Training and Technical Assistance

University Behavioral HealthCare (UBHC) of the Rutgers, The State University, is responsible for all curriculum development, training and technical assistance activities statewide for the Children’s System of Care in New Jersey. This includes clinical and procedural training and orientation for various components of the system, technical assistance, coaching, enhancement trainings for specific skill development and core training topics related to the Wraparound model and its associated values and principles. Information Management and Decision Support (IMDS) training, database management and on-line certification for designated IMDS Tools is also an important component of the Training & Technical Assistance program, along with training, database management and on-line tools for Behavioral Assistance Training Certification, Crisis Intervention Specialist Certification, and Family Support Partner Certification. Professional training contact hours for licensed social workers and certified counselors are made available for designated training topics.

The Training and Technical Assistance Program at Rutgers UBHC coordinated and delivered over 411 training and technical assistance events for 2017 across the state, providing over 11,000 individual-training days. This training program is a national model, the first of its kind to cover a statewide system, parallel to New Jersey’s statewide System of Care, which was the first statewide System of Care effort in the country. The on-line IMDS certification system is the first on-line system pertaining to IMDS certification nationally, and the on-line certification for Behavioral Assistants, Crisis Intervention Specialists, Family Support Partners, and Care Managers is the first of its kind nationally.

Rutgers UBHC has an ongoing mission to develop and implement a training and technical assistance program that supports learning the requisite knowledge and skills to provide services and support the unique needs and strengths of families, children, youth and young adults with complex needs. This training and technical assistance effort draws on its commitment to competency based curriculum design, training based on adult principles of learning and skill development and development of local expertise and training capacity.
CHILDREN’S SYSTEM OF CARE TRAININGS

The following individuals are welcome and encouraged to attend: Parents & Caregivers, staff from Care Management and Family Support Organizations, Mobile Response and Stabilization Services, the Contracted System Administrator, BA/IIC, Residential Provider agencies, and system partners including DCP&P and JJC.
