Rowan College of South Jersey – Gloucester Campus
2021 Institutional Profile

PREFACE

This past year represents a unique and challenging time in the history of Rowan College of South Jersey (RCSJ), as the institution evolved to meet the shifting needs of its students, faculty and staff in the face of the coronavirus. The College worked to enhance COVID-19 compliant virtual instruction methods, expand access to technology, increase financial assistance for students struggling under the pandemic’s weight, and blanket the College community in a network of resources and support – all accessible from the safety of home.

RCSJ began the 2020 fiscal year with an expansion of its premier partnership with Rowan University through the launch of Rowan Partnerships Online – a cost-saving, online bachelor’s degree option – and went on to establish the Division of Career and Technical Education to expand access to in-demand, industry-focused academic programming and hands-on training. The College’s growth in the face of adversity served to provide New Jersey students and residents with a wider range of accessible higher education and workforce pathways and more than 100 unique degree and certificate options, all available at one of the lowest tuition rates in the state.

On January 8, 2021, RCSJ joined efforts to curb the pandemic by hosting one of six New Jersey vaccination megasites on its Gloucester campus, where more than 300,000 coronavirus vaccine doses were administered over a six-month period. In March, RCSJ was able to announce an impending return to in-person learning for the Fall 2021 semester. The reinstatement of on-campus classes, along with the continuation of hybrid, online and live online course delivery methods, guarantees a range of academic delivery options to suit individualized student needs and preferences. As the institution continues to adjust to new challenges brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic, safety, value and student success remain top priorities.

The College developed a Strategic Plan for 2020-2023, which addresses the current public health, socioeconomic and educational modifications necessary to secure a strong and stable vision for the future. By integrating learning disciplines, enhancing existing programs to align with shifting workforce needs and developing new programs and services to meet the academic and career goals of students, RCSJ continues its long-standing, student-cultured philosophy.

I am pleased to submit Rowan College of South Jersey’s Institutional Profile report for the fiscal year from July 1, 2020, to June 30, 2021. All required information is included and, to the extent possible, is accurate and complete.

Sincerely,

Frederick Keating, Ed.D.
President, Rowan College of South Jersey
