Atlantic Cape Community College is a comprehensive, student-centered institution of higher education that prepares students to live and work in the 21st Century – an increasingly culturally diverse society, where technology is used in all areas of life and where modern communications has made us all citizens of the world. Accordingly, we offer the residents of Atlantic and Cape May counties, and others, associate degrees, liberal arts transfer programs, certificate programs and a wide range of technical training and courses for professional and personal growth. We provide access to these courses and programs by maintaining a moderate tuition rate, pursuing open admissions and affirmative action policies, and offering developmental programs and other support services. We respond to the economic, social, academic, cultural, and workforce needs of a diverse constituency by working in partnership with other schools, business and industry, and government. Atlantic Cape Community College and its employees serve the community by providing educational and support services that encourage students to pursue academic excellence, professional growth, and high ethical standards throughout their lives.

Mission Statement

- Atlantic Cape Community College creates opportunity by providing access to superior educational programs.
In 1947, the President's Commission of Higher Education brought the concept of the community-centered school into reality. The community college movement gained momentum throughout the United States during the 1950s as the student population accelerated its growth in the years following World War II.

In Atlantic County, various groups urged that a college be established in this area with the goals of providing an educational service to the entire community and discovering and developing individual talents at low cost with easy access. The Citizens' Centennial Committee on Adult Education for Atlantic City was instrumental in stimulating interest in a local college. The efforts of such groups, combined with those of educators, legislators and individuals, resulted in the passage of the New Jersey County College Act, which established county colleges in 1962.

Following the passage of the New Jersey County College Act, a special committee of County Freeholders and educators prepared a study that showed the need for such an institution in Atlantic County. In December 1963, the New Jersey Department of Education granted approval for the establishment of Atlantic Community College which became the second community college to be organized by the state on April 14, 1964.

The site for the college was selected on November 19, 1964, and official ground-breaking ceremonies for its nine-building complex in Mays Landing were held in November 1966. Atlantic Community College opened its doors to students in September 1966 using facilities rented from Atlantic City High School. In February 1968, the college moved to its present campus on the Black Horse Pike (U.S. Route 322) in Mays Landing. In the spring of 1982, major work was completed on a two-year, $7 million expansion project. This project included two new buildings, expanded student service facilities, the Academy of Culinary Arts and additional classroom and office space. In 2009-2010, the College renovated the gymnasium locker rooms and added a state-of-the-art fitness center for students and staff. In 2013, the College began construction of a Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math building on the Mays Landing Campus.

In that same year, the former Atlantic City Electric Company building, located in Atlantic City, was purchased by Atlantic County for the college. By 1984, a $4 million renovation project transformed the aging building into a beautiful modern facility housing the Casino Career Institute (CCI). CCI was the country's first gaming school affiliated with an institution of higher education. A second major renovation was completed in 2008. This renovation houses the Health Professions Institute in 9,000 square feet of previously underutilized space. Construction on the Caesars Entertainment Wing for Hospitality and Gaming Studies began in 2013 to bring the College's renowned culinary and hospitality training to Atlantic City. The College's Atlantic City Campus was renamed in memory of Atlantic County's first county executive, Charles D. Worthington, in April 2001. Mr. Worthington was involved with the College, first as chairperson of its Educational Opportunity Fund Advisory Board and then as Atlantic County Executive in supporting the establishment of many college programs and the development of the Atlantic City Campus.

The William J. Spangler Library on the Mays Landing campus was expanded and renovated in 1990, adding a mezzanine level, a computer lab with space for more than 90 personal computers, faculty and administrative offices, small study/meeting rooms, a classroom/meeting room and typing, video and audio tape rooms.

The Academy of Culinary Arts expanded facility, which opened in October 1991, features more than 28,250 square feet of space. The entrance opens to an atrium lobby. The building provides teaching kitchens, classrooms, a 90-seat gourmet restaurant, service and storage areas, and administrative and faculty offices.

Since 1973, the college has been the main provider of community college education to Cape May County residents. For many years, Cape May County officials studied ways to bring better higher educational opportunities to its residents.

In July 1995, the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education declined Cape May County's request for an independent college and recommended that it enter into a partnership with a neighboring community college, citing such benefits of a joint college as a larger population base, economies of scale, immediate availability and accreditation of curricula, and elimination of duplication of efforts and costs.

Cape May County requested jointure proposals in February 1997. As a result, on January 1, 1999, Atlantic Community College officially became a joint college encompassing Atlantic and Cape May counties. The Board of Trustees approved a new name for the joint college: Atlantic Cape Community College (Atlantic Cape) in February 1999. The Cape May County Campus (CMCC) opened in August 2005. The 68,000-square-foot facility features a brick façade and two wings that house an information commons that includes a combination library and computer lab; a 100-seat lecture hall; a cafeteria; and 19 classrooms—including chemistry and biology labs, three academic computer labs, two continuing education computer labs and one distance education classroom. In addition, Atlantic Cape provides support services facilities, including counseling, testing, tutoring and financial aid offices as well as administrative offices at CMCC.

