Introduction

Across New Jersey, there is a common vision shared by all educators that all students should have access to a high-quality education. This is achieved when students have the opportunity to thrive as they advance through each grade and develop the skills and knowledge needed to choose a successful path following high school.

In order to assist school districts in achieving this vision, the New Jersey Department of Education (Department) is clarifying, aligning, and simplifying the state's systems of accountability, including the Federal requirements of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), New Jersey Quality Single Accountability Continuum (NJQSAC) and school and district performance reports. With clarity, alignment and simplicity in Federal and state oversight, New Jersey's schools and districts will spend less time, energy, and resources on providing evidence of compliance, and more time, energy and resources on teaching and learning. The Department has conducted comprehensive feedback sessions aimed at engaging various stakeholder groups in shaping the ESSA State Plan and the NJQSAC state evaluation model. A number of important innovations have been incorporated into our systems of accountability due to this feedback.

While measuring student proficiency in English language arts, mathematics, and science continues to be an important requirement for Federal and State accountability, the Department believes that student progress should also be measured and reported as continuous growth toward proficiency for all students. The Department developed its tiered systems of support to provide assistance to schools and districts based on their unique needs.

Additionally, required data for NJQSAC, ESSA and the school performance reports have been aligned, to the greatest extent possible, to reduce overly burdensome data collection practices.

Background

In 2005, the New Jersey Legislature enacted the education law N.J.S.A. 18A:7A-10 that established NJQSAC to ensure that school districts are providing a thorough and efficient education for all students. The Department created regulations at N.J.A.C. 6A:30 to implement the law. NJQSAC is initiated by a self-evaluation process of various stakeholders in each school community. Once this self-evaluation is completed in the five District Performance Review (DPR) areas of the model, the Department's county offices of education, led by executive county superintendents (ECS), conduct a verification process using the minimum Documentation for Verification to be provided by the district for each of the quality performance indicators in the following DPR areas:

- 1) Instruction and Program
- 2) Fiscal Management (Fiscal)
- 3) Governance
- 4) Operations
- 5) Personnel

The administrative code for NJQSAC, N.J.A.C. 6A:30, is reviewed every five years. The most recent re-adoption in the Spring of 2025 placed emphasis on the following areas:

- Teaching and learning, including an accountability balance for student proficiency and student progress as measured by the median student growth percentile (mSGP)
- Continual teacher and school leader professional development
- Tiered approach to supporting student achievement
- District budgeting process aligned to improving student achievement and teacher practice
- School district safety and security plans
- Learning environment, culture and governance that are collaborative, consistent, and predictable

NJQSAC User Manual

The purpose of the NJQSAC User Manual is to ensure there is clarity in the requirements of the DPR, simplification in the process, and alignment of expectations in order to provide reliable and valid implementation of NJQSAC across all counties.

The changes outlined and represented in N.J.A.C. 6A:30 and in the NJQSAC User Manual are a result of the Department's continued efforts to better support New Jersey school districts. These changes do not reinvent the ways we support student learning. Rather, the Department is building upon those efforts in the spirit of continuous improvement in meeting the demands of our local communities, state, and nation to provide an excellent education for all students.

The New Jersey Quality Single Accountability Continuum Process

The New Jersey Quality Single Accountability Continuum (NJQSAC) is a single, comprehensive accountability system that consolidates state and Federal monitoring requirements (e.g., the Federal mandate for reporting chronic absenteeism from ESSA and the state mandate for reporting HIB incidents from the Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Act). Through the NJQSAC process, each district completes a District Performance Review (DPR), commencing with a self-assessment. The Department has developed the self-assessment tool to measure the district's strengths and weaknesses by the quality performance indicators in all five areas of school district effectiveness. County offices review and verify the district's self-assessment and then calculate the district's NJQSAC scores. Some quality performance indicator scores, particularly in the Instruction and Program DPR area, are provided by the Department.

The New Jersey State Board of Education most recently re-adopted, with revisions, the DPRs which are incorporated in N.J.A.C. 6A:30-1.1, et seq., as the chapter appendices (Appendix A and Appendix B), on March 5, 2025. The Department revised the DPRs, particularly in Instruction and Program and Personnel, to better align with New Jersey's Federally approved ESSA plan and to better identify areas where the Department can provide more support to districts. The revised DPR will provide a more comprehensive assessment of districts, a more accurate placement of districts on the school performance continuum and allow for a more targeted system of supports provided by the Department to promote achievement for every student in the state.

Each of the five DPR areas have quality performance indicators which utilize specific, objective criteria to measure each school district's performance, capacity, and need for state support, assistance, or intervention.

5 DPR Areas

These are the five DPR areas with a summary of performance indicators for each area:

Instruction and Program

19 DPR Indicators that measure, in summary:

- Meeting the State's measure for student performance and progress on state standardized assessments*
- Meeting the State requirements for graduation rate
- Measurement of a district's chronic absenteeism
- Alignment of district's board approved curriculum to state standards and mandates
- Provision of a multi-tiered system of support

Note: In calculating the State's measure for student performance and progress the Department is emphasizing student group performance by averaging the aggregate student group scores with the total population score on a 50/50 basis.

Fiscal

14 DPR Indicators that measure, in summary:

- Maintenance of standard operating procedures and monthly reports
- Satisfactory results on annual audits
- Management of grants and capital funds
- Implementation of a facilities plan
- Completion of annual safety reviews
- Preparation and analysis of fiscal year cash flow
- Employment of a certified facilities manager

Governance

14 DPR Indicators that measure, in summary:

- Development of a curriculum aligned to state standards and mandates
- Oversight of the budget process that targets student achievement
- Review, update, and adoption of policies that are consistent with statutes, regulations, and case law
- Evaluation of the superintendent
- Review of administrator contracts

Operations

20 DPR Indicators that measure, in summary:

- Implementation of policies on student conduct, attendance, Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Drug Use, and Harassment Intimidation and Bullying
- Reporting of data to the New Jersey Statewide Longitudinal Education Data System (NJSLEDS) and the Electronic Violence and Vandalism Reporting System (now known as the Student Safety Data System)
- Provision of transportation, health, counseling, and guidance services
- Annual assessment of school district plans and facilities with local law enforcement authorities
- Designation of a school safety specialist, adoption and implementation of a policy to establish a threat assessment team
- Implementation of a comprehensive equity plan (CEP) and submission of the annual CEP statement of assurance

Personnel

6 DPR Indicators that measure, in summary:

- Provision of high-quality professional development
- Alignment of staff evaluations to TEACHNJ
- Support of novice teachers
- Promotion of quality supervision
- Tracking of staffing information
- Implementation of compliance activities (e.g., criminal history background checks)

Scoring

A district may receive a maximum of 100 points in each of the DPR areas. A district must score at least 80 points (80%) in each DPR area to be recommended for certification as a high-performing district to the State Board of Education. If a district scores below 80% in any of the DPR areas, it will be marked as in “interim status.” The Department will then work collaboratively with the district on the identified area(s) to help increase performance through a District Improvement Plan and subsequent interim reviews.

By analyzing the district’s scores in the DPR areas, the Department is able to determine the following:

- Which districts provide a thorough and efficient education to all students in all areas
- Which districts need state support, assistance, or intervention in order to provide a thorough and efficient education
- Of those districts needing state support, to what area(s) or student group(s) should the additional support be targeted

The Five DPR Areas NJQSAC Overview

Instruction and Program

The Instruction and Program indicators assess a school district's performance and capacity in instruction and student performance. The components of instruction and program include:

- Meeting the state's measures of academic progress and graduation rate
- State assessment results and the analysis of the results to improve teaching and learning
- Curriculum alignment with the New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS)
- Continuous improvement of curriculum and instruction
- Equitable access to the NJSLS
- Tiered supports for all students

Instruction and Program contains indicators that establish student performance metrics as well as student growth, graduation rate, and chronic absenteeism criteria aligned with the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) to the greatest extent possible. The points for Instruction and Program Indicators 1 through 7 vary based on a school district's grade configuration. A school district will receive points for each item up to the maximum points listed for each indicator, which varies by school district and grade configuration (i.e., kindergarten through grade eight (K–8) or any span within K–8; kindergarten through grade 12 (K–12) or any span within K–12 that is not K–8 or grades nine through 12 (9–12); and grades 9–12 or any span within the high school grades). This grade configuration variation accounts for school districts that contain only high schools and, therefore, do not have student growth measures, and school districts that do not have high schools and, thus, lack graduation data.

