Foreword

This handbook provides guidance on collecting and submitting data to the New Jersey Department of Education's (NJDOE) statewide longitudinal education data system (SLEDs). It outlines the required format and specifies the data elements that must be collected. The NJDOE will compile this information into a standardized dataset for various essential purposes.

- Complying with federal and state requirements
- Ensuring that each school district receives the funding it is entitled to
- Identifying trends and areas of focus for future initiatives

The Performance Reports Submission Handbook is intended to support the collection of school and district narratives along with other required information for the NJ School Performance Reports.

The handbook provides definitions and standards for educational data, ensuring that performance report elements are uniform, consistent, and easy to understand, as quality information relies on these elements.

How to use this handbook

This handbook is a valuable resource to share with your data provider or in-house data administrator to ensure that the information you receive from them matches the data requirements set by the NJDOE.

Submitting accurate data now minimizes future errors, thereby saving time and effort later.

Executive Summary

The growing need for comprehensive, accurate, timely data on our state's schools, staff, and students calls for a technology-based solution that can provide better information to all stakeholders, simplify complicated data reporting requirements, and increase administrative efficiency. The NJ statewide longitudinal education data system was created to meet this need.

The system enables compliance with the increasingly intensive regulatory requirements driven by Federal and State legislation. The system also provides the data that helps drive improvements and monitor progress toward key goals and ensures that our state's educational institutions receive the funding they need to continue to meet the needs of New Jersey's students.

Periodically, schools are asked to provide specific data sets to ensure that the information in the system remains timely and up to date. This handbook is designed to support administrators and their partners as they gather and submit this information to the system.

Data Elements and Definitions

This Performance Reports Submission Handbook includes data elements that are currently collected and maintained by schools, districts, and the NJDOE. Not all data elements are relevant to each LEA (e.g., School Climate). It is important to understand how each definition is implemented. In those situations, where the implementation of a definition is not clear it should be reported to NJSLEDS so that a collaborative resolution can be reached.

The following information is provided for each data element in the Performance Reports Submission Handbook:

- Name of Data Element: The data element name used within the NJSLEDS system.
- Definition of Data Elements: A brief description of the data element.
- Functional, Policy or Legal Description: The rationale for collecting the data element, and how the data element will be used. Other policy and legal implications for its collection.
- Is This Data Element Required?: Indication of whether the data element is required for file submission.
- Acceptable Values: Indication of the data type, minimum and maximum number of characters permitted, and lists values and ranges accepted for each element.
- Validation Checks: Specific data validation that will occur with respect to each data element.
- Additional Notes: Additional relevant notes about the data element.
