NAHEFFA Reelects NJEFA Executive Director Jeremy Spector to its Board of Directors

During its Annual Corporation meeting held in early April, members of the National Association of Health and Educational Facilities Finance Authorities (NAHEFFA) reelected Jeremy A. Spector, Executive Director of the New Jersey Educational Facilities Authority (NJFEFA), to its Board of Directors for a two-year term. Mr. Spector was also appointed to serve for the coming year as a member of the Association's Advocacy and Conference Committees.

As head of NJEFA, one of NAHEFFA's member organizations, and a 28-year veteran tax attorney in public finance, Mr. Spector will continue to assist NAHEFFA in its efforts to share its expertise and educate policy makers about issues affecting access to tax-exempt financing in the municipal markets for healthcare and higher education institutions.

NAHEFFA is a national organization that promotes the common interests of entities which have the authority to provide capital financing for not-for-profit healthcare and higher education institutions. The Association facilitates national advocacy, support, networking and education on behalf of its 41 member organizations from 34 states.
