

Announcement of 2022 Challenge Winner

---

For the 2021-2022 flu season, the New Jersey Department of Health (NJDOH) Vaccine Preventable Disease Program (VPDP) continued the fifth annual New Jersey College & University Flu Challenge.

The Challenge aims to increase awareness surrounding the importance of flu vaccination for students attending facilities of higher education. Young adults have been shown to have lower flu immunization coverage rates as compared to other age groups.

The winners of the Challenge were determined based on the highest percentage of students self-reporting that they received the flu vaccine for the current flu season. We are happy to announce the winners of this year's Challenge: The College of New Jersey (large schools), Seton Hall University (medium schools), and Centenary University (small schools).

Congratulations to all the participants! If your school is interested in participating in the 2023 Flu Challenge, please click the button to the right to enroll. If you have any questions or comments, please contact the Vaccine Preventable Disease Program by calling 609-826-4861, or via email at HigherEdVax@doh.nj.gov.