Written comments for the State of New Jersey's new energy master plan:

Based on my own experience over recent years and the available scientific research, the data indicates that we have very little time, perhaps only ten years, to dramatically reduce greenhouse gas emissions in order to avoid a climate catastrophe.

It is imperative that not add more fossil fuel plants and pipelines not only in New Jersey, but in the United States as a whole.

I implore the State of New Jersey to include in the new energy master plan that a moratorium on new fossil fuel projects be implemented immediately.
