NJPSA/FEA Presents 'Preventing and Managing Challenging Behavior' on March 9

The New Jersey Principals and Supervisors Association and the Foundation for Educational Administration (NJPSA/FEA) will present "Preventing and Managing Challenging Behavior: Evidence-Based Interventions in Schools," March 9, 2020 in Monroe Township, NJ.

Today's educators are faced with increasingly greater challenges inside and outside the classroom that include oppositional and defiant behavior, aggression, depression, anxiety, ADHD and other issues. Dr. Michael Selbst, Ph.D., BCBA-D, will lead workshop participants in small group activities and discussions that focus on emotional and behavioral supports, social skills, replacement behaviors and educational programming. This session is appropriate for administrators, child study team members, counselors, behavior specialist/BCBAs, and teachers.

This full-day workshop will be offered from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on March 9, 2020 at the FEA Conference Center in Monroe Township, NJ. For further information and to register, visit the NJPSA/FEA events webpage.
