H.A.I.L.
(i.e. Hearing Aid Insurance Legislation)

Periodically, the Monthly Communicator publishes information regarding legislative bills that concern people with hearing loss in New Jersey. Although this does not necessarily express the opinion of the Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing, it is provided as a service to our readers. If you would like additional information, please contact your local legislators. Their contact numbers along with more detail can be found at: http://www.njleg.state.nj.us/

S1253 Bucco, Anthony R. as Primary Sponsor
“Grace’s Law;” requires health insurers, State Health Benefits Program and NJ FamilyCare to provide coverage for hearing aids for covered persons age 18 and younger.

This bill is named for Grace Gleba, a young girl who was born with a severe hearing impairment. The bill requires hospital, medical and health service corporations, commercial insurers, health maintenance organizations, health benefits plans issued pursuant to the New Jersey Individual Health Coverage and Small Employer Health Benefits Programs, the State Health Benefits Program and the NJ FamilyCare Program to provide coverage for medically necessary expenses incurred in the purchase of a hearing aid for covered children 18 years of age or younger. The bill provides that the coverage shall include the purchase of a hearing aid for each ear, when medically necessary and as prescribed or recommended by a licensed physician or audiologist. The bill provides that the insurer may limit the benefit to $2,000 per hearing aid for each hearing-impaired ear every 48 months. The bill further provides that a covered person may choose a hearing aid that is priced higher than the benefit payable under this bill, and may pay the difference between the price of the hearing aid and the benefit payable, without financial or contractual penalty to the provider of the hearing aid.

DDHH “Organizations” Booklet Updates

Editor’s Note: As you know, the DDHH published the tenth edition of Organizations Serving People With Hearing Loss in New Jersey. Everyone on the Monthly Communicator (MC) mailing list in November was sent a copy. We realize that this type of resource needs to be updated the moment it is printed. Rather than wait for a new edition, we decided to publish corrections and changes in the MC. These changes may appear periodically. You may wish to cut this page out and file with your copy of the booklet. Page number listed is the section is where the change should be added.

Monthly Communicator Deadlines

This is a reminder that the July and August issues of the Monthly Communicator are combined. Therefore, the submission deadline for this summer issue is June 1st. As usual, the deadline for the June issue is May 1st.
A past presentation of “Touched By a King” is known to have moved NAACP chairman Julian Bond to tears. Jackson’s appearance at CCC was just as moving for the more than 150 students, faculty, staff and administrators who attended the event. Throughout his performance, each of Jackson’s gestures, words and vocal inflections demonstrated the power and poise exhibited by King throughout his brief life.

A highlight was the final oration. Jackson delivered King’s “I Have a Dream” speech - which originally was given on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C., on Aug. 28, 1963 - from start to finish.

“When we let freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city,” he intoned in closing, “we will be able to speed up the day when all of God’s children - black men and white men, Jews and gentiles, Protestants and Catholics - will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual, ‘Free at last! Free at last! Thank God, almighty, we are free at last!’”

To conclude the program, attendees joined hands and sang “We Shall Overcome.”
On Sunday, June 13, 2004, the 19th International Convention of Self Help for Hard of Hearing People, Inc. in Omaha, NE will take place. Great strides have been made in the identification of the various causes of hearing loss: conductive hearing loss (interruption of sound to the inner ear caused by infections, fluids or injury), sensorineural (damage of the pathway of sound such as hair cell damage resulting from noise trauma, Meniere’s disease or infection of auditory nerves and genetics.

The purpose of the symposium is to provide a unique opportunity for individuals with hearing loss, professionals in the fields of hearing loss and other consumers to exchange information. Most individuals with hearing loss, including members of consumer organizations such as SHHH, have few opportunities to interact with scientists performing contemporary research on hearing loss. By the same token, researchers, including clinicians, rarely have the opportunity to engage in extended dialogue with consumers. Further, publications intended for consumers on ongoing or recent research are usually brief summary overviews rather than detailed descriptions of the research and its implications in layman’s language.

Seven speakers, moderated by Dr. Patrick E. Brookhouser (Founding Director of Boystown Research Hospital), will present their hearing-related studies that go beyond gene recognition and identification of hearing loss to the next step in therapy, which include gene therapies. Discussion will include:

- An overview of the future of therapy in the post-genomic era;
- Strategies to prevent hearing loss caused by noise and oxidative stress-induced apoptosis of auditory hair cells;
- Development of gene-based therapies for hereditary hearing loss syndromes;
- Prospects for gene therapy of the auditory system;
- Modern treatment and balance disorders associated with hearing loss;
- Hearing loss therapies: present and future;
- Understanding how pathology develops in Usher Syndrome and how it relates to the critical first step toward therapy.