General Introductory Information for Indicators 1 through 7

The following resources are available on the NJDOE website:

- Median student growth percentiles
- Student attendance and chronic absenteeism
- Understanding adjusted cohort graduation rates

Minimum n-size (i.e., number of students)

Minimum n-size required for calculations of ELA, math and science proficiency is 20. The minimum n-size applies to calculations at both the district and student group levels. If a district has less than 20 students in an area, the area is not factored into the calculations for the summary achievement subtotal section of Instruction and Program.

Student Groups

- Economically Disadvantaged Students are those eligible for free or reduced lunch program participation.
- Students with Disabilities are those currently receiving special education services.
- Multilingual Learners (ML) are those currently receiving ML services and former MLs four years after exiting the program.
- Racial and ethnic student groups:
 - American Indian or Alaska Native
 - Asian/Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander
 - Black or African American
 - Hispanic/Latino
 - White
 - Two or more races

These racial and ethnic student groups are consistent with the requirements for Federal reporting according to the most recent Federal guidance published in the Federal Register (72 Fed. Reg. 59267).

Scoring

For Instruction and Program Indicators 1 through 7 in Appendix A, the district will receive points based on the performance on the indicator to the nearest tenth. The overall Instruction and Program score will be rounded up or down depending upon the final score.

Example of Scoring Rounding Up

If a school district receives 39.6 total points for Indicators 1 through 7 and receives 40 total points for the remaining Instruction and Program indicators, then the total Instruction and Program point allocation for that school district is 79.6 and will be rounded up to 80 points.

Example of Scoring Rounding Down

If a school district receives 39.2 total points for Indicators 1 through 7 and receives 40 total points for the remaining Instruction and Program indicators, then the total Instruction and Program point allocation for that school district is 79.2 and will be rounded down to 79 points, or 79 percent of the Instruction and Program points.

Instruction and Program—Indicators 1 and 2

Calculating Proficiency

Indicator	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–8, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–12, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of 9–12, maximum points are:
1. The school district's ELA achievement score. The score is comprised of the following: • Overall performance: The proficiency rate of all students in a school district • Student group performance: The proficiency rate of all student groups with an n size over 20	10	7	10
2. The school district's mathematics achievement score. The score is comprised of the following: • Overall performance: The proficiency rate of all students in a school district • Student group performance: The proficiency rate of all student groups with an n size over 20	10	7	10

Purpose

These indicators illustrate school districts' implementation of appropriate strategies and interventions to continuously improve ELA and mathematics proficiency.

Clarifying Proficiency

This indicator is monitored remotely.

Scoring is based on the percentage of students in grades 3 through 10 who demonstrate proficiency by meeting or exceeding expectations on statewide assessments, including alternative assessments for students with disabilities.

Proficiency rates must include the participation of 95% of students, consistent with the Federal requirement for calculating proficiency established in ESSA (i.e., proficiency rates are adjusted for participation).

Students demonstrate proficiency by scoring at:

- Levels 3 or 4 on the Dynamic Learning Maps, or
- Levels 4 or 5 on NJSLA

Rates are calculated for all students and each student group in each district.

Calculating Proficiency

Proficiency calculations are based on students who are required to participate in statewide assessments. Students who are not required to participate (e.g., students identified as first-year multilingual learners who are exempt from ELA tests) are excluded from calculations.

Proficiency calculations also take into consideration a student's time in school. For a student's statewide assessment scores to be included in the calculations, the student must have been in school for at least half of the school year (this is referred to as the "time in school" criterion). The scores of students who were in school for less than half of the school year are excluded from the calculations.

The first step in calculating proficiency is to determine whether a district has met the minimum participation rate (i.e., the percentage of students in the district/student group who received valid scores on the statewide assessments) at the district and student group levels. The minimum participation rate for districts and student groups is 95%.

Participation is calculated in two ways:

1. Based on all students in the district/student groups
2. Based on students in the district/student groups who are required to participate based on their time-in-district status

If a district fails to meet the 95% threshold in both calculations, the district will require an adjustment to the denominator in order to ensure that the proficiency rates reflect the performance of 95% of the students. The next step for calculating proficiency depends on whether the participation rate is 95% or below.

The following examples reflect district-level scenarios, but the same rules apply for each student group's proficiency calculation. Thus, a district may meet the participation requirement for all students and not require an adjustment to the denominator, while some student groups within the district may not meet the participation requirement and will require an adjustment to the denominator and vice versa.

95% or More of all Students or all Students Meeting the Time-In-District Criterion

If 95% or more of all students or all students meeting the time-in-district criterion in a district or student group receive valid scores (i.e., participation rate is above 95%), proficiency is calculated by dividing the number of proficient scores by the number of valid scores.

Example 1

District A has 1,000 students registered to take statewide assessments, all of whom meet the “time-in-school” criterion. District A has valid scores for 960 students and 700 are proficient. The district’s participation rate is 96% or $(960 \div 1,000 = 0.96)$. Since the participation rate is above 95%, its proficiency is calculated by dividing the number of proficient students by the number of valid scores $(700 \div 960 = 0.729 \times 100)$. District A’s proficiency rate is 72.9%.

Less than 95% of all Students and Less than 95% of all Students Meeting the Time-In-School Criterion

If less than 95% of all students and less than 95% of all students meeting the time-in-school criterion in a district or student group receive valid scores (i.e., participation rate is below 95%), proficiency is calculated based on the scores of the students who meet the “time-in-school” criterion. This is achieved by adjusting the denominator in the proficiency calculation to reflect 95% of students meeting the “time-in-school” criterion.

Example 2a

District B has 1,000 students registered to take statewide assessments, all of whom meet the “time-in-school” criterion. District B has valid scores for 800 students and 600 are proficient. The district’s participation rate is 80% or $(800 \div 1,000 = 0.80 \times 100)$. Since the participation rate is below 95%, District B’s proficiency is calculated by dividing the number of proficient students (600) by the number of students who meet the “time-in-school” criterion multiplied by 95% $(1,000 \times 0.95 = 950) \rightarrow (600 \div 950 = 0.632 \times 100)$. District B’s proficiency rate is 63.2%.

Example 2b

District C has 1,000 students registered to take statewide assessments, 820 of whom meet the “time-in-school” criterion. District C has valid scores for 800 students and 600 are proficient. The district’s participation rate is 80% or $(800 \div 1,000 = 0.80 \times 100)$. Since the participation rate is below 95%, District C’s proficiency is calculated by dividing the number of proficient students (600) by the number of students who meet the “time-in-school” criterion multiplied by 95% $(820 \times 0.95 = 779) \rightarrow (600 \div 779 = 0.770 \times 100)$. District C’s proficiency rate is 77%.

NJSAC Proficiency Rate and NJSAC Point Calculation

Once a district calculates its proficiency rates for all students and for each of its student groups, the district can calculate the number of points earned by calculating the district's NJSAC Proficiency Rate.

1. 50% of the NJSAC Proficiency Rate is derived from the district proficiency rate for all students.
2. The other 50% of the NJSAC Proficiency Rate is derived from the average student group rate.
3. These two numbers (the district proficiency rate for all students and the average student group proficiency rate) are then averaged to find the NJSAC Proficiency Rate.

$$\text{NJSAC Proficiency Rate} = \frac{\text{District proficiency rate} + \text{Average student group proficiency rate}}{2}$$

4. The NJSAC Proficiency Rate is then multiplied by the points available.

$$\text{Points earned} = \text{NJSAC Proficiency Rate} \times \text{maximum points available}$$

Example For ELA and Mathematics

After making the necessary participation rate adjustments, District D has a district proficiency rate of 74.0%. District D has four student groups with proficiency rates of 80.0%, 36.0%, 76.0% and 82.0%. The average student group proficiency rate is 68.5% or $(0.800 + 0.360 + 0.760 + 0.820 = 2.740; 2.740 \div 4 = 0.685 \times 100)$.

