In addition, each State Officer has been assigned to introduce a fellow teammate and prepare chapter banquet greetings.

F. Agriculture/ Agricultural Education Issues Discussion

Peter discussed Gestation crates are narrow individual stalls used to house pregnant sows for much of their pregnancy, often preventing them from turning around or fully extending their limbs. These crates have been criticized for restricting natural behaviors and raising animal welfare concerns in the swine industry. While there is no federal ban in the United States, several states including California, Ohio, Florida, Pennsylvania, and many others have passed laws phasing out or banning their use, often also restricting the sale of pork from crate-housed pigs. Many of the bans of gestation crates are set to take full effect in 2026. In addition, major pork companies have committed to sourcing pork from farms that do not use long-term gestation crates, which reflects the growing legal, corporate, and consumer pressure to shift toward group housing or other less restrictive systems.

Purpose of Meeting

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the change of mostly all applications being moved into the AET, and to propose the new version of the Advisor of the Year Application and get rid of the old application.

Recommended Actions

1. Vote on and implement the new version of the Advisor of the Year Application.
2. Implement "send to administrator" section on application so the administrators can be emailed the application and go on and fill out the administrator statement. Such as how AET has section for parents and administrators to be emailed and then they can provide their signature.

Comments

1. The new version of the Advisor of the Year application is more kid friendly, as it is more direct and the questions relate to what the students know and can answer.
2. Adding area for Administrators to be emailed the administrator statement and fill it out makes it easier than a student trying to email over and get a response. Usually takes a long time, and many students have a hard time getting a statement.

Purpose of Meeting

Determine how to make evaluation forms more accessible to members throughout convention

How to advertise State Convention on social media

Evaluate the State Convention social

Recommended Actions

Accessibility of evaluation form:

- Putting form out throughout the week

i.e. Divide large form into 3 smaller forms (one per day). At the end of the last session each day, have members fill out the forms to evaluate the sessions of the day (dance/social evaluations would be on next day's form). Specific events such as CDEs, LDEs, Courtesy Corps, Delegates, etc. would have their own short evaluation forms to complete at the conclusion of their events.

- Big posters with QR codes to scan on way out of convention

Advertising State Convention on social media:

- Promote lesser-known events

ex. A social media post such as "Did You Know About These Events?" including events such as the art and essay competitions, T-shirt design, talent show, landscape design, scrapbooks, Blue Jackets Bright Futures

- Post images of winners from previous years

- Post about convention CDEs and LDEs BEFORE registration for preliminary events (in March) is due

Evaluating the social:

- Including an activity to promote socializing between members

ex. Get to know you bingo cards, board games, etc. If outside -- possibly a field day type of structure with competitive events?

- Instead of popcorn, considering hot pretzels