The Lions Club International Foundation (LCIF) is helping to develop the world’s finest low-cost hearing aid. The long-range plan is for Lions worldwide to take a leading role in improving the lives of millions of hearing impaired people. LCIF has approved $600,000 for the Lions Affordable Hearing Aid Project (AHAP) to design, manufacture and distribute a high-quality, low-cost hearing aid. AHAP is moving forward steadily. A digitally programmable hearing aid already has been developed, a manufacturing and distribution site were established in southern India, successful clinical trials were conducted in the United States and a fulfillment center is planned for New Jersey (USA).

Hearing-impaired people are an overlooked population, especially in developing countries. The World Health Organization estimates that at least 250 million people have a disabling degree of hearing impairment. The average cost of a hearing aid, $1,450 in 2000, is prohibitively high for the poor. Only 12 percent of the 6 million hearing aids sold in 2000 were sold in developed countries, which is home to 70 percent of the global population.

AHAP is manufacturing the hearing aids for $40 to $50. Its price will range from $0 to $500 depending on a client’s ability to pay. The income realized from sales in wealthier countries will subsidize the cost in poor countries. Lions will be the exclusive distributor of the hearing aid to all Lions’ groups and all U.S. non-profit groups.

Many Lions clubs currently provide either low-cost refurbished hearing aids or high-priced new hearing aids to the deaf in their communities. AHAP will allow Lions to deliver new high-quality hearing aids to those who cannot afford them.

The hearing aids are being made in India at Aurolab, a world leader in manufacturing affordable medical technology. Aurolab developed the low-priced intraocular lens used in Lions’ anti-blindness projects. Aurolab is part of the Lions Aravind Institute of Community Ophthalmology, initially funded with a $1.26 million SightFirst grant. The lead manager for the hearing aid project is one of the originators of Aurolab, social entrepreneur David Green of U.S.-based Project Impact.

A pilot project will offer the hearing aid to Lions as a member benefit. If successful in parts of the United States and India, the member benefit could be extended to other regions.

Area-Wide Transportation System (AWTS) Partners with Open Road and the One Community Integration Project to Provide Transportation for People With Disabilities to Worship Services

Beginning in February, Middlesex County Area-Wide Transportation System (AWTS) partnered with Open Road and the One Community Integration Project to provide a pilot transportation service for adult persons with disabilities to attend worship services. Individuals with disabilities identify transportation as one of the primary barriers to attending worship. The partnership will help to identify the extent of the need for residents of Middlesex County to have transportation services on the weekends. AWTS will transport disabled county residents who are registered with the program under the provisions of the SPECIAL TRIPS program service. Open Road, a non-profit organization committed to facilitating participation of people with disabilities in religious observance, will subsidize the charge for this service. The service will be available on Friday, Saturday or Sunday to people with disabilities of all faiths. The One Community Integration Project is a program of Jewish Family & Vocational Service of Middlesex County (JFVS). For more information or to participate in this service, please contact JFVS at (732) 777-1940 Voice, (732) 777-1889 Fax, 515 Plainfield Avenue, Suite 201, Edison, NJ 08817, www.jfvs.org.
More Than Half a Century Later, We Remember The Holocaust

On Tuesday evening, April 20, 2004, the 27th Annual Interfaith Holocaust Remembrance Service will be held in South Orange/Maplewood, starting at 7:30 p.m. This year’s host congregation is Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, located at 217 Prospect Street in South Orange. This service is believed to be the oldest Interfaith Holocaust Remembrance service in New Jersey. The service will be preceded at 6:45 p.m. by a brief ceremony at Grove Park on South Orange Avenue in South Orange and the traditional torchlight March of Remembrance from the Park to the Church.

Local survivors of Nazi death camps, American Army liberators of the camps, and righteous Gentiles who sheltered Jewish families from the Nazis, all now in their seventies, will light eleven candles in remembrance of the six million Jews and five million others who perished in the camps.

The theme of this year’s service is “Reflections: A Survivor’s Story”. The speaker, Gena Lanceter, will describe her experiences when, only 13, she jumped off a train bound for the Majdanek death camp and survived. Although injured while escaping, she survived or the balance of the war with the help of righteous Gentiles, including a priest.

The service will include the lighting of “chai” candles at the beginning of the service by children and grandchildren of survivors, and choral music by adult and children choirs.

As has been customary for several years at the service, a sign language interpreter will be provided. This is a moving service and an opportunity to join in interfaith worship with people who were there during one of history’s darkest chapters.

