

A. Accreditations

William Paterson University has been continuously accredited by the Middle States Commission, the region's accrediting body for colleges and universities, since 1958. The high quality of our academic programs is evidenced by the national accreditations held by many of them. The number of academic programs earning professional accreditation continues to increase. This past year two departments were awarded prestigious accreditations: the Art Department's programs received NASAD accreditation and the Computer Science program earned ABET accreditation.

The following is a list of all the accreditations for the University's programs.
