Subject: [EXTERNAL] NJSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations Cultivation Submission

Hello Jeff,

I'm sure you are absolutely inundated with applications from the newest RFA, however I just wanted to touch base with you to ensure that NJSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations followed protocol for our team's cultivation endorsement submission.

We submitted in person today with a hard copy of our application. Based on our experience during last year's submissions when the site crashed, this year we decided to provide a USB drive in the event there was another website issue. After confirming the USB would not disqualify us, we left it with the officials and confirmed that we would upload to the site as encouraged.

However, when trying to perform the upload as of 6:00 PM today, the website crashed and I was unable to complete the submission on the website. I have included a screenshot of the error page I am seeing after attaching all parts, but before I was able to press the blue submit button.

I will try to upload once more later this evening, but in the event it does not work, at least you and your staff have digital copies on the USB along with the paper hard copy.

Sincerely,

Vincent Ross

Not sure what happened there, but I can see a submission from NJSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations around that time frame for cultivation in that survey area, so it look like it went through and is in our system.

Also, it looks like you accepted the USB submission and a paper copy, so we can always upload those docs to SharePoint when the review process is ready to begin.

When I did some layman's research on this yesterday, I came across these threads. They all point to outlook, or more specifically some outlook add-ons, adding the encryption that corrupts the files.

Does this seem to be a likely culprit as to what happened?

So nothing really changed from version you used last year to this year, right? This really makes no sense, especially why it's fine for others, but an issue for these submission. It's one thing if it is widespread and all the submission, but to be random like this doesn't add up.

I'm wondering if it had something to do with they way they signed them.

Good morning,

So I figured this would eventually be requested by Adobe. They are asking for one of the files that have the issue. Is it ok to share NJSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations-Part A.pdf with them so that they can help us? I think it's the only way that we are going to get this resolved.

If not, my other thought is to give them a blank Part A and some of the affected attachments from the app that are otherwise public/OPRA'able documents. But let's see what they say.

Hey Jeff,

Do you think I could provide Adobe with the attached file from [REDACTED] NJSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations? The file name states it's the exterior, so I don't think there is any information that is sensitive. I think it would be best to provide them with this that way they can state that the file cannot be opened and that can be used to determine the files were corrupted prior to them providing the document to DOH.

So the RFA submitter include the following attachment inside of their PDF Part A. I was able to get the zip file out, that was a PITA and had to hack the registry to allow it. Now I can't view the file, there are about 10 of these or so.

Sue,

Just to confirm, you are referring to the attachments in NJSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations Part A Endorsed Final.pdf?

If so, there are files that have the same issue as in other submissions, the document was corrupted before it was attached and it cannot be opened. They are corrupted files and are not zip files or zip files that were just changed to end in ".PDF".

If you open the files in Notepad to see the raw content of the corrupted files, none of them start with "%PDF-1", this is the standard first line for all PDF files. Whatever tool they used before adding them to our part A document corrupted them before they were attached. I also observed that the corrupted files all have an very similar text value in Notepad. They all look like this "u@!!/MSk7$74]lcdN=10d&.mDdmGg4?P8rH#R=;02Q(iAI:(e@<,psF<E=]0Ha7#026"gBjj>HGT^350H`%l2DHs>0JG1'2`WWG0JG1'"

We opened a high priority ticket with Adobe and had Adobe investigate and they came to the conclusion that the file was not recoverable for a similar submission. I also tried everything I could to open the files, but I was unable to open any of the files for that RFA.

I attempted to open the files in their part A and here are my results for this submission below.

I have hope for this one, it's just a zipped file and I need to override the Adobe settings to open it. I'm searching the Web and I'm trying my best, I can also open another ticket with Adobe if I can't figure this out in the next few hours.

Sue,

Just to confirm, you are referring to the attachments in NUSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations Part A Endorsed Final.pdf?

If so, there are files that have the same issue as in other submissions, the document was corrupted before it was attached and it cannot be opened. They are corrupted files and are not zip files or zip files that were just changed to end in ".PDF".

If you open the files in Notepad to see the raw content of the corrupted files, none of them start with "%PDF-1", this is the standard first line for all PDF files. Whatever tool they used before adding them to our part A document corrupted them before they were attached. I also observed that the corrupted files all have an very similar text value in Notepad. They all look like this "u@!!/MSk7$74]cdN=10d&.mDdmGg4?P8rH#R=;02Q(iAI:(e@<,psF<E=]0Ha7#026"gBjj>HGT^350H`%l2DHs>0JG1'2`WWG0JG1'"

We opened a high priority ticket with Adobe and had Adobe investigate and they came to the conclusion that the file was not recoverable for a similar submission. I also tried everything I could to open the files, but I was unable to open any of the files for that RFA.

