INSTITUTIONAL HISTORY

Camden County College's mission to provide convenient, accessible, affordable, high-quality educational programs to all who may benefit was launched in 1967.

That fall, the first class of Camden County College students took courses at what had had been Mother of the Savior Seminary and is now the Blackwood Campus. Throughout the 1970s, 1980s and 1990s, new buildings were constructed to keep pace with growing enrollments and expanding academic offerings. In 2005, the Camden County Freeholders announced an $83 million rebuilding initiative that would affect more than half of the campus facilities and structural amenities. The first phase of this plan included refurbishment of the busiest classroom building, Madison Hall, and construction of the Connector, which links Madison with the Otto R. Mauke Community Center and houses the Center (formerly the Center for Civic Leadership and Responsibility). Subsequent phases have focused on creation of roads, grounds and athletic fields as well as additional demolition, refurbishment and construction, including Kevin G. Halpern Hall for Science and Health Education, which opened to students in 2013. In addition, Taft Hall was converted into a one-stop student services center completed in 2015. The Blackwood Campus offers a traditional collegiate setting with more than 20 buildings on 320 acres and provides the majority of the College's academic programs.

CCC's presence in the City of Camden began in 1969, when a diploma-completion program was begun in borrowed space to help students prepare to pass their GED test so they could begin college-level courses on the Blackwood Campus that fall. In 1991, a five-story Camden City Campus building – now called College Hall – provided the College's first permanent home in the City. The eight-story academic, retail and parking facility known as the Camden Technology Center was added in 2004 as one of the first projects completed under the Camden Municipal Rehabilitation and Economic Recovery Act. Today, the Camden City Campus focuses on an urban mission to support the economic development of the City of Camden and Camden County through associate degree studies, workforce training, and adult basic education. In 2016, the College was awarded a $5.8 million dollar grant from the NJ State Department of Higher Education to develop a 16,250 square foot Health Careers Education Facility in Camden, NJ. This facility is part of the Joint Health Science Center being advanced by Rowan University/Rutgers-Camden and opened in 2019.

Camden County College's third location opened in 2000 as the result of a partnership between the College, Cherry Hill Township and the William G. Rohrer Charitable Foundation. The William G. Rohrer Center is named to reflect the generosity of the late banker's endowment and offers core associate degree courses in a technology-rich setting.

CCC's fourth location is the Regional Emergency Training Center, located at Lakeland, a state-of-the-art, environmentally safe site that serves firefighters, emergency medical technicians and other public safety personnel. The RETC houses the Camden County College Fire Academy and the Camden County College Police Academy and offers classroom and hands-on instruction in the most extensive and contemporary array of credit and certification courses for first responders available.

f. Partnership with Camden County:

The College continues to maintain a shared service agreement with Camden County to manage facilities operations and construction. On behalf of the College, the County assists in overseeing the building maintenance and construction projects, custodial, landscaping and grounds, fleet management, trash and recycling.

Utilizing the services of outside facilities maintenance and janitorial management companies, the College maintains operations of all buildings, including HVAC and boilers. Facilities preventative maintenance plans have been implemented and a comprehensive assessment of existing building conditions has been developed. The resulting deficiency list has been prioritized and the College has been working to implement the recommended corrective actions. The list is also being used to generate work orders to repair deficiencies as well as do preventative maintenance work that will reduce the possibility of premature equipment and improve the longevity of systems. Given the use of these service contractors, the College benefits from improved cost effectiveness and quality.

Camden County Government Services Officers:

In May 2012, the Camden County College Department of Public Safety created the Camden County Government Services Division (GSD). The Government Services Division (GSD) has been a huge success. The idea at the inception of GSD was to provide career-oriented students' employment opportunities as Government Services Officers (GSO). These GSOs were placed at various government locations. The program has continued to grow each year and currently GSD staff is at over twenty (20) sites throughout Camden County.

The mission of the GSD is simple - to provide superior customer service to constituents of Camden County, while at the same time offering opportunities for staff to hone various professional skills. Initially, GSD was formed with traditional security duties as the focus; However, over the years with growth and also the result of the pandemic, the responsibilities of GSOs have expanded beyond safety and security. GSOs are assigned at the Camden County Tool Library, Sustainable Program, Meals on Wheels and have become more involved in the various activities and events sponsored by the Camden County Parks Department.

Our target staff members are students; however, we also employ professionals from various fields to supplement our staff. In addition to our students, we have several Government Services Officers – LEO/Fire/Military (retired law enforcement and full-time firemen, and present and past military members.) These individuals come to us with a unique skill set as a result of their previous experience and we encourage them to work with our younger staff members as mentors.

By design, many of our staff leave us after a temporary period of employment and move on to begin a career in local law enforcement, other first responder positions or other full-time career positions. To date, we have seen over one hundred and fifty (150) employees leave for full time careers/professions.
