The Warren Highlands Trail (WHT) was once the original path of The Highlands Trail, a contiguous path that begins at Storm King Mountain, NY and reaches Riegelsville, PA. The WHT branches off the Highlands Trail in Allamuchy State Park and ends at the bridge between Phillipsburg, NJ and Easton, PA.

A Patchwork Quilted Trail
A 16 mile long section of the WHT passes through a network of State, County, Township, and Non-profit owned open-spaces in Harmony Township and Lopatcong Township. Ragged Ridge, Scotts Mountain, and Marble Hill overlook many of the gaps in Pennsylvania as the WHT offers a chance to explore forests, farms, and downtowns.
