The agency proposal follows:

Summary

Pursuant to Executive Order No. 66 (1978), the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance (Commissioner) proposes to readopt N.J.A.C. 11:2, concerning insurance group rules, with certain technical and substantive amendments. This chapter is due to expire on May 29, 2006 pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14B-5.1c, and includes rules related to different areas of insurance, including life and health, property and casualty, financial integrity of insurers, and other regulated entities (that is, workers' compensation self-insurers, risk retention groups and purchasing groups). Several of these rules are specifically required for a state to obtain or continue accreditation by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC), or to implement statutes that are so required. Rules concerning the following subjects are codified in this chapter:

1. Admission requirements for life and health insurers;
2. Insurance on financed automobiles;

15. Unfair claims settlement practices;
16. Readable policies;
17. Designation of third party for certain notification by senior citizen insureds;
18. Advertisement of life insurance and annuities;

19. Annual audited financial reports;
20. Determination of insurers in a hazardous financial condition;

The rules in this chapter are promulgated to implement many of the statutory requirements in Titles 17, 17B, 34 and 54 of the New Jersey Statutes. The Department has undertaken a review of these rules at several levels to determine their current effectiveness and viability. Participating in this review were the Offices of Consumer Protection Services;

Property/Casualty; Life/Health; Solvency Regulation; and Legislative and Regulatory Affairs. The rules continue to provide the insurance industry, other regulated entities, and the consumer with vital information and useful standards concerning many aspects of insurance. The Department believes that the original purpose for each rule, as stated in the rule itself, continues to exist.

Based on the its review, the Department is proposing several amendments, primarily for technical reasons. Many of these amendments revise citations to the New Jersey Insurance Producer Licensing Act of 2001, N.J.S.A. 17:22A-26 et seq., to reflect the current statutory references. Changes to citations to the statute governing examinations are being made for the same reason. Other proposed amendments correct citation errors or are made as a matter of form.

In addition, the Department is proposing amendments to several rules to revise and clarify existing requirements. Specifically, the Department is proposing to amend N.J.A.C. 11:2-2.1(b) to confirm that insurers shall be required to comply with all of the requirements set forth in N.J.S.A. 17:16D-14 regarding the remittance of unearned premium. The Department is also proposing to amend N.J.A.C. 11:2-3.20 to provide a time certain within which refunds of premium for credit insurance must be made. The current rule provides that such refunds be made “promptly.” The Department believes that this does not provide sufficient guidance and is proposing that refunds be made not later than 60 days. This timeframe is consistent with that for the return of premium in other contexts, as set forth in N.J.A.C. 11:2-2.1 and N.J.S.A. 17:29C-4.1.

The Department is also proposing to amend the definition of “advertisement” in N.J.A.C. 11:2-11.1(e) to add references to the dissemination of material through electronic means, including, but not limited to, the internet, fax machines, and other similar devices, audiovisual material and direct mail.

The Department is also proposing to amend N.J.A.C. 11:2-18 to combine the two exhibits in the Appendix into one exhibit. The Department has had experience where filers were confused as to which exhibit to file. By combining both exhibits into one document, such confusion may be reduced.

Further, the Department is proposing to amend N.J.A.C. 11:2-39.2 to amend the definition of “NAIC RBC Instructions” to delete reference solely to “Life” instructions as the rules by their terms also apply to health and property/casualty insurers.

In addition, the Department is proposing to amend Exhibit A in the Appendix to N.J.A.C. 11:2-42 with respect to the reference to N.J.A.C. 11:2-42.5. The Exhibit currently reads “Requested increase overall and by form is the lower of indication or five percent.” The phrase “and by form” is proposed to be deleted to ensure consistency with the rule.

The Department is proposing to repeal N.J.A.C. 11:2-38, which relates to temporary waivers from increases in capital and surplus for property/casualty insurers. These rules were of limited duration and, by their terms, no longer apply. However, the Department is retaining the definitions of “capital” and “surplus” contained therein by proposing to amend N.J.A.C. 11:1-28.3, governing formation of insurers, to incorporate those definitions, simultaneously with this proposed readoption.

