RE: Electronic Transmission of all Rulemaking Notices, General Orders, Bulletins and Public Notices

The Department of Banking and Insurance expends considerable resources on the printing and mailing of rulemaking notices, general orders, bulletins and public notices to the interested parties who have requested to be on the mailing list for such documents. With the development of the Internet as a commonly accepted tool in current business practice, the Department now has the capability to transmit these documents to interested parties by e-mail. Electronic transmission will enable the Department to save considerable funds and provide this information to interested parties in a faster, more efficient manner.

Accordingly, all interested parties are urged to submit a completed form (See Appendix A, attached) indicating the e-mail address to which future documents may be transmitted. Please also review the listed subject areas, and indicate on the form all of those in which you are interested. The form should be submitted by August 15, 2003 to:

New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance
Office of Legislative and Regulatory Affairs
20 West State Street
P O Box 325
Trenton, NJ 08625-0325

The attached form will also be posted on the Department's web-page at <http://www.njdoib.org> and all interested parties will be responsible for updating their e-mail addresses and topics of interest, as necessary, through the submission of this form to the Department.

If you do not have access to the Internet, please complete the attached form accordingly, and we will continue to provide you with copies by regular mail. If you no longer wish to receive these documents in any form, you may indicate that as well.

Thank you for your continued interest in the work of the Department.