F. CHARACTERISTICS OF THE TRUSTEES

The Atlantic Cape Community College Board of Trustees is made up of fifteen (15) members. By statute, seven (7) members are appointed by the County Executive of Atlantic County with the approval of the Freeholders, and three (3) members are appointed by the Cape May County Board of Chosen Freeholders. The Executive Atlantic County Superintendent of Schools (1) and Executive Cape May County Superintendent of Schools (1) are members of the Board by statute. The Governor appoints two (2) members, one from each county. One (1) non-voting alumnus member from Atlantic or Cape May County is elected for a one-year term by each year’s graduating class. The current Board membership includes ten Caucasian males, three Caucasian females, and one Hispanic female. They are active in aviation, education, healthcare, utilities, public service, law, media, real estate and community businesses.

The Board sets policy and has final authority over budgets and expenditures, and the President is responsible for internal administrative operations. The most important function of the Board is the selection, evaluation and retention of the college president. The current president is under contract, with retention and contract renewal contingent on performance/evaluation guidelines established by the Board. The Board sets the policies and procedures for the college.

Board members participate in national, state and local civic professional organizations as well as political and charitable organizations. Members understand the community college mission and the legal and fiscal duties stipulated in state statutes and state board of education regulations. They are active outside regular Board meetings, participating in legislative action relevant to community colleges.

I. MAJOR CAPITAL PROJECTS

Atlantic Cape Community College is now six years into its facilities master plan, Blue Print 2020, and continues progress towards its implementation as follows.

Mays Landing Campus

Major projects at the Mays Landing Campus included in the college’s facilities master plan Blue Print 2020 that have been completed are: Campus HVAC system renovations and replacements, renovations to J building and the Information Commons, the cleaning and re-sealing of the exteriors of all buildings, upgrade of campus lighting, and the renovation of the gymnasium into a full-service fitness center.

Currently ongoing construction project at Mays Landing is the $16 million Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) building. This state-of-the-art 32,475 square feet building, the centerpiece of Blue Print 2020 Master Plan, will be eligible for LEED Silver certification for its “green” design, and is expected be completed by Fall 2014. The building will feature science labs, computer labs, office space and a partially vegetated roof with walkways. The building also will be home to the air traffic control and aviation studies degree programs and the Technology Studies Institute.

Rutgers and Atlantic Cape marked a milestone in their 6-year-old partnership with the construction by Rutgers of a 22,000-square-foot academic building on Atlantic Cape’s Mays Landing Campus. Through this initiative, Atlantic Cape’s students and other members of South Jersey communities will have the opportunity to locally attend Rutgers to obtain their bachelor’s or master’s degree program. The new $7.5 million building, known as the Rutgers Lifelong Learning Center, Q Building, has 12 classrooms, including nine state-of-the-art “smart” classrooms, two distance-learning classrooms and a 175-seat multi-purpose room that can be divided into two classrooms. It also houses a 24-seat student computer lab, a student lounge and administrative offices.

With funds for State-approved projects through the recent general obligation bond program, a student center is planned for construction in late 2014. Both student activities as well as student success programs will take place in this building. In addition, the renovation of the main academic building as well as technology infrastructure upgrades were also approved for funding.

Worthington Atlantic City Campus

An expansion project was completed in Spring 2008 of the Worthington Atlantic City Campus (WACC). The expansion houses the Health Professions Institute which, in conjunction with local hospitals and the Atlantic Cape Workforce Investment Board, trains workers for high demand jobs in healthcare. The 9,000-square-foot expansion includes science and computer labs, classrooms and a large lecture room.

In 2009, renovations have enhanced WACC’s branch campus status, which includes a cafeteria, information commons, bookstore, student life center and bake shop. The college now offers all courses required for many degree programs.
In 2010, the conceptual design and programming for a Hospitality Studies wing was completed. It was presented to the Casino Reinvestment Development Authority for project approval and matching funds. Both Atlantic County and the CRDA have provided $5 million each for the project. The approved project will incorporate teaching kitchens, a simulated casino floor and computer labs. The design was completed in 2011. Construction began in late 2012 with completion expected to be in Spring of 2014.

With funding from the State’s bond program, a portion of the building will be renovated in mid-2014 to include the Student Success Center.

Cape May County Campus

The campus has expanded its irrigation system to include a connection with the county’s utilities authority to allow the use of recycled water. The final connection was completed by the Fall of 2012.

With funding from the State’s bond program, a portion of the building will be renovated in mid-2014 to include the Student Success Center.