I attempted to open the files in their part A and here are my results for this submission below.

Ok, I've been trying, but no luck. I also copied all the ZIP attachments to SharePoint so that you can get them. Advisory consultative and deliberative (N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1)).

So the first 6 are corrupted and can't be opened. The remaining 17 are fine. They even attached the files two different ways. I had Ananth try to open the first files and they are just invalid.

Ok, I've been trying, but no luck. I also copied all the ZIP attachments to SharePoint so that you can get them. Advisory consultative and deliberative (N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1).

So the first 6 are corrupted and can't be opened. The remaining 17 are fine. They even attached the files two different ways. I had Ananth try to open the first files and they are just invalid.

Sue,

Just to confirm, you are referring to the attachments in NUSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations Part A Endorsed Final.pdf?

If so, there are files that have the same issue as in other submissions, the document was corrupted before it was attached and it cannot be opened. They are corrupted files and are not zip files or zip files that were just changed to end in ".PDF".

If you open the files in Notepad to see the raw content of the corrupted files, none of them start with "%PDF-1", this is the standard first line for all PDF files. Whatever tool they used before adding them to our part A document corrupted them before they were attached. I also observed that the corrupted files all have an very similar text value in Notepad. They all look like this "u@!!/MSk7$74]lcdN=10d&.mDdmGg4?P8rH#R=;02Q(iAI:(e@<,psF<E=]0Ha7#026"gBjj>HGT^350H`%l2DHs>0JG1'2`WWG0JG1'"

We opened a high priority ticket with Adobe and had Adobe investigate and they came to the conclusion that the file was not recoverable for a similar submission. I also tried everything I could to open the files, but I was unable to open any of the files for that RFA.

I attempted to open the files in their part A and here are my results for this submission below.

Ok, I don't know what they did to cause it. It's a shame, a lot of work went into that.

Did they submit paper copies too?

You can certainly call if you wish but I think I'm good. If the first six won't open then they count as not being submitted.

Ok, I've been trying, but no luck. I also copied all the ZIP attachments to SharePoint so that you can get them.
Advisory consultative and deliberative (N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1.1)).

So the first 6 are corrupted and can't be opened. The remaining 17 are fine. They even attached the files two different ways. I had Ananth try to open the first files and they are just invalid.

Ok, some good and bad news. I was able to hack my registry to allow ZIP files to be opened or saved in Adobe.

But then I'm getting this for all the attachments. Let me see what else I can find out.

Thanks John. I was trying to figure out how to save without the .pdf.zip extension, which I think may be where the problem lies. Appreciate your help.

I have hope for this one, it's just a zipped file and I need to override the Adobe settings to open it. I'm searching the Web and I'm trying my best, I can also open another ticket with Adobe if I can't figure this out in the next few hours.

Sue,

Just to confirm, you are referring to the attachments in NUSA 47:1A-3.a Ongoing Investigations Part A Endorsed Final.pdf?

If so, there are files that have the same issue as in other submissions, the document was corrupted before it was attached and it cannot be opened. They are corrupted files and are not zip files or zip files that were just changed to end in ".PDF".

If you open the files in Notepad to see the raw content of the corrupted files, none of them start with "%PDF-1", this is the standard first line for all PDF files. Whatever tool they used before adding them to our part A document corrupted them before they were attached. I also observed that the corrupted files all have an very similar text value in Notepad. They all look like this "u@!!/MSk7$74]lcdN=10d&.mDdmGg4?P8rH#R=;02Q(iAI:(e@<,psF<E=]0Ha7#026" gBjj>HGT^350H`%l2DHs>0JG1'2`WWG0JG1'"

We opened a high priority ticket with Adobe and had Adobe investigate and they came to the conclusion that the file was not recoverable for a similar submission. I also tried everything I could to open the files, but I was unable to open any of the files for that RFA.

I attempted to open the files in their part A and here are my results for this submission below.

Would you have a look at the file named above and see if you can figure out any way to open the .zip files? I have tried everything I can think of and want to exhaust all possibilities before we disqualify them for not having the documents. Thank you.