The district proficiency rate of 74.0% is averaged with the average student group rate of 68.5% to arrive at the NJSAC Proficiency Rate of 71.3% or $(0.740 + 0.685 = 1.425; 1.425 \div 2 = 0.713 \times 100)$. The NJSAC Proficiency Rate is then multiplied by the maximum points available to determine the points earned.

- If District D is a K to 8 district, it would earn 7.1 out of 10 points $(0.713 \times 10 = 7.1)$.
- If District D is a K to 12 district, it would earn 5 out of 7.0 points $(0.713 \times 7 = 5)$.
- If District D is a 9 to 12 district, it would earn 7.1 out of 10 points $(0.713 \times 10 = 7.1)$.

Instruction and Program—Indicator 3

Calculating Proficiency

Indicator	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–8, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–12, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of 9–12, maximum points are:
3. The school district's science achievement score: The score is comprised of the following: • Overall performance: The proficiency rate of all students in a school district • Student group performance: The proficiency rate of all student groups	5	3.5	5

Purpose

This indicator illustrates the school district's implementation of appropriate strategies and interventions to continuously improve science proficiency.

Clarifying Proficiency

This indicator is monitored remotely.

Scoring is based on the percentage of students in grades 5, 8, and 11 who demonstrate proficiency by meeting or exceeding expectations on statewide assessments, including alternative assessments for students with disabilities.

Proficiency rates must include the performance of 95% of students, consistent with the Federal requirement for calculating proficiency established in ESSA (i.e., proficiency rates are adjusted for participation).

Students demonstrate proficiency by scoring at:

- Levels 3 or 4 on the Dynamic Learning Maps, or
- Levels 3 or 4 on NJSLA

Rates are calculated for each district and each student group in each district.

Example For Science

After making the necessary participation rate adjustments, District D has a district proficiency rate of 74.0%. District D has four student groups with proficiency rates of 80.0%, 36.0%, 76.0% and 82.0%. The average student group proficiency rate is 68.5% or $(0.800 + 0.360 + 0.760 + 0.820 = 2.740; 2.740 \div 4 = 0.685 \times 100)$.

The district proficiency rate of 74.0% is averaged with the average student group rate of 68.5% to arrive at the NJQSAC Proficiency Rate of 71.3% or $(0.740 + 0.685 = 1.425; 1.425 \div 2 = 0.713 \times 100)$. The NJQSAC Proficiency Rate is then multiplied by the maximum points available to determine the points earned.

- If District D is a K to 8 district, it would earn 3.6 out of 5 points $(0.713 \times 5 = 3.6)$.
- If District D is a K to 12 district, it would earn 2.5 out of 3.5 points $(0.713 \times 3.5 = 2.5)$.
- If District D is a 9 to 12 district, it would earn 3.6 out of 5 points $(0.713 \times 5 = 3.6)$.

Note: The minimum n-size for science proficiency must be 20 or greater in total student population for a school district to receive points for Indicator 3. If the minimum n-size is less than 20, the school district will not be held accountable for science proficiency.

Instruction and Program—Indicators 4 and 5

Calculating Academic Progress

Indicator	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–8, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–12, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of 9–12, maximum points are:
4. The school district’s ELA academic progress. Academic progress is calculated to include student group performance by averaging the median student growth percentile (mSGP) of all students with the average of all student group mSGPs.	12.5	8.75	0
5. The school district’s mathematics academic progress. Academic progress is calculated to include student group performance by averaging the mSGP of all students with the average of all student group mSGPs.	12.5	8.75	0

Note: Currently, regional and vocational high schools (9 to 12) do not measure student progress with mSGPs.

Purpose

These indicators are designed to measure school districts’ successful implementation of strategies and interventions that foster an individual student’s academic growth, as measured by performance on statewide assessments relative to their performance on the prior year’s statewide assessment (i.e., student growth percentiles).

Clarifying Academic Progress

These indicators are monitored remotely using median student growth percentile (mSGP)—for students in grades 4 through 7 in math and grades 4 through 8 in ELA—for all students and for each student group in the district. Academic progress rates must include the participation of 95% of students, consistent with the Federal requirement for calculating proficiency established in ESSA (i.e., proficiency rates are adjusted for participation).

NJSAC Academic Progress Score and NJSAC Point Calculation

Once a district calculates its mSGP for all students and for each of its student groups, the district can calculate the number of points earned by calculating the district's NJSAC Academic Progress Score.

1. 50% of the NJSAC Academic Progress Score is derived from the district's mSGP rate for all students.
2. The other 50% of the NJSAC Academic Progress Score is derived from the average student group's mSGP.
3. These two numbers (the district mSGP for all students and the average student group's mSGP) are then averaged to find the NJSAC Academic Progress Score, which is converted to a multiplier using the NJSAC Academic Progress Score Conversion table.

4. The multiplier is applied to the maximum available points to determine points earned.

$$\text{Points earned} = \text{multiplier} \times \text{maximum available points}$$

Example 1

District A has an mSGP of 62 for all students. District A has four student groups and its mSGPs are 50, 35, 65 and 58. The average student group mSGP is 52 or $(50 + 35 + 65 + 58 = 208; 208 \div 4 = 52)$. The indicator score is determined by averaging the mSGP for all students (62) with the average the student group's mSGP (52), giving District A an NJSAC Academic Progress Score of 57 or $(62 + 52 = 114; 114 \div 2 = 57)$.

The district would then refer to the NJSAC Academic Progress Score Conversion table and see that a NJSAC Academic Progress Score of 57 equates to a NJSAC Points Multiplier of 0.86.

- If District A is a K to 8 district, it would earn 10.8 points out of 12.5 available points $(12.5 \times 0.86 = 10.8)$.
- If District A is a K to 12 district, it would earn 7.5 out of 8.75 available points $(8.75 \times 0.86 = 7.5)$.

Example 2

District A has an mSGP of 50 for all students. District A has four student groups and their mSGPs are 60, 53, 48, and 30. The average student group's mSGP is 47.8 or $(60 + 53 + 48 + 30 = 191; 191 \div 4 = 47.8)$. The indicator score is determined by averaging the mSGP for all students (50) with the average student group's mSGP (47.8), giving District A an NJSAC Academic Progress Score of 48.9 or $(50 + 47.8 = 97.8; 97.8 \div 2 = 48.9)$.

The district would then refer to the NJSAC Academic Progress Score Conversion table and see that NJSAC Academic Progress Score of 48.9 equates to a NJSAC Points Multiplier of .76.

- If District A is a K to 8 district, it would earn 9.5 out of 12.5 available points $(12.5 \times 0.76 = 9.5)$.
- If District A is a K to 12 district, it would earn 6.7 out of 8.75 available points $(8.75 \times 0.76 = 6.7)$.

Instruction and Program—Indicator 6

Calculating Graduation Rate

Indicator	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–8, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–12, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of 9–12, maximum points are:
6. The school district's State graduation rate (average of four-year and five-year adjusted State cohort graduation rates). State graduation rate is calculated to include student group performance by averaging the combined State graduation rate (i.e., the average of the four-year and five-year graduation rates) of all students with the average of all student groups' combined State graduation rates.	0	15	25

Purpose

To ensure that school districts are monitoring student progress toward graduation and implementing best practices to facilitate students' successful completion of high school within four, five, and six years.

Clarifying Graduation Rate

The four-year, five-year, and six-year graduation rates are based on the adjusted cohort graduation rate calculation methodology. Minimum n-size must be met for each graduation cohort to be included in the calculations.

Graduation rates are calculated for each district and each student group in each district, using the most recent available data at the time of monitoring.

