New Jersey Inclusion Project (NJIP): Statewide Resources to Support Inclusive Education in Grades K–12

The New Jersey Department of Education (NJDOE), Office of Special Education (OSE), is pleased to highlight the New Jersey Inclusion Project (NJIP), a statewide initiative designed to strengthen inclusive practices and improve outcomes for students with disabilities in grades K–12. In collaboration with ALL IN for Inclusive Education, NJIP provides no-cost, high-quality professional learning, coaching, and resources to support educators, school leaders, and families in building and sustaining inclusive learning environments where all students can thrive.

NJIP supports Include:

- Winter Inclusion Leadership Conference
- Professional Learning Academies
- Paraprofessional Training
- Coaching and Consultation
- School and Classroom Resources
- Statewide Collaboration and Communities of Practice

These resources are designed to assist general and special educators, administrators, related service providers, and families, and to promote inclusive practices that benefit all learners, including students with disabilities.

To learn more about NJIP and explore available resources and ongoing learning opportunities, please visit the NJIP website.
