INNOVATIVE REENTRY SUPPLEMENTAL REENTRY PREPARATION SERVICES VOCATIONAL TRAINING AND CERTIFICATION

Take Notice that in compliance with N.J.S.A. 52:14-34.4 et seq. (P.L. 1987, c.7), the Department of Corrections hereby publishes a notice of the availability of the following grant:

A. Information for Bidders (Background)

According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, in 2021, the US criminal justice system held almost 1.2 million people in state prisons.¹ A recent analysis of the New Jersey Department of Corrections (NJDOC) inmate census revealed that NJDOC currently houses approximately 12,000 inmates.² About 59% of all state correctional institution offenders were Black.³ Further analysis revealed that six counties alone — Essex, Camden, Passaic, Atlantic, Middlesex, Union, and Hudson — comprise more than half (62%) of the total NJDOC commitments.⁴ However, many citizens fail to realize that incarceration is not a permanent circumstance for most incarcerated individuals. According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, at least 95% of all state prisoners will be released at some point, with approximately 80% being released to parole supervision.⁵

Preparing for reintegration before release from prison is vital to success. Opportunities to participate in pre-release discharge planning, evidence-based trauma therapy, psycho-educational therapeutic groups, vocational training and certification, and work readiness programs have been established to support the successful reintegration of returning citizens into society. To achieve success, the NJDOC seeks to develop community partnerships that can provide a broad spectrum of innovative strategies to support the State of New Jersey in continuing the successful trend of recidivism reduction, enhancing community safety, and strengthening family reunification. Innovative proposals may include restorative justice practices, evidence-based psycho-educational, rehabilitative, and vocational training programs, as well as work readiness initiatives, to empower returning citizens to continue the path of prosocial and law-abiding behavior. The NJDOC seeks new approaches that consider the unintended consequences of incarceration by addressing correctional service gaps and building capacity with community-based entities. This initiative furthers the NJDOC mission to advance public safety and promote successful reintegration by providing a dignified, safe, secure, rehabilitative, and gender-informed environment, supported by a professional, trained, and diverse workforce, enhanced by community engagement.

The NJDOC does not embrace a one-size-fits-all solution to reentry service provision. To that end, the NJDOC recognizes that reintegration is most successful when communities and corrections come together to share a collective goal, honor the mutual interest of methodologies for addressing public safety, affirm the bond between them, and acknowledge and support urban communities' ability to succeed when given fair access to resources. The goal is a cooperative partnership for successful reentry service delivery. Our mission is to deliver services at the local level, empowered by communities that develop the necessary resources, a willingness to hold community-based agencies accountable for advertised services, and forward-thinking strategies for determining service integration models.

To achieve this goal, the NJDOC created the NJLEAD initiative. NJLEAD stands for Locally Empowered, Accountable, and Determined. NJLEAD aims to establish a collaborative effort to ensure a continuum of care and treatment from prison to the community. An effective reintegration process is collaborative and most successful when returning citizens understand their right to self-determination and are empowered to choose service providers who offer resources that meet their unique needs. As a result, urban communities with a consortium consisting of a broad spectrum of diverse service providers who have experience working with those once involved in the carceral system provide an opportunity for successful reentry.

Designated municipal government entities, for profit or nonprofit community-based corporations, or associations will work in concert with the NJDOC, Division of Programs and Reintegration Services, the newly developed Office of Community Engagement and Reentry Initiatives (CERI), the Office of Educational Services (OES), the Office of Programming and Supportive Services (OPSS). The goal is to ensure that the rehabilitative group therapeutic work, academic, and vocational training implemented inside the correctional facility continue and are expanded to reduce the likelihood of high recidivism rates presently seen among the national statistics.

The NJDOC has received state funding through the Office of the Governor to support supplemental prerelease reentry preparation services and vocational training for those leaving the carceral system in New Jersey. This funding is designed to promote various evidence-informed and effective reentry initiatives for individuals returning home from prison and to provide urban communities with the necessary resources to support and enhance the State of New Jersey's ongoing success in reducing recidivism.

The proposed grant-funded services are being solicited due to the growing demand exceeding NJDOC staffing capabilities. Applicants may select to provide services at one or more of the targeted state correctional facilities:

- Northern State Prison; Newark, NJ (Essex County)

Innovative approaches may be considered for prerelease services within the correctional facility, including but not limited to: cultural and evidence-based trauma therapy groups, strengthening fatherhood initiatives, rites of passage programs, psycho-educational, rehabilitative, and discharge planning services, ACE assessments, Resiliency Training, work readiness programs, cognitive behavioral therapy, dialectical behavior, family reunification initiatives, vocational training and certifications, certified medical coding and billing courses, medical transcription, phlebotomy certification, paralegal certification, facilitators of the Thinking for a Change curriculum, Anger Management, and discharge planning. Other innovative strategies that support the mission of the NJDOC will be considered. Applicants proposing to expand existing pre-release NJDOC services will be required to undergo training with NJDOC staff and utilize existing curricula from the NJDOC. Applicants proposing a new service to the NJDOC may use an alternative evidence-based curriculum, pending approval from the NJDOC.

Grantees will partner with the NJDOC to provide all services within correctional facilities, 1 to 3 days per week, twice a day, for 90 minutes to 2 hours per session. Proposals must meet the required standards to receive funding from the NJDOC.

The NJLEAD-funded project staff must also document all contacts with, and services provided to, participants and their immediate families and submit these documents in the required monthly reporting format by the specified due dates.

Proposals are limited exclusively to supplemental reentry preparation services or training not supported in the FY25 NJLEAD grant solicitation for Category B or Category C. Proposals shall not be directed towards:

Fringe benefits are for the personnel listed in the personnel section of the budget and for full-time personnel working solely on NJLEAD-ONLY, and 100% of their time must be devoted to the NJLEAD project.
 - Fringe benefits may include FICA, Social Security, and standard State payroll tax deductions (State withholding, Disability, Unemployment, and Workforce Dev.), and additional deductions per your initial approved Budget submission, such as your Health Benefits Package. Please note that 401K, Supplemental Life Insurance, Vacation Pay, Christmas/Vacation Club, Overtime, Comp. time, etc., are not permissible.

To receive consideration, proposals must clearly and concisely describe how the applicant will fill a current gap in services and support a seamless transition and reintegration from prison to the community, strengthening and improving each participant's ability for independence and successful return to the community, as well as the agency's capacity and competencies for implementing the proposed initiative. All service providers must utilize trauma-informed, holistic, and culturally sensitive approaches to reentry services. The special services representative must have direct access to the agency CEO/Director and attend NJDOC monthly meetings at the NJDOC correctional facilities and central office headquarters.