NJSAC Graduation Rate and NJSAC Point Calculation

District four-year and five-year graduation rates (GR) are calculated similarly to the other indicators.

1. The four-year graduation rate for all students is averaged with the average student group's four-year graduation rate.

$$\text{NJSAC 4-Year GR} = \frac{4 \text{ year GR} + \text{average student group 4 year GR}}{2}$$

2. The five-year graduation rate for all students is averaged with the average student group's five-year graduation rate

$$\text{NJSAC 5-Year GR} = \frac{5 \text{ year GR} + \text{average student group 5 year GR}}{2}$$

3. These two numbers are then averaged to generate the NJSAC Graduation Rate, which is multiplied by the maximum points available to determine the NJSAC points earned.

$$\text{NJSAC GR} = \frac{4 \text{ year GR} + 5 \text{ year GR}}{2}$$

NJSAC Graduation Rates will always include the district's four-year graduation rate (50%) and five-year graduation rate (50%).

However, if, due to minimum n-size requirements, a small district has student group data for one year and not the other, the two available rates would not be averaged. Instead, the year for which the district has student group data would be calculated based on the described methods, and the total district rate would represent the entire 50% for the year for which the student groups' data is unavailable (see Example 2, below).

Example 1

District A has a four-year graduation rate of 90.0% for all students. Its student groups have four-year graduation rates of 78.0%, 96.0% and 82.0%. The average student group's four-year graduation rate is 85.3%. Thus, its four-year graduation rate for NJSAC is 87.7 % or $(0.900 + 0.853 = 1.753; 1.753 \div 2 = 0.877 \times 100)$.

District A has a five-year graduation rate of 98.0% for all students. Its student groups have five-year graduation rates of 95.0%, 94.0%, and 90.0%. The average student groups' five-year graduation rate is 93.0%. Thus, the five-year graduation rate for NJSAC is 95.5% or $(0.980 + 0.930 = 1.910; 1.910 \div 2 = 0.955)$.

The NJSAC Graduation Rate is determined by averaging the four-year graduation rate for NJSAC (0.877) with the five-year graduation rate for NJSAC (0.955).

If District A is a K to 12 district, it would earn 14.6 out of 15 available points $(15 \times 0.916 = 13.74)$.

- If District A is a 9 to 12 district, it would earn 23.6 out of 25 available points $(25 \times 0.916 = 22.9)$.

Example 2

District B has a four-year graduation rate of 95.3% for all students. Its student groups have four-year graduation rates of 80.0%, 98.0%, and 84.0%. The average student groups' four-year graduation rate is 87.3%. Thus, the four-year graduation rate for NJQSAC is 91.3% or $(0.953 + 0.873 = 1.826; 1.826 \div 2 = 0.913 \times 100)$.

District B has a five-year graduation rate of 97.0% for all students. However, the cohort for whom the five-year graduation rate is calculated is small, and no student group meets the minimum n-size requirement, thus, its five-year graduation rate for NJQSAC is 97.0%.

The NJQSAC Graduation Rate is determined by averaging the four-year graduation rate for NJQSAC (0.913) with the five-year graduation rate for NJQSAC (0.970), which is 94.2%.

- If District B is a K to 12 district, it would earn 14.1 out of 15 available points ($15 \times 0.942 = 14.1$).
- If District B is a 9 to 12 district, it would earn 23.6 out of 20 available points ($25 \times 0.942 = 23.6$)

Instruction and Program—Indicator 7

Calculating Chronic Absenteeism

Indicator	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–8, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of K–12, maximum points are:	If the school district is comprised of any composition of 9–12, maximum points are:
7. The school district's measure(s) for school quality and student success is calculated to account for student group performance by averaging the rates for all students with the average of all student groups' rates.	10	10	10

Purpose

To ensure that school districts are implementing strategies that encourage student attendance and interventions to help students overcome barriers to attendance.

Calculating Chronic Absenteeism

This indicator is monitored remotely using chronic absenteeism rates, the measure for school quality and student success aligned with the New Jersey State ESSA Plan.

Chronic Absenteeism rates are calculated based on the percentage of students in grades kindergarten through 12 who are:

- Enrolled in the district for 45 or more days during the school year.
- Chronically absent, which means they have missed more than 10% of the school days for which they are in membership.

NJSAC Chronic Absenteeism and NJSAC Point Calculation

The NJSAC Chronic Absenteeism Score is calculated by averaging the district's chronic absenteeism rate for all students and the average student group chronic absenteeism rate and then subtracting this number from 1 (See Example, below). This number reflects the percentage of students who are not chronically absent.

$$\text{NJSAC Chronic Absenteeism Score} = 1 - \frac{\text{District chronic absenteeism rate} + \text{Average student group chronic absenteeism rate}}{2}$$

The NJSAC Chronic Absenteeism Score is then multiplied by the maximum points available to determine the points earned.

$$\text{Points earned} = \text{NJSAC Chronic Absenteeism Score} \times \text{maximum point available}$$

Since chronic absenteeism points are based on the percentage of students who are not chronically absent, as the chronic absenteeism rate increases, the number of NJQSAC points a district receives decreases.

Example

District A has a chronic absenteeism rate of 8.0% for all students. Its four student groups have chronic absenteeism rates of 5.0%, 10.0%, 12.0%, and 7.0%. The average student group chronic absenteeism rate is 8.5% or $(0.050 + 0.100 + 0.120 + 0.070 = 3.4; 3.4 \div 4 = 0.085 \times 100)$.

The chronic absenteeism rate for all students (0.080) is averaged with the average student group chronic absenteeism rate (0.085) to find the district's chronic absenteeism rate for NJQSAC, 8.3% (0.083). Next, this value is subtracted from 1 ($1 - 0.083 = 0.917$), resulting in a NJQSAC Chronic Absenteeism Score of 0.917 (i.e., the district earned 91.7% of the available points).

The maximum points available for all district configurations is ten points, and District A would earn 9.2 points ($10 \times 0.917 = 9.2$).

Instruction and Program—Indicator 8

The chief school administrator (CSA) reports participation and performance results of annual Statewide assessments to the district board of education within 60 days of receipt of the finalized information from the Department. - Asian American and Pacific Islander history and contributions are incorporated in an appropriate place in kindergarten through grade 12 as part of the social studies curriculum. N.J.S.A 18A:35-4.44

The additional instructional mandates listed below may be met in other content areas, though the New Jersey Student Learning for Social Studies (NJSLS-SS) provides explicit opportunities to meet these mandates:

- Amistad Mandate
- Holocaust and Genocide Mandate

The Amistad mandate (N.J.S.A. 18A:35-4.43) requires that curricula in K–12 include the teaching of the following:

- African slave trade

The Holocaust and Genocide mandate N.J.S.A. 18A:35-28 requires that curricula in K–12 include teaching about:

- Holocaust and genocides
- Issues of bias, prejudice, and bigotry, including bullying

Compliance with the Amistad and the Holocaust and Genocide mandates are accounted for in Indicator 12: Social Studies, which means that if a district is out of compliance with either mandate it will result in a loss of all points for this indicator.

Middle School Civics Requirement N.J.S.A. 18A:35-41

Districts must provide at least two consecutive quarters (or one semester, if equivalent, in a system of four quarters/academic year) of civics instruction in their grade 6 through 8 social studies curricula.

Examples of scheduling configurations can include, but are not limited to:

- Any two consecutive quarters or one semester, if equivalent in a system of four quarters/academic year in any grade 6 through 8
- Consecutive quarters may also mean the fourth quarter of one grade and the first quarter of the next grade

Middle school civics instruction does not need to be scheduled as stand-alone civics classes, but the civics content must be addressed within the scheduled social studies instructional classes.

The civics instructional requirement is supported by the NJSLS-SS. Applicable civics-related core ideas and performance expectations can be found in standards 6.1 U.S. History and 6.3 Active Citizenship in the 21st Century.

