

The Delaware and Raritan Canal was completed in 1834 and used to transport goods to New York and Philadelphia. You can walk along the historic towpath for over 60 miles as the canal winds its way through New Jersey.