MEMORANDUM

To: Whom It May Concern

From: Fayez Fanik, PE
Supervisor of Enforcement

Date: February 7, 2008

Subject: Exemption of Certain Condominiums, Cooperatives, and Mutual Housing Corporations from Bureau of Housing Inspection Jurisdiction

In order for dwelling units under condominium, cooperative, or mutual housing corporation type ownership to be exempt from Bureau of Housing Inspection inspections, the association is required to have current valid certificate(s) of registration. If the association is not registered, please contact the Bureau's Registration Unit for registration applications at (609) 633-6216 or BHIREgistrations@dca.nj.gov. The buildings within the association must be registered to be considered for exemption from the Bureau's inspections. Failure to register all buildings prior to consideration for exemption status will result in your application being denied due to insufficient documentation.

I. LEGISLATION EXEMPTING CERTAIN CONDOMINIUMS, COOPERATIVES
AND MUTUAL HOUSING CORPORATIONS FROM BUREAU OF HOUSING INSPECTION JURISDICTION:

On January 17, 1983, Senate Bill No. 1239 was signed into law as Chapter 2 of the laws of 1983. On January 8, 1998, this law was amended per Assembly Bill No. 1842 as Chapter 311 of the laws of 1997. On January 14, 2000, this law was further amended per Assembly Bill No. 2545 as Chapter 384 of the laws of 1999. As Amended, the Hotel and Multiple Dwelling Law now provides that, as a general rule, multiple dwelling buildings having a condominium or cooperative or mutual housing corporation form of dwelling unit ownership are under Bureau of Housing Inspection jurisdiction. However, it exempts building sections of such buildings containing not more than four dwelling units where such building sections have at least two exterior walls unattached to any adjoining building section and are attached to any other building section exclusively by fire-resistant rated walls and that all dwelling units within each building are owner occupied. If a building section contains both owner-occupied and non-owner occupied units only the owner-occupied units are exempt. On August 7, 2000, Bureau of Housing Inspection regulation N.J.A.C. 5:10-1.4 was amended to include these changes. For graphic examples of various hypothetical building layout configurations that would be exempted from Bureau of Housing Inspection jurisdiction, refer to page 3 of this memorandum.

II. REQUIREMENTS FOR APPLICATION OF EXEMPTION FROM BUREAU OF HOUSING INSPECTION JURISDICTION:

In order for dwelling units under a condominium or cooperative or mutual housing corporation type ownership to be exempt from Bureau of Housing Inspection jurisdiction, the association is required to submit both a detailed written and graphic report indicating that the required fire separation walls comply fully with N.J.A.C. 5:10-1.4(b)4. requirements and a certified list identifying all owner-occupied units.

This required report is to be prepared by either a New Jersey registered architect or a New Jersey licensed professional engineer who shall affix his/her signature, embossed seal and date thereto. Upon receipt of such report, the Bureau will review same and make a determination relative to the issuance of an exemption. Refer to page 4 of this memorandum for copy of "Condominium Exemption Draft Letter" that can be used as a guide for submission of required report.

III. ADDITIONAL GUIDANCE:

If you have any questions related to a specific building or condition, please contact the Bureau of Housing Inspection's Compliance Section at (609) 633-6229 or BHICodeComp@dca.nj.gov for assistance. If you have specific questions about the exemption, please contact us at (609) 633-6227 or BHIInspections@dca.nj.gov.

To Whom It May Concern:

I, (name of RA or PE), have read and understand the requirements of both N.J.A.C. 5:10-1.4(b) and Section II, "Requirements for Application of Exemption from Bureau of Housing Inspection Jurisdiction" as contained in the February 7, 2008 "Exemption of Certain Condominiums, Cooperatives, and Mutual Housing Corporations from Bureau of Housing Inspection Jurisdiction" memorandum.

Based upon such requirements, I have visited the complex and certify that except as otherwise indicated in an attaché list, the following conditions are found to exist:

- Each building section contains no more than four dwelling units and has at least two exterior walls unattached to any adjoining building sections (See attached small scale typical layout plan(s) of such type building sections.) and
- Each building section is attached to adjoining building sections exclusively by fire separation walls having a minimum 1½- hour fire resistant rating that extends from the foundation to the underside of the roof sheathing and to the inside of the exterior wall sheathing for buildings constructed prior to January 1, 1977, or as required by the New Jersey Uniform Construction Code at the time of construction subsequent to January 1, 1977. (See attached drawn to scale typical as-built cross-section detail of such wall(s).)