- All three modes of communication are evident:
 - Interpretive
 - Interpersonal
 - Presentational

Notes:

- Culture and language must be completely embedded into 7.1.
- Culture courses taught in English do not meet the expectations of NJSLS for World Languages. Points can only be awarded for curriculum that reflect instruction of a language other than English.

- If a computer software program (e.g., Rosetta Stone) is used to deliver instruction, the district must demonstrate that there is sufficient evidence of face-to-face interaction (interpersonal mode) with a certified teacher who has demonstrated linguistic proficiency in the language of instruction (see N.J.A.C. 6A:9B-10.5\(b\)).

Middle School Financial Literacy Requirement N.J.S.A. 18A:35-4.34

Districts are required to provide instruction in grades 6, 7, and 8 that includes teaching about budgeting, savings, credit, debt, insurance, investment, and other issues associated with personal financial responsibility that is appropriate and reflects the age and comprehension of the students. This content is reflected in standard 9.1 Personal Financial Literacy.

Standard 9 Graduation Requirements N.J.A.C. 6A:8-5.1

For a State-endorsed diploma, district boards of education shall develop, adopt, and implement local graduation requirements that prepare students for success in post-secondary degree programs, careers, and civic life in the 21st century, and that include the following:

- Participation in a local program of study of not fewer than 120 credits in courses designed to meet all of the NJSLS, including, but not limited to, the following credits:

 - At least five credits in 21st century life and careers, or career-technical education

Indicator 17: Computer Science and Design Thinking

Points: 3

This indicator ensures that the curriculum for NJSLs for Computer Science and Design Thinking (NJSLs-CSDT) is comprehensive and aligned with the NJSLs-CSDT, providing students with the necessary skills and knowledge to succeed in a technology-driven world.

In the curriculum:

- NJSLs for Computer Science and Design Thinking (NJSLs-CSDT) are banded for grades K–2, 3–5, 6–8, and 9–12. Performance expectations may be integrated within and across other content areas or presented as an independent course in accordance with N.J.S.A. 18A:7C-1.1.
- Within the grade bands, the standards are delineated by disciplinary concepts, core ideas, and performance expectations that build progressively from Kindergarten through 12th grade.
- Within the K-2, 3-5, and 6-8 grade bands, all performance expectations are represented for each of the disciplines. Schools can demonstrate evidence of integration through their curricular documentation, showing:
 - Grade band appropriate standards included in curricula
 - Appropriate connections between Computer Science and Design Thinking content areas and other disciplines outlined in curricular activities
 - Assessments for NJSLs-CSDT in addition to other content areas
 - Curricular resources
 - The scope and sequence describing the vertical alignment and inclusion of K-8 standards that will prepare students for high school level courses.
- Each public school enrolling students in grades nine through 12, other than a county vocational school district, shall offer a course in computer science. The course shall include, but need not be limited to, instruction in computational thinking, computer programming, the appropriate use of the Internet and development of Internet web pages, data security and the prevention of data breaches, ethical matters in computer science, and the global impact of advancements in computer science. N.J.S.A. 18A:7C-1.1

Indicators 9–17 Department Review Process

- Review a sample of curriculum in each content area.
- Determine if all components are included in accordance with general evidence and content-specific evidence.

Indicators 9–17 Verification of Indicator Compliance

If the general evidence and content-specific documentation for verification of each content area is prevalent for English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, World Language, Comprehensive Health and Physical Education, Visual and Performing Arts, Career Readiness, Life Literacies, and Key Skills, and Computer Science and Design Thinking, then points will be awarded for each content area.

Department Review Process

Evaluate curricula to determine if mandate components are included in accordance with general evidence and content area specific evidence.

Verification of Indicator Compliance

If the general evidence and content area specific documentation for verification of each mandate area is prevalent for the mandate-specified grade levels and content areas, then points will be awarded for both mandates.

- Submit reimbursement requests for Federal grant awards for the actual cost of incurred expenditures.
- Only approve purchase orders permitted by the purchasing agent.

General Monitoring Notes

- The review process begins with the district self-assessment.
- The verification process will begin remotely, with the county office requesting the required evidence, unless stated otherwise within the verification process for the indicator.
- If questions, clarifications, or additional information is needed, a site visit may be scheduled at the discretion of the executive county superintendent (ECS).
- A site visit may also be scheduled if the executive county business official (ECBO) deems that producing documents for remote review places an undue burden on the district.
- It is preferable for districts to make the district board of education minutes available through the district website or another online platform, since much of the required evidence is found in the minutes.

Fiscal—Indicator 1

Monthly district board of education secretary's reports are completed and reconciled without exceptions and submitted to the district board of education within 60 days of the month's end for approval, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:17-9 and N.J.A.C. 6A:23 A-16.10

The NJQSAC District Improvement Plan (DIP) Process

Overview

N.J.A.C. 6A:30-5.4

“District improvement plan” means a plan developed in collaboration with the Department by a school district that fails to satisfy at least 80 percent of the quality performance indicators in any of the five key components of school district effectiveness. The district improvement plan addresses critical areas of need identified through the comprehensive review.

District Improvement Plan

Each school district that satisfies less than 80 percent of the quality performance indicators in one or more of the five components of school district effectiveness shall be required to develop and submit a DIP to address the area(s) of deficiency and limited capacity identified through the comprehensive review and in-depth evaluation, if applicable.

The DIP shall:

- Be data driven and results oriented
- Outline strategies for building capacity of the school district and its schools to improve learning and teaching
- Identify specific areas of strength and weakness in addressing all methods employed by the school district to:
 - Improve student achievement
 - Increase school district capacity
 - Improve performance in each applicable component of school district effectiveness
- Incorporate the content and requirements of improvement or corrective action plans required by other State or Federal programs
- Be informed by data generated by the Department, the school district, and any individual school improvement planning process that may have occurred
- Consist of districtwide goals and measurable objectives that describe the structural, policy, programmatic, or organizational changes to be implemented
- Identify the title(s) of individual(s) responsible for addressing each area and shall specify timelines for each goal's completion

- Include, but not be limited to, the following elements:
 - School-level planning objectives toward ensuring a thorough and efficient education
 - Evidence-based strategies for improvement to address all critical areas of need for the school district identified by the findings of the in-depth evaluation report, if applicable, and the comprehensive review
 - Identification of the assistance required to implement improvement strategies with budgetary considerations identified

The school district also shall ensure the DIP is aligned with and incorporates or references the relevant provisions of all applicable State and Federal plans.

District Responsibilities

- The DIP shall be developed by an in-district team established by the CSA. This in-district team shall, at a minimum, consist of:
 - School district administrators
 - School district or school personnel with experience in one or more of the areas of school district effectiveness
 - School administrative personnel from a representative sample of the schools in the school district
 - Instructional staff
 - Member representatives of the local collective bargaining unit of the educational staff selected by the local collective bargaining unit
 - One or more representatives of the district board of education selected by the district board of education.
- The district may reassemble the district NJQSAC self-assessment committee with the same representation as the original committee
- When requested by the CSA, the Department may provide the in-district team with technical assistance needed to develop the DIP. The Department shall determine the type of technical assistance to be provided in collaboration with the school district.
- The in-district team shall complete the DIP.

Six Step Process

The Department has provided a DIP tab in the District Performance Report (DPR) for the district to enter its plan goals, evidence-based strategies, and outcomes.

Step 1: Indicators

Enter the DPR section, Instruction and Program (I&P), Fiscal, Operations, Personnel, Governance, and the indicator number (e.g.: I&P-1).

Step 2: Goals

Establish goals that are specific, measurable, attainable, realistic, and timely (SMART) for each indicator.

Step 3: Strategies and Budgetary Resources (if applicable)

- Identify the evidence-based strategies that will be used to meet the indicator requirements.
- Use bullets and be concise with wording.
- The work of the committee should:
 - Focus on reaching a consensus about the evidence-based strategies and the impact these strategies will have in accomplishing the goal
 - Be documented through periodic submission of committee reports to the district board of education and noted in district board minutes as applicable
- If the district has completed the work to meet the indicator requirements prior to submission of the DIP, list the actions that have been taken and the dates of completion.
- If attainment of one indicator is tied to another indicator, state that once the first indicator is met, it is anticipated that the second one will also be met.
- If budgetary resources are needed to conduct the evidence-based strategies, provide a brief description of the anticipated cost and the funding source to be used.

