Dear Friend of Agriculture:

Planning for the 2023 Annual State Agricultural Convention and the New Jersey Agricultural Convention and Trade Show is well underway. This partnership offers more opportunities for delegates and guests to learn about issues and the latest technologies, agricultural practices and opportunities throughout the industry.

If you are attending the 2023 State Agricultural Convention, please feel free to come on Tuesday and attend both the trade show and the educational sessions. If you are attending the New Jersey Agricultural Convention & Trade Show, please feel free to attend the State Convention sessions as well.

The trade show and VGA educational sessions will open on Tuesday, February 7, at the Harrah's Resort & Waterfront Conference Center in Atlantic City, New Jersey. The show will feature exhibits and displays from many of the industry's suppliers and business associates. In addition, a wide variety of educational sessions on topics ranging from growing crops to food safety, the latest ideas in agricultural practices and much more will be offered. Please make it a point to visit each of the trade show exhibitors.

The 2023 State Agricultural Convention will open with its regular business session on Wednesday, February 8 and continue on Thursday, February 9, 2023. The meeting will focus on developing and setting a policy agenda for the industry over the coming year through the resolutions process. The informational sessions, as well as presentations, are also an important part of the convention. In addition, we will hold a joint session with the Vegetable Growers Association.

On Wednesday evening, February 8, there will be a dinner for both groups. The dinner will follow immediately after the cocktail reception in the Avalon Ballroom Prefunction Area at 6:00 pm. The dinner's Keynote Speaker will be Captain Charlie Plumb, former Navy Fighter Pilot and six-year Prisoner of War.
