REGULATIONS

Highlights of Important Changes in the 2003-2004 Hunting and Trapping Regulations

 \mathbf{S} portsmen and women can anticipate another outstanding year afield during the 2003-2004 hunting seasons.

New Jersey's black bear season will be open for the first time since 1970 in the area north of Interstate 78 and west of Interstate 287. A total of 10,000 permits are available and participants must successfully complete a black bear hunting seminar. The season is scheduled from December 8-13, 2003, but may be closed earlier by the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection or the Director of the Division of Fish and Wildlife, based upon early season harvest results. Refer to the Black Bear Hunting Regulations (page 49) for hunting regulations and permit application information.

The New Jersey Fish and Game Council has changed this year's deer hunting regulations to better achieve the state's deer-management objectives, to maximize recreational opportunity and to simplify regulations.

Earn-A-Buck requirements were removed from Deer Management Zone 5 and were added to Deer Management Zones 15 and 49 for the fall 2003 deer seasons. The Earn-A-Buck regulation ends after December 13, 2003 in all regular management zones for the 2003-2004 deer hunting seasons.

The fall bow season will open on September 6 in many deer management zones, including several zones that were not open for the early season last year. (See Deer Regulation Sets 4, 6 & 8 for additional zones open for the early season). Where the season is open, hunters are reminded that they must harvest an antlerless deer first from September 6-26, 2003 before harvesting or attempting to harvest an antlered deer. The regular fall bow season will open on September 27 in all other zones open for the season. The fall bow season ends on October 24, 2003 in all zones.

Zone 57, the central portion of the Edwin B. Forsythe National Wildlife Refuge, will be open for the fall bow season. (See Special Area Deer Management Regulations, page 35.)

Hunters are reminded they may purchase only one special season permit per zone per season.

The regular Permit Bow Season will be October 25-November 22 and November 27-29, 2003. The extended season again will run through December 31, 2003 with several zones changed from the regular season format to the extended season format. (See Regulation Sets 4, 6 & 8).

The Youth Deer Hunt Day is Saturday, November 22, 2003.

The Six-day Firearm "Buck" Season is December 8–13, 2003.

The muzzleloader permit season has been extended from nine to 13 days for Zone 4 (See Regulation Set 1).

A 10-day permit shotgun season format was substituted for the seven-day format. The new 10-day format will include December 17-19, 2003 and January 10-17, 2004. The change was made to provide an intermediate season format and to provide additional Saturdays for winter bow and small game hunting without concurrent shotgun permit hunting.

See the Deer Regulation Sets and Deer Hunting Regulations for specific information regarding seasons dates, bag limits, special area hunting opportunities and additional changes in regulations by management zone. Note: There are no zones assigned to regulation sets 5 and 7 for the 2003-2004 deer hunting seasons.

The daily bag limit for chukar partridge has been increased from three to seven.

Permit requirements have changed for adults supervising juvenile turkey hunters, age 10 to less than 14. Now, those supervising adults who are not also hunting are required to possess only a valid firearm or bow license, whichever is applicable. Supervising adults are no longer required to have a turkey-hunting permit for the zone and period while supervising the youth hunter, unless the adult is also hunting. This change was made to increase recreational hunting opportunity for juvenile hunters.

The bag limit for beaver trapping has been reduced from 10 to eight beavers per permit in order to increase the number of permits available from 137 to 175. The change will increase recreational trapping opportunity.