Note: NJDOE will evaluate the list of goals and strategies to determine the appropriateness and likelihood of meeting the indicator requirements within the identified timelines.

Step 4: Position Responsible

Identify the job title (not the individual's name) of the staff responsible for guiding, overseeing, or accomplishing the strategies to meet the indicator requirements.

Step 5: Timeline

Establish realistic dates for implementation and completion of goals. Interim dates may be necessary for goals that have several strategies.

Step 6: Evidence of Completion

Identify the data that the district will use to self-assess the indicator requirements have been met. In other words, identify what the district will do to demonstrate compliance.

- The CSA shall obtain district board of education approval for the proposed DIP within 60 days of the school district's receipt of the NJQSAC placement letter.
- Within 60 days of the final determination of the school district's placement on the performance continuum, as set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:30-4.1(f), the CSA shall submit to the Department via the NJQSAC email address (qsac@doe.nj.gov) the proposed DIP, as approved by the district board of education.
- Failure by a school district to submit a DIP in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:30-5.4 and (a) above may result in the withholding of State aid, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 18A:55-2, or, in appropriate circumstances, the initiation of intervention activities as set forth at N.J.A.C. 6A:30-6.2.
- A school district shall implement its district improvement plan promptly upon Commissioner approval of the plan.

Submission of the District Improvement Plan

- The completed DIP (within the district's DPR), along with the District Board Resolution approving submission of the DIP is submitted to qsac@doe.nj.gov and copied to County Office of Education in which the district resides.
- These documents must be received by the date indicated in the district's placement letter.
- Questions about the DIP process should be directed to the executive county superintendent or to qsac@doe.nj.gov.

Department of Education Responsibilities

N.J.A.C. 6A:30-5.5

- The Department staff shall review the proposed DIP to ensure it addresses all areas identified in the comprehensive review and the in-depth evaluation, if applicable.
- The Department shall ensure the plan contains measurable and attainable evidence-based objectives and strategies for achieving improvement, developing local capacity, and improving school district effectiveness in each identified area(s) of deficiency.
- The Department staff shall propose revisions or approve the DIP if all components of the plan are present and meet all requirements.
- The district will receive an approval letter when the DIP is deemed approvable. The approval letter will establish a timeframe for the initial county office interim review to measure the progress and discuss the implementation of the DIP.
- Following the initial interim review, the district will receive an interim review. Every six months, the Department (County Office staff) shall review the school district's progress in implementing the DIP. This interim review shall include an on-site visit at which time the Department (County Office) may receive input from members of the in-district team responsible for developing the DIP and others as determined appropriate by Department staff.

- The Department (County Office) shall score all indicators of each section and indicator of the DIP. The district will receive a score of “yes” if it has met the indicator requirements.
- The Department (County Office) shall submit the results of the interim review to the NJQSAC coordinator at qsac@doe.nj.gov.
- The Division of Field Support and Services will evaluate the results of the interim review. An interim placement letter will be sent to the district with the new score for the area the DIP was created to address and include the initial review scores for the areas that achieved 80% or above.
- Based on the six-month review:
 - If the Commissioner determines the school district satisfies 80 to 100 percent of the quality performance indicators in each of the five components of school district effectiveness:
 - The Commissioner shall recommend for certification to the State Board of Education that the school district be designated as high performing.
 - The six-month reviews of the school district shall cease.
 - If the Commissioner determines the school district does not satisfy at least 80 percent of the quality performance indicators in each of the five components of school district effectiveness, the Department shall:
 - Issue a letter detailing the area(s) in which the school district continues to need improvement,
 - Ensure the school district continues to receive appropriate technical assistance, if applicable.
 - Continue to monitor the school district’s progress at the six-month review.
- The results of the Department (County Office) review (DPR Excel file with scores) will also be provided to the district.

Questions about the DIP process should be directed to your executive county superintendent or to the NJQSAC coordinator, at qsac@doe.nj.gov.

Section 18A:35-28: Instruction on Holocaust, genocides required in elementary, secondary school curriculum NJ Rev Stat § 18a:35-28

Every board of education shall include instruction on the Holocaust and genocides in an appropriate place in the curriculum of all elementary and secondary school pupils.

The N.J. Commission on Holocaust Education recommends the infusion of the following content/themes in at least 2 places within each grade-band in order to adequately meet the Holocaust education mandate.

The following Look Fors may be used to determine if a district has met the expectations of the mandate. Instruction may consist of units, lessons, guest speakers, assemblies, and special events. Evidence of Holocaust instruction may be demonstrated in any content area and is not restricted to the content/themes listed. Districts may use existing New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS) as shown below to support their implementation of the mandate. The performance expectations are cited as examples and do not represent the only performance expectations that may be used to support Holocaust education.

Look Fors in Elementary School (Grades K–5)

Units and/or lessons related to the following content/themes:

- Respecting yourself and others (2020 NJSLS-SS 6.1.2.HistoryUP.2/ 2020 NJSLS-CHPE 2.1.5.SSH.3)
- Cultural diversity and societal contributions from people of diverse backgrounds (2020 NJSLS-CLKS 9.4.2.GCA:1/ 2020 NJSLS-CHPE 2.1.5.SSH.7)
- Identity and acceptance (2020 NJSLS-SS 6.1.2.HistoryUP.3/ 6.1.5.CivicsCM.1)
- Bullying, upstanders and bystanders (2020 NSLS-CHPE 2.1.2.SSH.9/ 2020 NJSLS-SS 6.1.5.CivicsHR.4)
- Rules and processes that ensure fair treatment (2020 NJSLS-SS 6.1.2.CivicsPR.4)
- Choices and consequences
- Prejudice, discrimination and anti-Semitism (recommended only for grades 4 and above) (2020 NJSLS-SS 6.1.5.CivicsDP.2)

Look Fors in Middle School (Grades 6–8)

Units and/or lessons related to the following content/themes:

- Prejudice, discrimination and stereotyping throughout history
- Social and peer influences in decision-making
- Totalitarianism
- Propaganda related to the Nazi Party and the Holocaust
- Antisemitism today and throughout history
- Rise of the Nazi party and the Holocaust

The use of a guest speaker or assembly about the Holocaust without proper instruction related to its historical context and relevance does not meet the mandate. Typically, districts demonstrate adherence to the mandate at the middle school level in English Language Arts through a book study, such as The Diary of Anne Frank.

Look Fors in High School (Grades 9–12)

Instruction should relate to the Holocaust and additional genocides throughout history. Teaching about a genocide cannot be in place of explicit Holocaust instruction. Districts may meet the mandate by teaching all of the following 2020 New Jersey Student Learning Standards for Social Studies:

- 6.1.12.CivicsHR.11.a: Assess the responses of the United States and other nations to the violation of human rights that occurred during the Holocaust and other genocides.
- 6.1.12.HistoryUP.11.b: Compare the varying perspectives of victims, survivors, bystanders, rescuers, and perpetrators during the Holocaust.
- 6.2.12.CivicsPI.4.b: Assess government responses to incidents of ethnic cleansing and genocide.
- 6.2.12.CivicsHR.4.a: Analyze the motivations, causes, and consequences of the genocides of Armenians, Ukrainians, Jews in the Holocaust and assess the responses by individuals, groups, and governments and analyze large-scale atrocities including 20th century massacres in China.
- 6.2.12.HistoryUP.4.c: Compare and contrast the actions of individuals as perpetrators, bystanders, and rescuers during events of persecution or genocide, and describe the long-term consequences of genocide for all involved.

A guest speaker or assembly without contextual instruction related to the standards does not meet the mandate.

