as the State Mental Health Authority responsible for administering the crisis counseling assistance and training program in coordination with FEMA and SAMHSA.

The Governor of the State of New Jersey has overall responsibility for Emergency Management Activities; per Chapter 438, Public Law 1953. Pursuant to the Civil Defense and Disaster Control Act (N.J.S.A.: 9-34, Emergency Powers of the Governor), the Governor is authorized to utilize and employ all the available resources of the State Government and of each and every political subdivision of the State, whether of men, properties or instrumentalities, and to commandeer and utilize any personal services and any privately owned property necessary to avoid or protect against any emergency, subject to the future payment of the reasonable value of such services. During times of disaster, DMHAS through its Disaster and Terrorism Branch, partners with the New Jersey Office of Emergency Management to bring behavioral health resources to populations affected by disaster.

III. Target Population & Statement of Need

DHS/DMHAS/DTB has a long standing successful history of partnering with community mental health and behavioral health Providers to support New Jersey citizens in the aftermath of disasters. As in the past, the target population will prioritize New Jersey citizens affected by disasters. Behavioral health emergency response services have been provided during numerous declared disasters and community crises including: Nor'easters; the first attack and bombing of the World Trade Center; the Edison Pipeline Explosion; Hurricane Floyd; the attacks of September 11, 2001; a anthrax scare; an airplane crash in Lakehurst; Kosovo refugees; Katrina evacuees; Haiti refugees; numerous floods; Hurricane Irene; Superstorm Sandy; school and work-related incidents and many others.

Following a Presidential disaster declaration, FEMA funding becomes available specific to the geographic areas in the declaration for an Immediate and subsequently, Regular Services Crisis Counseling Program. The target population includes those who are at risk of developing more serious emotional problems as a result of disasters including individuals who lost loved ones; are homeless as their homes were damaged or destroyed; lost income or livelihoods; were displaced; are disenfranchised; and/or are of low economic status; as well as children, minorities, persons with a mental health illness and/or substance disorder; first responders; veterans and other populations deemed to be at risk as a result of the disaster. The goal of the program is to return persons to the extent possible, to their previous levels of functioning. The CCP programs are based on the belief that people are resilient and that by providing support through each phase of response and recovery, more serious emotional issues may be mitigated. Programs must also be culturally sensitive, as well as targeted to populations who may be vulnerable or at risk for further emotional stress. According to SAMHSA, research has shown that the majority of people affected by disaster do not go on to develop Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

IV. Scope of Work/Service Model

Participating Providers agree to:

- Operate within a defined incident management system which includes State oversight for the behavioral health emergency response process, in partnership with other emergency responders led by the New Jersey Office of Emergency Management;
- Attend DMHAS sponsored orientation training focused on the Federal Emergency Management Agency grants application process for the provision of a crisis counseling program;
- Provide trained staff to respond in the immediate aftermath of a declared disaster in coordination with the County Mental Health Administrator and the Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS);
- Have the ability to ramp up quickly;
- Ensure staff designated to respond to attend DMHAS specified CCP model training in preparation for disaster response;
- Provide services as part of the NJ Hope and Healing team of providers with unified branding material and media;
- Accept Federal reimbursement rates typically ranging from $25 an hour for crisis counselors and $30 an hour for Team Leaders. On rare occasions, hourly rates can be negotiated for disasters that are large in scope but there is no guarantee the higher rates will be approved;
- Meet Federal mandates including program, fiscal reporting and monitoring requirements and participation in site visits. These are detailed in the Crisis Counseling toolkit located on the SAMHSA website: <http://www.samhsa.gov/dtac/ccptoolkit/training.htm>;
- Hire new staff in the event of an extended grant program;
- Ensure existing services are not supplanted; and
- Submit a budget within one week during the grant application submission phase using a FEMA-designated format (see attached).

V. Funding Availability

No funding is available for this solicitation. Funding is subject to declaration of disaster and subsequent grant award to New Jersey of FEMA funds.

VI. Outcome Requirements

Applicants must demonstrate that they understand this is not the typical behavioral health program and that the majority of persons served do not have serious mental illness. The program is primarily one of outreach provided in the communities where survivors of disaster live, work and congregate. Hours of operation must be flexible and accommodate after business hours and weekend service needs. The program is administered and monitored by the State Mental Health Authority, but works in collaboration with a wide network of responders. It will be necessary to ensure coordination through the DMHAS with federal, state and non-governmental response organizations such as SAMHSA, FEMA, NJOEM, New Jersey Homeland Security, County Mental Health Administrators, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Volunteer Organizations Active in Disasters, Long Term Care Groups, etc.

Services must be provided within geographic areas included in Presidential declarations following the Crisis Counseling Program (model). Programs may range from 60 days to an additional 9 months depending on funding. Additional information regarding the federal training, program delivery and reporting requirements may be accessed at <http://www.samhsa.gov/dtac/ccptoolkit/training.htm>.