The Department believes that the rules in this chapter primarily serve two general purposes in implementing insurance laws of this State. First, the rules protect current and prospective policyholders by addressing issues such as unfair claims settlement practices, advertising, readability of insurance policies and forms, and mass marketing of property and liability insurance. Secondly, they provide guidance to insurers and other regulated entities respecting such business related matters as insolvencies, proxies, insider trading of stock, annual audited financial reports, deposits, withdrawal from transacting business, reinsurance, capital and surplus requirements, and approval for employers to self-insure workers' compensation. Several rules serve both purposes, such as those pertaining to advertising, unfair claims settlement practices, withdrawal from transacting business, capital and surplus requirements, deposits, and workers' compensation self-insurance. The Department believes that through readoption, these rules will continue to provide the regulatory framework by which the Department may effectively monitor and evaluate the financial condition of insurers and other regulated entities, ensure that such entities continue to comply with the insurance laws and other applicable laws of this State, and provide for consistent evaluation and treatment by the Department of these entities. Moreover, through readoption, these rules will continue to provide insurers and other regulated entities with guidance and specific standards for compliance with New Jersey laws, thereby avoiding confusion regarding such requirements. This, in turn, should continue to benefit insurers, other regulated entities, policyholders, the market, and the public generally.

A 60-day comment period is provided for this notice of proposal, and therefore, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 1:30-3.3(a)5, the proposal is not subject to the provisions of N.J.A.C. 1:30-3.1 and 3.2 governing rulemaking calendars.

Social Impact

As noted in the Summary above, the rules in this chapter address a myriad of subjects regarding the business of insurance in this State and impose requirements governing other regulated entities (workers' compensation self-insurers, and risk retention groups and purchasing groups.) For example, rules concerning advertising help ensure that consumers are fully informed about insurance products so that they can choose products best suited to their needs. The rules concerning unfair claims settlement practices enable insureds to receive prompt, efficient and appropriate consideration of their claims. The rules concerning readable policies help enable insureds and prospective insureds to understand more easily the highly technical aspects of insurance in insurance contracts. The rules concerning mass marketing of property and liability insurance prevent abuses in the sale of such insurance pursuant to a mass marketing plan, while preserving for consumers the benefits of this form of marketing.

The insurance industry has also come to rely on the presence and viability of these rules in their operations. Insurers are provided with standards concerning certain trade practices as noted above, and with information concerning annual audited financial reports, insolvency, determination of hazardous financial condition, cancellation of property/liability policies, insider trading, proxies, sale of credit life and health insurance, as well as requirements governing producer-controlled property/liability insurers, risk retention groups and purchasing groups, workers' compensation self-insurers, and capital and surplus requirements. The rules in this chapter implement various statutory requirements and enable the Department to fulfill its regulatory duties under law. Failure to readopt these rules would impair the Department's ability to properly oversee insurers' operations, would unsettle established relations between insurers and the general public, as well as between these two groups and the Department, and could result in the loss of NAIC accreditation of the Department.

The protections that these rules afford the consumer and the operational guidance that they afford the insurance industry mandate their continued existence, both to implement statutory provisions and to foster and promote an effective regulatory system and sound insurer business practices.

The amendments to the various rules set forth in the chapter, the other proposed amendments and the proposed repeal are primarily technical in nature, or clarify existing requirements. Thus, the proposed amendments and repeal should have a beneficial social impact.

Economic Impact

The proposed amendments to N.J.A.C. 11:1-28.3 and the readoption of this chapter with the proposed repeal and amendments will not impose any additional economic impact on insurers, other regulated entities, or consumers in that the readoption will continue long-standing requirements. The proposed amendments do not impose any additional recordkeeping or compliance requirements on insurers or other regulated entities. The amendments reflect current citations and attempt to provide more certainty as to the operation of various rules.

Insurers and other regulated entities will continue to be required to incur any costs associated with continued compliance with the requirements set forth in this chapter. These requirements include: the requirements that insurers file an annual audited financial report completed by an independent certified public accountant; the requirement that insurers maintain files for the Department's review concerning advertising activities; the requirement that insurers file a risk-based capital report with the Department annually; the requirement that risk retention groups and purchasing groups register with the Department and file specified information in order to enable the Department properly to monitor their activity consistent with the Federal Liability Risk Retention Act and N.J.S.A. 17:47A-1 et seq.; the requirement that producer-controlled property/casualty insurers file an actuarial opinion or other information annually with the Department as required by N.J.S.A. 17:22D-1 et seq.; the requirement that insurers continue to comply with all requirements regarding claims settlement practices; the requirement that insurers comply with any order of the Commissioner upon a finding of hazardous financial condition as set forth in N.J.A.C. 11:2-27; the requirement that insurers seeking to withdraw from transacting business in this State file required information and comply with all requirements set forth in N.J.A.C. 11:2-29; the requirement that insurers pay all custodian fees for custodial deposits; the requirement that employers seeking to self-insure workers' compensation or to continue to self-insure that coverage file required information with the Department and maintain a surety bond as set forth in N.J.A.C. 11:2-33; the requirement that surplus lines agents file required periodic reports and properly allocate premiums subject to tax and applicable surcharge in this State pursuant to N.J.A.C. 11:2-34; and the requirement that insurers seeking relief from certain statutory obligations file required information with the Department. The use of professional services currently required by the rules (for example, actuaries, claims professionals, certified public accountants, underwriting professionals, etc.) will continue to be necessary. The costs for these services will vary depending on the professional, but should be consistent with current annual costs of compliance. The Department notes, however, that no additional costs should be imposed as this proposal merely continues requirements currently in effect.