Process for Supporting Districts

The NJ Commission on Holocaust Education provides curriculum, professional development, and resources to districts. If a district is struggling to meet the Holocaust Education Mandate, it is recommended that they are referred to the NJ Commission on Holocaust Education for additional support. Districts are encouraged to utilize the Holocaust curriculum guides produced by the Commission in order to ensure they are meeting the mandate. For additional questions or concerns, please contact the NJ Commission on Holocaust Education at Holocaust@doe.nj.gov.

If a district fails to meet the Holocaust Education Mandate, the NJ Commission on Holocaust Education will be notified. The NJ Commission on Holocaust Education will reach out to the district and offer to develop and implement a corrective action plan with the district so that they may meet the mandate.

World Languages Support Document (I&P—Indicator 13)

The following highlights features of a K–12 world languages curriculum that would demonstrate compliance with the 2020 New Jersey Student Learning Standards for World Languages (NJSLS-WL). NJSLS-WL requires instruction to be delivered in a language other than English and for students to meet proficiency benchmarks by the end of Grade 2, 5, 8 and 12 in the three modes of communication: Interpretive, Interpersonal and Presentational. The proficiency benchmarks by grade band chart clarifies what proficiencies are appropriate for each grade band. The curricular connections for the three modes of communication charts can be used to determine if a curriculum is adequately implementing the NJSLS-WL.

Language of Instruction

All world language performance expectations are achieved in a language other than English. At a minimum, students use the target language to:

- Communicate and interact in culturally appropriate ways.
- Investigate cultural products (e.g. books, tools, foods, laws, music, games etc.) and practices (e.g. patterns of social interactions around making an apology, greeting someone etc.) to learn about cultural perspectives (e.g. meanings, attitudes, values, ideas etc.).
- Make connections and comparisons between a learner’s culture and the cultures being studied.

World Languages education includes:

- World language programs where content and instruction are delivered in a language other than English for a designated time during the school day
- Heritage language programs where a content area (e.g. social studies) is delivered in a language other than English for a designated time during the school day
- Dual language immersion programs where literacy and content instruction are delivered through two languages
 - At the elementary level, at least 50% of the school day is spent learning in a language other than English.
 - At the secondary level, at least 30% of the school day is spent learning in a language other than English.

Proficiency Benchmarks by Grade Band

The proficiency benchmarks in the 2020 NJSLS—World Language for each grade band are as follows.

Proficiency Benchmark	Notes	Grade Band	Look For Performance expectation begins with...	Evidence of Non-Compliance
Novice Low	n/a	End of Grade 2	7.1.NL.	n/a
Novice Mid	n/a	End of Grade 5	7.1.NM.	7.1.NL. or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels
Novice Mid	If a new language is started in middle school	End of Grade 8	7.1.NM.	7.1.NL. or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels
Novice High	If a language is continued from elementary school	End of Grade 8	7.1.NH.	7.1.NL., 7.1.NM., or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels
Novice High	If a new language is started in high school	End of Grade 12	7.1.NH.	7.1.NL., 7.1.NM., or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels
Intermediate Low	Depending on when the language was started and the type of language program	End of Grade 12	7.1.IL.	Lower proficiency levels or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels
Intermediate Mid	Depending on when the language was started and the type of language program	End of Grade 12	7.1.IM.	Lower proficiency levels or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels

Proficiency Benchmark	Notes	Grade Band	Look For Performance expectation begins with...	Evidence of Non-Compliance
Intermediate High	Depending on when the language was started and the type of language program	End of Grade 12	7.1.IH.	Lower proficiency levels or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels
Advanced Low	Depending on when the language was started and the type of language program	End of Grade 12	7.1.AL.	Lower proficiency levels or mixing of performance expectations from multiple proficiency levels

Heritage Language Programs

There is likely to be a range of proficiency levels within a class and across modes of communication based on diagnostic data.

Dual Language Immersion Programs

Student proficiency levels will be higher than the proficiency benchmarks outlined in the 2020 NJSL-S-WL.

Curricular Connections for the Three Modes of Communication

All three modes of communication should be present in a grade level curriculum. The tables below outline examples that may be found in various parts of the curriculum and possible evidence of non-compliance.

Interpretive Mode

Interpreting meaning from listening, viewing, and reading culturally authentic materials in the target language (the language being learned) and for students to demonstrate their understanding (NJSLS—World Languages, page 4).

Note: Authentic resources are created by members of a language and culture group for members of the same language and culture group. Authentic resources are not: materials created for the specific purpose of helping students learn a language nor translated material.

Examples in Activities and Assessments	Content Should Include (NJSLS—World Languages, NCSSFL-ACTFL Can Do Statements, High Leverage Teaching Practices)	Evidence of Non-Compliance
• Listen to, View/Watch, Read fictional and informational materials and culturally authentic fictional and informational materials in the target language. • Demonstrate understanding by: ○ Identifying ○ Recognizing ○ Inferring ○ Interpreting ○ Analyzing ○ Reacting ○ Showing ○ Locating ○ Using graphic organizers to compare and organize.	• Meaningful and relevant context/content is evident in theme and essential question(s) in curriculum • Authentic materials/resources contributing to the theme and essential question(s) in curriculum	• Leans predominately on materials created for language learners or teacher created materials with few to no culturally authentic fictional and informational materials • Few to no opportunities for students to demonstrate what they understood during or after what they listened to, viewed, and read • Isolated skills (e.g. numbers 1–10, alphabet, weather, etc.)

Resources

Interpersonal Mode

Face-to-face interaction requires students to engage in direct oral and/or written communication with people where there is an exchange of information and a negotiation of meaning (NJSLS—World Languages, page 4).

Note: People are peers, New Jersey certified teachers, community members and people in target culture communities. People are not: computer/app-based programs or AI technologies.

Examples in Activities and Assessments	Content Should Include (NJSLS—World Languages, NCSSFL-ACTFL Can Do Statements, High Leverage Teaching Practices)	Evidence of Non-Compliance
• Face-to-face conversation • Participate in online discussions or video conferences. • Instant messaging and text messaging • Exchange personal letters, e-mail, or messages.	• Meaningful and relevant context/content is evident in theme and essential question(s) in curriculum. • Spontaneous communication • Negotiation of meaning (e.g. ask clarifying questions, navigating mistakes in comprehension and comprehensibility) • The purpose of interpersonal communication is at least one of the following: ○ Exchange information and ideas (e.g. exchange information about things to do in my town; collaborate online with my partner to identify ways to conserve water). ○ Meet my needs or address situations (e.g. say that I am hungry, cold, tired and ask others; interact with potential buyers to answer questions about an item I am selling online). ○ Express, react to and support preferences and opinions (e.g. say if I feel well, so-so, or sick; justify opinions about current trends in music in an online conversation).	• Memorize conversations, skits, plays. • Present / Presentation • Computer program/app based curricula • Lists of isolated questions or a series of questions to ask/answer • Isolated skills (e.g. numbers 1–10, alphabet, weather, etc.)

Presentational Mode

Students present, orally and/or in writing, information, concepts, and ideas on a variety of topics to an audience of listeners or readers with whom there is no immediate interaction (NJSLS—World Languages, page 5).

Examples in Activities and Assessments	Content Should Include (NJSLS—World Languages, NCSSFL-ACTFL Can Do Statements, High Leverage Teaching Practices)	Evidence of Non-Compliance
Present to an in class and/or external audience orally and/or in writing.	• Meaningful and relevant context/content is evident in theme and essential question(s) in curriculum • Practiced and revised communication • The purpose of presentational communication is at least one of the following orally and/or in writing: ○ Narrate about own life, experiences, and events. (e.g. present your family, create a story based on the image(s)). ○ Give preferences, opinions, and persuasive arguments. (e.g. tell where you like to go in your community, provide reasons someone should change their screentime habits). ○ Inform, describe, and explain. (e.g. name/label products related to climate change, present information about a cultural event that is important to you).	• Spontaneous spoken or written conversations • Q & A • Isolated skills (e.g. numbers 1–10, alphabet, weather, etc.)

