I was sad to hear that the energy efficiency program through PDE&G that would have allowed our non-profit agency to receive discounted/free energy upgrades has been discontinued. As an agency that delivers services to victims of domestic violence, people reentering society, and those suffering from chronic disease, offering shelter and transitional housing is a critical component of helping them to become more stable and self-sufficient. When valuable dollars are spent on utilities that could have been avoided through making improvements to our energy efficiency, these are funds diverted away from direct services to our clients.

Please do what you can to reinstate this funding so organizations like ours can afford to make the improvements that will benefit our clients long into the future.

Sincerely,

Julie Hanley, LSW
