

Princeton Battlefield is the site of a hard-fought battle that occurred during the Revolutionary War. It is now a State Park that preserves the battlefield and farms, as well as the Thomas Clarke House.