Comprehensive Health and Physical Education Support Document

(I&P—Indicator 14)

The following information highlights features of a K–12 health and physical education curriculum that would demonstrate compliance with the 2020 New Jersey Student Learning Standards-Comprehensive Health and Physical Education (NJSLS-CHPE). The curriculum should be reflective of the legislative mandates, content, and practices identified in the NJSLS-CHPE.

Time Devoted to Courses in Comprehensive Health, Safety, and Physical Education

N.J.S.A. 18A: 35-8

Such courses shall aggregate at least two and one-half hours in each school week, or proportionately less when holidays fall within the week.

K–12 Comprehensive Health and Physical Education Practices

The following habits of the mind and skill requisition are embedded throughout the NJSLS-CHPE and should be identifiable throughout the K–12 curriculum. Implementation of the Practices may be observed in connection with unit topics, lessons, and assessments.

- Acting as a responsible and contributing member of society
- Building and maintaining healthy relationships
- Communicating clearly and effectively (verbal and nonverbal)
- Resolving conflict
- Attending to personal health, emotional, social, and physical well-being
- Engaging in an active lifestyle
- Making decisions
- Managing self
- Setting goals
- Using technology tools responsibly

Common Errors in CHPE Implementation

Health, Safety, and Physical Education are required by law, and a graduation requirement in grades 9–12 therefore classes may not be substituted.

The following is evidence of non-compliance:

- Substituting/Utilizing recess or “brain breaks” for health and physical education
- Substituting/Utilizing ROTC, Dance, and/or Athletics for Health and Physical Education.
- Lacking a coherent K–12 CHPE curriculum that includes all of the disciplinary concepts, core ideas, and performance expectations

Note: There are no substitutes for Health, Safety, and Physical Education.

Legislative Mandates

The 2020 NJSLS for Comprehensive Health and Physical Education was designed to incorporate the requirements articulated in the various legislative mandates. The following table identifies the performance expectations in alignment with the specific legislation listed in alphabetical order.

Time devoted to the courses in Comprehensive Health, Safety, and Physical Education N.J.S.A. 18A: 35-5. Requires each board of education shall conduct as a part of the instruction in the public schools' courses in health, safety, and physical education, which courses shall be adapted to the ages and capabilities of the pupils in the several grades and Departments. N.J.S.A. 18A: 35-7. The time devoted to such courses shall aggregate at least two and one-half hours in each school week, or proportionately less when holidays fall within the week N.J.S.A. 18A: 35-8. By teaching the identified performance expectations and corresponding core ideas and disciplinary concepts districts may demonstrate that they have met the legislative mandate.

Visual and Performing Arts Support Document (Instruction and Program—Indicator 15)

The following highlights features of a K–12 visual and performing arts curriculum that would demonstrate compliance with the 2020 New Jersey Student Learning Standards for Visual and Performing Arts (NJSLS-VPA).

The 2020 NJSLS-VPA standards are focused on developing artistic literacy and fluency. This is accomplished by engaging students in the cognitive and physical actions of artistic processes and practices within K–12 sequential instruction. The standards also emphasize student-centered approaches by connecting a student’s personal experience, background, and interests to the content.

The four artistic processes of Creating, Performing/Presenting/Producing, Responding, and Connecting are the same across all five arts disciplines and all grade bands. The artistic processes are interconnected and should be present in each curricular unit of instruction. Performance expectations from each of the processes should be present to ensure students are learning about the art discipline and actively engaging with the practices. Though the processes are listed in the same order for each discipline, they are not hierarchical and may be arranged in any order in a curriculum unit.

Eleven anchor standards are derived from and aligned to one of the four artistic processes. The anchor standards are parallel across disciplines and describe the general knowledge and skills students will demonstrate throughout their education in the arts. Included in each anchor standard are discipline-specific enduring understandings, essential questions, and practices. The anchor standards and the components may be indicated in curricula or curriculum units.

Essential Components of VPA K–12 Curriculum

Standard Indicators and Disciplines	Four Artistic Processes	Eleven Anchor Standards
• 1.1 Dance • 1.2 Media Arts • 1.3A General Music • 1.4 Theatre • 1.5 Visual Arts	• Creating • Performing/Presenting/Producing • Responding • Connecting	• Organized by artistic processes • Parallel across disciplines • Identify general knowledge and skills students are to demonstrate • Contain enduring understandings, essential questions, practices, and performance expectations that vary by discipline

Elementary (K–5)

Elementary Curriculum (Grade Bands K–2 and 3–5)

Requirements	Evidence of Compliance	Evidence of Non-Compliance
- Participation in all five arts disciplines - At least one course available for each arts discipline	- Curriculum is present for at least one course in each of the five disciplines. - Curriculum includes corresponding grade-band performance expectations.	- Missing curriculum for one or more discipline - Missing some or all performance expectations for one or more arts disciplines
Dance curriculum is separate from the Physical Education curriculum.	Dance curriculum includes only the 2020 NJSL-VPA.	Dance is only integrated into the Physical Education curriculum.
Curriculum units have at least one performance expectation from each artistic process.	Four Artistic Processes: - Creating (Cr) Ex: 1.1.2.Cr2b - Performing/Presenting/Producing (Pr) Ex: 1.2.5.Pr4a - Responding (Re) Ex: 1.3A.2.Re7a - Connecting (Cn) Ex: 1.5.8.Cn110a	Curriculum units only include 1, 2, or 3 of the 4 artistic processes.
Students develop artistic literacy and fluency through opportunities to connect their background, experiences, and interests to the art disciplines.	Assessments include the following: - Artistic processes and practices (see page 7, 2020 NJSL-VPA) - Demonstrate knowledge of discipline-specific elements and vocabulary. Examples include critiques, artist statements, establishing criteria for selection, and explanation of performances or artworks - Creation of works connected to the students' interests, background, and experiences	- Assessments only include evidence of students learning about the arts discipline, not physically engaging in the art. - Assessment lacks opportunity for student choice.

Options to specialize in an arts discipline of choice	• More than one course is offered for each arts discipline. • Standards-aligned curriculum is present for each course.	Only single grade or grade-band level courses are available for each discipline.
Options for specialization in music with sequential courses. (See page 3, 2020 NJSLS-VPA)	Two additional sub-disciplines for music: Ensembles and Harmonizing Instruments. Music sub-disciplines have proficiency levels of Novice and Intermediate. See the proficiency level chart.	• Only novice proficiency levels are listed. • Only one course level is present for music sub-disciplines.
Dance curriculum is separate from Physical Education curriculum.	Dance curriculum includes only the 2020 NJSLS-VPA.	Dance is only integrated in the Physical Education curriculum.

Requirements	Evidence of Compliance	Evidence of Non-Compliance
- Students achieve competency in their chosen discipline. - Curriculum builds on K–5 foundation.	Assessments include the following: - Artistic processes and practices (see page 7, 2020 NJSLS-VPA) - Knowledge of discipline-specific elements and vocabulary. Examples include critiques, artist statements, establishing criteria for selection, and explanation of performances or artworks - Creation of works connected to the students’ interests, background, and experiences - Evidence of students working toward independence in the creation of artworks and/or performances	Assessment topics or themes are restricted to a single way students can demonstrate their knowledge.

NJSAC Academic Progress Score Conversion Chart

Median Student Growth Percentile is one of many evaluation components in the New Jersey Quality Single Accountability Continuum (NJSAC). This approach is similar to the mSGP conversion method used in the AchieveNJ system, although the scale and point allocation differ in the NJSAC application to account for NJSAC Academic Progress Score distribution properties (i.e., mSGP distribution properties at the school district level).

The NJSAC Academic Progress Score (calculated based on the methodology in the NJSAC User Manual) is converted to the NJSAC Points Multiplier using the following table, below.

The number of NJSAC points earned is determined by applying the NJSAC Points Multiplier to the maximum value of the indicator. These points are included with other components to tabulate the final rating for the Instruction and Program Indicator.

To promote transparency and an understanding of how districts earn NJSAC points, the Department has provided the following table. The table is also available online: NJSAC Academic Progress Score Conversion.
