SPOTLIGHT ON ATLANTIC CITY

"Bringing the biggest back to life."

HISTORIC ORGAN
Restoration Committee, Inc.

The Historic Organ Restoration Committee, Inc. (HORC) has been restoring, promoting, and preserving the two pipe organs of Jim Whelan Boardwalk Hall for over 22 years. Constructed during the height of the Great Depression, the main organ in East Hall is the largest pipe organ in the world. It has been made playable again with the help of volunteers and is now welcoming thousands of guests per year for exhibitions and tours. HORC's commitment has enhanced the culture and liveliness of Atlantic City for both residents and visitors.

- The Midmer-Losh organ is the largest and loudest musical instrument on Earth.
- The Midmer-Losh organ has an official total of 33,112 pipes.
- 95% of the 4/55 Ballroom Kimball restoration is complete, while the 7/449 Midmer-Losh is 40% restored with 65% of the instrument operational.
- Anticipated completion: 2034
