RECIPROCITY LISTING for Out-of-state Class A and Class B Operator Training Programs

Owners and operators of an underground storage tank (UST) facility in New Jersey are required to have a trained Class A and Class B operator designated by October 13, 2018. This document will assist individuals who have completed a training program in another state to determine if that training qualifies for reciprocity; which means it can be substituted in place of completing the Department's Class A/B operator training program. Additional operator training information can be found at <http://www.nj.gov/dep/enforcement/docs/ust-operator-training.pdf>.

IMPORTANT NOTES

- 1) Qualifying out-of-state training programs must include an evaluation taken in person or otherwise include a method to verify the individual's identity.
- 2) The NJDEP does not accept Class A or Class B operator training from out of state programs without a training course of any kind (i.e. self-study or exam only programs).
- 3) Designation of a Class A or Class B operator who has completed acceptable out-of-state training must include submittal of formal training documentation with the UST Facility Certification Questionnaire.
- 4) This list is provided as guidance and subject to change.
