

Resources for College Students

BASICNEEDS.NJ.GOV

Where can I find food for my family?

Food, childcare, transportation, housing, mental health support and help accessing financial aid can impact the well-being and success of college students.

The BasicNeeds.nj.gov website is a free, one-stop-shop resource for students seeking out programs and services to help them navigate social and educational needs during college.

Whether you are a first-generation student, an adult learner caring for a child or family member, facing financial hardship, a Dreamer, a parent of a college student, or just a New Jersey student looking for information, this site is for you.

Finding this site helpful? Looking for more information on a specific topic? Share your feedback here or scan the QR code as we are continuously updating the site to ensure it is as comprehensive as possible!

CHECK OUT THE SITE

