with a New Jersey

Power Training Grant

Is energy your business — or a part of your business?

You may benefit from a new grant opportunity to train workers in jobs that support energy efficiency and renewable energy efforts.

Jobs in many fields are contributing to “greening” the economy. These jobs and related projects can qualify for Power Training — and now more businesses and organizations can benefit from this new opportunity.

If you are involved in the energy efficiency or renewable energy industries as an

- employer
- industry association
- labor or trade association or if you are in manufacturing or another industry and want to

- reduce energy usage
- use your space or facilities more efficiently
- use recycled waste
- implement other green practices and technologies

you may be eligible for a New Jersey Power Training Grant.
