When NOT to Travel

Tip: getting trip cancellation insurance can help in the event of a last minute cancellation or itinerary change without losing money.

Do not travel if you or anyone you are traveling with:

- Is sick with symptoms of COVID-19

- Have suspected or diagnosed COVID-19 (even if no symptoms are currently present)

- Have been around someone with suspected or confirmed COVID-19 within the last 14 days, even if they did not experience symptoms (unless you have recovered from COVID-19 within the past three months or are up to date on your COVID-19 vaccines).

- Please note: State, local, and territorial authorities are able to restrict travel of those infected or exposed, as may the CDC.

Continue practicing preventive measures to protect yourself and others.

- It is recommended to keep your mask on while traveling

- Currently masks are required while using public transportation and at transportation hubs, such as an airport.

- Wash your hands frequently

- If traveling internationally, please take into account that all air passengers coming to the United States, including U.S. citizens and fully vaccinated people, are required to have a negative COVID-19 test result or documentation of recovery from COVID-19 before boarding a flight to the United States.
