During the reporting period of July 1, 2009 through December 31, 2013, the Casino Association of New Jersey ("CANJ") engaged several consultants who were involved in lobbying efforts on its behalf. Some of those lobbying efforts were related to the authorization of Internet gaming and many were related to other interests of the CANJ. However, the fees paid for those engagements were not allocated with sufficient specificity so as to accurately identify in all cases the costs related only to Internet gaming efforts. Accordingly, the CANJ has herein reported all of its lobbying expenses for the reporting period which amounts will therefore indicate costs related to Internet gaming as well as other matters.
