Executive Director’s Report

The Executive Director shared that she hired two new staff members, Mr. Joe Fusco, as the Financial Administrative Analyst, and Ms. Rita Webber, as Business Certification Representative. In addition, Mr. James Simmons was promoted to Assistant Director of Program Operations, and Ms. Joyce Zayas is now Project Leader.

The Director also shared that because of the COVID 19 pandemic, local UEZs have not been able to request permission from the UEZA to begin the RFP process and hire a consultant to assist in creating the five-year plan mandated by the new law. In response to this need, the law allows financial resources to be distributed due to health-related emergencies. Hence, the staff put the eight items on the agenda for the UEZA vote instead of the five-year plan.

It was shared that five-year plans are expected to begin in FY 2023 and can take between four to eight months to complete.

During the meeting, Jersey City’s coordinator Florence Baron was present to address questions.

The UEZ staff made this request with conditional approval. The staff recommended that the proposal include the following conditions of license. “The Jersey City Economic Development define in writing the meaning of an emergency and the process for how long it would take if an emergency arose to reassign police officers back to their assignments.”

Coordinator Baron responded: "Based on experience, an emergency would be an active shooter, and if they have situations like that where they would have to call in more precincts, more departments to handle the crisis would be available."

Board member Aaron Binder asked, "Is there more detail on the number of hours and just what does this pay for because it's a little under $1,000,000 for a hundred officers?"

Coordinator Baron responded: "The actual hourly rate is not available but based on the average cost per officer per shift, it will be $500, and average shifts are 8 hours. That averages out to $62.50 an hour for the off-duty officers, and it'll be approximately 1940 shifts a year."
Board member Anderson voiced her concern about using UEZ resources to support police programs. Executive Director Fredericks responded that the law allows such expenditures.

Executive Director Fredericks requested that if Coordinator Barron were willing to submit this information in writing, she would be comfortable providing a recommendation to the UEZA to approve this request. Coordinator Barron agreed to do so.