VII. Staffing (Administration)

For the purposes of this RFP, it is preferable to employ staff who match the demographics of and are indigenous to the geographic area to be served. In addition, they must be willing to adhere to the FEMA and SAMHSA-endorsed CCP model of program delivery. Staff may be either professional or paraprofessional depending on need. It is important to design a program and hire staff to support it who can meet the specific needs of the population affected by the disaster whenever possible. Team Leaders and supervisors typically have advanced clinical degrees. People may be hired as crisis counselors and outreach workers from a broad range of backgrounds and do not need to have clinical backgrounds, but must be trained in the CCP model. It is helpful to hire people with strong interpersonal skills who are willing to work in community based settings outside of the office environments. All staff must be trained in the CCP model as described in the SAMHSA toolkit (link above). Reporting and monitoring requirements are also described in the toolkit and may include regular team meetings, individual and group supervision, ensuring fidelity to the CCP model, ensuring the affected populations are served within the designated geographic areas in the community and regular reporting to the State. The toolkit also provides reporting formats for the program, staffing guidelines, and fiscal and evaluation reporting requirements. Data must be collected using forms provided by SAMHSA and reported electronically through their system.

VIII. Evaluation (Deliverables)

The FEMA grant application provides a formula to guide how to estimate how many people will be served and the types of services to be provided. This is based on the geographic areas, number of persons per household and the impact the disaster had on the population, e.g., if they lost a loved one, lost a home, were hospitalized, etc. In addition, as counselors and outreach workers provide services in the community, they collect data regarding services provided and populations served. The data are used to assess if the program is meeting its intended targets, if there are service gaps or if program changes need to be made. This information is also used to evaluate the program at the end of each quarter and at the end of the program. Program participants are mandated to use the federal evaluation tools and methods of collecting the data in order to receive CCP grant funding.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES*ADDENDUM TO REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL FOR SOCIAL SERVICE AND TRAINING CONTRACTS

Executive Order No. 189 establishes the expected standard of responsibility for all parties that enter into a contract with the State of New Jersey. All such parties must meet a standard of responsibility that assures the State and its citizens that such parties will compete and perform honestly in their dealings with the State and avoid conflicts of interest.

As used in this document, "provider agency" or "provider" means any person, firm, corporation, or other entity or representative or employee thereof that offers or proposes to provide goods or services to or performs any contract for the Department of Human Services.

In compliance with Paragraph 3 of Executive Order No. 189, no provider agency shall pay, offer to pay, or agree to pay, either directly or indirectly, any fee, commission, compensation, gift, gratuity, or other thing of value of any kind to any State officer or employee or special State officer or employee, as defined by N.J.S.A. 52:13D-13b and e, in the Department of the Treasury or any other agency with which such provider agency transacts or offers or proposes to transact business, or to any member of the immediate family, as defined by N.J.S.A. 52:13D-13i, of any such officer or employee, or any partnership, firm, or corporation with which they are employed or associated, or in which such officer or employee has an interest within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 52:13D-13g.

The solicitation of any fee, commission, compensation, gift, gratuity or other thing of value by any State officer or employee or special State officer or employee from any provider agency shall be reported in writing forthwith by the provider agency to the Attorney General and the Executive Commission on Ethical Standards.

No provider agency may, directly or indirectly, undertake any private business, commercial or entrepreneurial relationship with, whether or not pursuant to employment, contract or other agreement, express or implied, or sell any interest in such provider agency to, any State officer or employee or special State officer or employee having any duties or responsibilities in connection with the purchase, acquisition or sale of any property or services by or to any State agency or any instrumentality thereof, or with any person, firm or entity with which he is employed or associated or in which he has an interest within the meaning of N.J.S.A. 52:13D-13g. Any relationships subject to this provision shall be reported in writing forthwith to the Executive Commission on Ethical Standards, which may grant a waiver of this restriction upon application of the State officer or employee or special State officer or employee upon a finding that the present or proposed relationship does not present the potential, actuality or appearance of a conflict of interest.

No provider agency shall influence, or attempt to influence or cause to be influenced, any State officer or employee or special State officer or employee in his official capacity in any manner which might tend to impair the objectivity or independence of judgment of said officer or employee.

No provider agency shall cause or influence, or attempt to cause or influence, any State officer or employee or special State officer or employee to use, or attempt to use, his official position to secure unwarranted privileges or advantages for the provider agency or any other person.

The provisions cited above shall not be construed to prohibit a State officer or employee or special State officer or employee from receiving gifts from or contracting with provider agencies under the same terms and conditions as are offered or made available to members of the general public subject to any guidelines the Executive Commission on Ethical Standards may promulgate.
