2. Other - Agreements with Other Colleges and Universities

Kean Ocean

Kean University and Ocean County College (OCC) continue their partnership (established in 2006) to provide higher education in Ocean County beyond the level of the associate's degree. Students completing their associate's degree can continue on to earn their Kean bachelor's degree with Kean courses offered on the OCC campus. Kean also offers several master's degrees at OCC for those already holding a bachelor's degree.

Kean bachelor's degrees are being offered at OCC in Accounting, Biology, Computer Science, Criminal Justice, English, Finance, Graphic Design, History, Management Science, Marketing, Nursing, Psychology, Public Administration, and Sociology along with Elementary, Secondary, and Special Education as well as Physical Education and Health. Students who have already completed their associate's degrees have their OCC courses evaluated on a case-by-case basis and matched as closely as possible to the requirements for Kean degrees. Students newly entering OCC follow in advance detailed program guide sheets that specify the exact OCC courses to take for fulfilling the requirements of both their OCC associate's degrees and their Kean bachelor's degrees.

Kean is also offering master's degrees at OCC in Counselor Education (with State certification for school counseling) and Educational Leadership (with State certification for supervisor and principal) as well as in Nursing (also the certificate option), Public Administration (standard and non-profit options), Business Administration (the Executive and Global MBA program options) and the Master's in Social Work.

More Kean programs are continuously being added, and Kean is building a full campus of its own immediately adjacent to the OCC campus. Construction of the first building of this campus is now underway, with occupancy scheduled for October of 2012. Until then, Kean classes are being held in OCC classrooms, and Kean provides administrative, academic, and student services both with its own staff and through cooperative arrangements with OCC offices providing equivalent services.

Kean China

The Chinese Ministry of Education has approved the development of a branch campus of Kean University in Wenzhou, China. After a one year assessment and a follow up review a final decision will be made by the Chinese authorities. Kean University is required to obtain approval from the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and other U.S. authorities before a final commitment is made. The campus is to be created and sustained in a two year pilot program with the Wenzhou municipal government, which will fully underwrite all costs for the campus, and with Wenzhou University. Officially designated for the next two years as "Wenzhou-Kean University (in preparation)," the campus is to be designed for and built upon a scenic site of 175 acres with facilities to accommodate 10,000 full-time residential students. An initial class of 500 students will be admitted (into what will then be Wenzhou-Kean University proper) for the Fall semester of 2014.

To facilitate the success of the endeavor, Kean University will establish a preliminary physical presence in Wenzhou through traditional international-study and student-exchange programs with Wenzhou University (sending Kean students from Union for a semester of study at Wenzhou University) and through three pilot programs (in Accounting, Computer Science, and English) offered to a small group of Chinese students (up to 200) admitted through a special joint project of Wenzhou University and Kean University. These students will complete slightly less than half of their Kean baccalaureate programs with Kean courses offered on the campus of Wenzhou University for the next two years. In 2014, they will have the option of completing their baccalaureate studies at the newly opened Wenzhou-Kean University site or at the Kean University campus in the U. S. Kean will submit its application for the substantive change of the branch campus at the first opportunity allowed by the Middle States Commission.

Articulation Agreements

A major goal of Higher Education in the State of New Jersey is to have all colleges and universities make it possible for students to transfer (articulate) from one college to another for the purpose of completing a program of study or degree as expeditiously as possible. In addition to special programs with other colleges and universities, Kean University honors the State of New Jersey's Transfer Legislation (Lampitt Bill) policy, the new statewide transfer legislation and accompanying implementation agreement, and continues to work with the two-year college sector through the articulation meetings and biannual Two-Year/Four-Year meetings and related conferences. Students graduating from a New Jersey State county college with an A.A. or A.S. degree may be admitted as juniors provided that all transfer admission requirements and related course prerequisites have been met. It is important to note that full transferability of credits depends on a student keeping the same major as they had at the county college. Please note: All lower division General Education requirements are considered completed with the A.A. or A.S. degree, unless one or more of the required courses are prerequisites for additional coursework. A.A.S. degrees are not covered by the legislation.

Kean University has joint degree programs in Health Information Management, Physical Assistant, Pre-Physical Therapy, Clinical Lab Science (CLS) Medical Lab Science and CLS Cytotechnology with the University of Medicine and Dentistry (UMDNJ) in Newark. Students complete the general education requirements at Kean and then apply to UMDNJ for the professional phase of the program. Upon completion, students receive a joint bachelor's degree from Kean University and UMDNJ.

Kean University's New Jersey Center for Science, Technology and Mathematics (NJCSTM) has multiple articulation agreements and interested persons must apply thru NJCSTM. There is an articulation agreement with Raritan Valley Community College whereby candidates for the associates degree in biotechnology can apply to transition with junior status into the NJCSTM five year bachelor/master degree scientist-research track.

NJCSTM with Drexel University College of Medicine and St. Peter's University Hospital have a partnership offering a 4 + 4 Bachelor of Science/Medical Degree (B.S./M.D.) Scholars Program. Students in this B.S./M.D. Scholars Program embark on an integrated study of chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics in their freshman and sophomore year, and then continue with upper level coursework concentrating in the biomedical sciences, including a pre-professional internship in junior and senior years where they experience medicine alongside physicians at St. Peter's University Hospital in New Brunswick, NJ. This is a flat rate tuition program and upon completing the B.S. in Science & Technology degree, persons must enter the first year medical school class at Drexel College of Medicine. Medical students return to St. Peter's University Hospital for at least one third year clerkship and at least one fourth year rotation.

NJCSTM offers an exciting opportunity for students wishing to pursue careers in engineering science. Kean University and the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) have partnered to offer the Engineer Science Scholars Program to highly qualified undergraduate students. Students in this program who meet all the requirements while in college are awarded the B.S. in Science & Technology / Engineering Science degree from NJCSTM at Kean University then complete their Master's degree in The College of Engineering at NJIT's Newark NJ Campus.

The following is a list of colleges with which Kean University has made articulation agreements:

Atlantic Cape Community College	Mercer County College
Brookdale Community College	Ocean County College
Camden County College	Passaic County Community College
County College Of Morris	Raritan Valley Community College
Essex County College	Southern New Jersey CIM Consortium
Hudson County College	Union County College
Middlesex County College	Warren County Community College

Joint Admission Agreements

Students from New Jersey County Colleges, that have signed joint admission agreements, may be admitted to Kean University by the respective county college. The admission is to the University, not to a major program.

The program is designed to strengthen the academic and support partnership between the two-year college sector and Kean University. Agreements have been signed with:

Brookdale Community College	Ocean County College
County College of Morris	Passaic County Community College
Essex County College	Raritan Valley Community College
Hudson County College	Union County College
Middlesex County College

Partnership Agreements

Partnership agreements are aimed at establishing ties of friendship and cooperation for the purpose of promoting mutual understanding through academic, cultural, scientific, student and personnel exchanges. Partnership agreements have been signed with:

University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey
New York College of Podiatric Medicine, New York
Drexel University College of Medicine

Kean University and the Union County Vocational and Technical School Academy for Performing Arts (UCVTS) have established a dual-enrollment partnership, allowing students from the Academy to complete their senior year of high school and freshman year of college simultaneously, enrolling in a full college course load. Partnerships with other career academies at UCVTS in Design and in Education are in the process of being developed.

Off-Site Degree Programs

The College of Natural and Applied Science offers the Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program off-site at Raritan Community College, Middlesex County College, Bergen Community College and a branch location at Ocean County Community College.
