D. Student Outcomes

1. Graduation Rates
   a. Two-Year Graduation Rate

This is an additional category requested by NJ Higher Education. Previously, community colleges have been required to report graduation rates within 150% of the catalog time; in other words, a three-year graduation rate. According to the data reported for the 2011 cohort, there were 631 entering first-time, full-time, degree-seeking freshmen. After two years, 48 students (7.6%) completed degrees or certificates. In addition, after three years, 23 percent completed degrees or certificates and 11.7 percent transferred prior to receiving degrees or certificates.

According to the Student Right to Know data for the Fall 2011 entering cohort, another 19 percent of students were still enrolled at the college as of Fall 2014 and 25 percent left in good standing with a GPA of 2.00 or above. The total number of students who graduated, transferred prior to graduation, remained enrolled, or left in good standing was 79 percent.

b. Three-year Graduation and Transfer Rates by Race/Ethnicity

Three-year graduation and transfer rates include the number of entering first-time, full-time, degree-seeking freshmen who entered the college in the Fall of a specific year and three years later either received a degree or certificate or transferred to another institution prior to receiving a degree.

2. a. Third Semester Retention Rates for Entering First-time Students by Attendance Status

Previously, the Retention Rate data requested by NJ Higher Education included data by race/ethnicity. For the current Institutional Profile, NJ Higher Education has requested retention data for full-time and part-time students. H. Major Research and Public Service Activities

During the 2014-2015 academic year, the College offered the following types of selected research and public service activities.

Selected Research and Professional Activities

The research and professional development activities of the College involve participation in discipline-related associations, presentations of papers at regional and national conferences, evaluation of existing programs, development of new courses and programs, involvement in development workshops, and participation in grants-related activities. During 2014-2015 faculty and staff also were actively involved in evaluating and revising existing curricula and courses and developing new programs.

In 2014-15, a proposal was submitted to the U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) and $1.4 million in funding was secured for five more years of the federally-funded Student Support Services program. In addition, a proposal was developed and submitted to the USDOE’s Title V—Hispanic Serving Institutions program for $2.65 million in funding over five years. If awarded to CCC, a Title V grant would enable the institution to continue and improve student success initiatives that began under the College’s Title III grant, which expires on Sept. 30, 2015, while focusing on the advisement, coaching, support and degree completion of Hispanic students. These students currently comprise 29% of CCC’s enrollment, a percentage that has grown for five consecutive years and is expected to continue its upward trend.

Equipment purchases under the state’s Equipment Leasing Fund grant were completed in 2014-15; notable acquisitions include Smart Boards for conference rooms and classrooms and a major technology upgrade for Lecture Hall 1. This new system allows instructors to record and capture lecture sessions for posting to the Internet, to support on-demand learning; videoconferencing with external groups; and live streaming to the Internet of lectures, presentations, or training sessions.

Meanwhile, the College is continuing to develop and improve its student success initiatives within the Achieving the Dream network of community colleges. Last spring, CCC applied for “leader college” status based on student outcomes for interventions including Multiple Measures placement, Developmental English Redesign, Developmental Math Redesign of the Redesign, Freshman Seminar and Student Success Plans, and Improving Institutional Access to Data and Outcomes. Notification is expected in the fall of 2015.

Leadership Cumberland County (LCC) is a personal leadership development and community awareness program developed by CCC nearly 15 year ago. Modeled after similar programs across the nation, LCC offers established and emerging leaders the opportunity to expand their personal leadership skill set while studying several key topics that represent regional challenges and assets. Up to 24 leaders from the business, government, education and nonprofit sector convene monthly, for nine months, to develop learning days around criminal justice, education, health and social services, economic development, environment, agriculture and culture/diversity. The ultimate goal of the program is to generate engaged leaders committed to resolving the systemic problems that plague Cumberland County.

Under Strategic Direction 2, Leadership and Service Learning, the college continues to integrate service into curriculum across all departments. In the 2014-15 academic year, 11 new courses were added with service-learning components and 7 new instructors incorporated this interactive teaching style into their courses. With the new instructors and courses, the college now regularly offers students 40+ service-learning classes during the academic year. The service-learning courses by themselves have provided over 6,300 hours of service to the community during the fall and spring semesters. When the service-learning class hours are added to the community-wide service opportunities available to students and staff throughout the year, the college completed just under 9,000 hours of service across Cumberland County. Expanding into new territory, the team worked with faculty to implement student philanthropy into two service-learning classes in the fall semester. Students in these two classes were able to award $2,000 to two non-profit organizations serving homeless and poverty level families. In addition, as part of the civic engagement focus of service-learning, the college hosted and sponsored “A timeless journey - The Underground Railroad Beyond the 21st century” – a symposium on the role of the county in this nationally significant part of our history. Over 100 community members attended. The direct engagement of staff and students with the community also resulted in designation on the President’s Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll, an honor bestowed by the Corporation for National and Community Service.
