

Wawayanda State Park has three very large natural areas, which many birds and animals call their home. Some of these animals are endangered, and some like the Blue Jay are much more common.