The Department will continue to incur any costs associated with reviewing information filed pursuant to this chapter and ensuring compliance with all of the rules set forth therein.

Finally, as noted fully in the Social Impact above, the rules in this chapter address a myriad of aspects of the business of insurance in this State, and provide requirements governing other regulated entities. These rules will continue to provide a regulatory framework by which the Department may continue to monitor the business of insurers and other regulated entities to help ensure that such entities will be in a position to pay claims when they are due. This, in turn, should benefit insureds, insurers, taxpayers and the public generally.

The failure to readopt this chapter would require the insurance industry to perform many significant statutory functions without guidance from, or oversight by the Department. This would impose significant costs on the industry because current compliance requirements would not be readily available to the industry, requiring them to utilize procedures which may or may not be acceptable to the Department. This, in turn, could result in disruption to the market with attendant additional costs.

Further, the readoption of the current rules will enable the Department to continue to monitor insurers and other regulated entities in a manner which appropriately meets its current fiscal resources and capabilities. The use of current procedures that have been proven effective over time produces economies for the Department.

Federal Standards Statement

A Federal standards analysis is not required as the rules set forth in this chapter and the proposed amendments and repeal are not subject to any Federal requirements or standards.

Jobs Impact

As set forth in the Summary, the rules in this chapter address a myriad of aspects of the business of insurance. Regulated entities may be required to hire additional professional staff in their continued compliance with this chapter. However, entities may comply with this chapter through utilization of current resources or reallocation of existing resources. The readoption of these rules will continue long-standing procedures with respect to various requirements for insurers and other regulated entities, as well as the Department's ability to properly oversee the operations of these entities. Similarly, the amendments are primarily technical in nature, and thus should not have any substantive impact. However, to the extent that the rules in this chapter help promote a healthy insurance marketplace in New Jersey, the climate for business and job growth is improved.

Agriculture Industry Impact

The rules proposed for readoption with amendments and proposed repeal will have no impact on the agriculture industry in New Jersey.

Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

In some instances, entities regulated by the rules in this chapter are "small businesses" as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-16 et seq. Several rules (for example, replacement of life insurance) relate to the conduct of insurance producers, most of whom are small businesses. In addition, the rules governing workers' compensation self-insurance affect employers seeking to self-insure workers' compensation, many of whom may be small businesses.

Numerous recordkeeping, reporting and compliance requirements will continue to be imposed by this chapter, as set forth in the Economic Impact above. The Department has determined that these continue to be reasonable and necessary for the purpose for which they were originally proposed. The rules continue to apply to all insurers, insurance producers, risk retention groups, purchasing groups, or employers, as the case may be, without regard to size, since they implement statutory provisions and/or regulatory tenets which allow for no such exceptions or differentiation. The Department notes, however, that the proposed amendments and readoption with amendments impose no new recordkeeping, reporting, or other compliance requirements, but merely continue those requirements that have been in existence, in some cases for over 25 years. As noted above, the proposed amendments are primarily technical in nature. The Department, therefore, believes that the readoption of these rules with amendments should not impose any adverse or undue burdens on “small businesses.”

The Department anticipates that future annual costs of compliance with these rules should be consistent with current annual costs.

The use of professional services currently required by the rules proposed for readoption (for example, actuaries, claims professionals, underwriting professionals, etc.) will continue to be necessary, at costs which vary with the individual professional.

Smart Growth Impact

The proposed amendments and the rules proposed for readoption with amendments and repeal will not have an impact on the achievement of smart growth or the implementation of the State Development and Redevelopment Plan.

Full text of the rules proposed for readoption may be found in the New Jersey Administrative Code at N.J.A.C. 11:2.

Full text of the rules proposed for repeal may be found in the New Jersey Administrative Code at N.J.A.C. 11:2-38