Dear Editor;
(Printed with parental permission)

Hi, I’m a deaf sixteen year old. Are you aware of the fact that the United States Government is planning to censor closed captioning as a part of a budget cut? The article can be found here: http://www.almbeachpost.com/opinion/content/auto/epaper/editions/sunday/opinion_0442326e064c624b0099.html

When I read this article, I felt insulted, upset, and angry at the same time. Many of my friends who are deaf and hearing also felt this way. My hearing parents found this outrageous. I think that something has to be done here because closed captioning has been a big difference in the lives of deaf individuals such as myself. My grammar and vocabulary is something for me to be proud of and I credit most of it to closed captioning because I have learned grammatical structures and vocabulary from reading captions while growing up. I am a straight ‘A’ student at Mountain Lakes High School and I am proud of it and I credit that also to closed captioning. I also feel that it is not justified that hearing people are able to understand any television show by listening. We, as deaf people, are not able to hear and have to depend completely on captions to be able to fully understand what is going on. I think that if the government deems those 200 shows inappropriate for captions, then these shows should be canceled because it is not right if only hearing people are able to watch these shows. Please contact me if you have further knowledge of this situation or anything else, it would mean a lot to me. Thank you for your time and your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Ian Lazarus

Library Has Temporary Replacement

Greetings! My name is Rebecca Rainone. I wanted to take the opportunity to introduce myself as the new coordinator, who will be replacing Christine Olsen while she is on maternity leave. I look forward to working at the NJ Library for the Blind and Handicapped Deaf and Hard of Hearing Awareness Program (DHHAP) as well as meeting library fans.

I’d like to tell you a little bit about myself. I was born Deaf and raised by hearing parents who are very supportive of my deafness and culture as well. During my early school years, I mainstreamed in public school until eighth grade. After I graduated, I opted to attend MKSD to finish out my high school years. Upon graduation, I attended NTID/RIT and received my bachelor’s degree in Interior Design. After finding out that interior design was not for me, I explored the ASL teaching profession and stayed for over eight years.

I am very much involved with New Jersey Association of the Deaf as the current corresponding secretary on the board and the state chairperson for 2005. I was also the contestant coordinator for both pageants in 2001 and 2003. On a national level, I acted as a chaperone for my sister, who won the Miss Deaf New Jersey title as well as the Miss Deaf America title.

I look forward to meeting all of you! I will do my best to get things done as needed. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or want to learn more about DHHAP. I will be more than happy to assist you. I can be reached at rrainone@njstatelib.org.
Deaf Baby Doesn’t Wait
Submitted by Madeline Yuhas

On January 16, 2003, I visited my daughter who was expecting her first baby in February. Under doctor’s orders, she had taken a leave of absence from her teaching job. Before the doctor left for his vacation, he told her, “Do not have the baby while I’m gone.”

My son-in-law, Mike, had a ticket for the coming Eagles football game in Philly on January 19. He too, told my daughter. “Don’t have the baby before the game.” And on January 18th, we scheduled a surprise baby shower for her.

Well, this baby decided to arrive when she was ready! No medications, no doctor, no football game, or baby shower was going to stop her. So Kirstyn Renee Loftus was born on January 17, 2003 at 2:47 a.m. She weighed 5lbs. 11 oz. She beat us all.

We went ahead with the baby shower on January 18 as planned. Kirstyn’s dad, Mike, took the new mother’s place at the shower while she was recuperating. It was fun watching him open up all the gifts as my son, Chris, recorded the event on video tape for Maureen to see. At the end of the baby shower, we dressed Mike in a knit skirt and paper hat with all the ribbons. He was a good sport and had a lot of fun.

Kirstyn was born with Tetrology of Fallot (heart condition) and hearing loss. On July 8, 2003, Kirstyn entered Children’s Hospital in Philadelphia for open heart surgery. She was almost six months old. The surgery lasted three hours. It was a very emotional time as she remained in the hospital for four days. Fortunately, her parents stayed the entire time. They have rooms set up for all parents who wish to stay as close as possible.

Soon thereafter, she had her hearing tests. During the tests, she had got tired, fussy, and soon was ready to fall asleep. Once she was fitted with two hearing aids, her whole face and eyes lit up to the world of sound. After all she had been through it was a wonderful sight to see. On the way home from the hospital, Kirstyn was going through a terrible time adjusting to all the sounds around her. She cried and screamed nonstop, until she was completely exhausted. This made me a little teary. You see, Kirstyn’s grandfather and I are both deaf.

When I first learned of her hearing loss, I felt bad because I did not want her to experience the hardships we went through. Those long school days with no interpreters, no friends and no guidance which were the reason I was held back two years, makes me feel that I was robbed of an education. Once I graduated from public school, I was sent to the NJ School for the Deaf. The two worlds I experienced at these schools were very separate from each other.

Kristyn will have the best of both worlds by interacting with hearing and non-hearing people. She will be raised learning speech skills as well as American Sign Language (ASL) together.

Kirstyn is a happy and bubbly baby. Typical of children like her and at her age, her first sign was “dad-dad”. A few weeks later, and to our surprise her first voice word “da-da”, so we know she can hear somewhat with her hearing aids. She likes to tease her mother by pulling her hearing aids, sitting on them, trying to pull them apart, using them as a pacifier, or as a teething toy knowing her mom will run over to stop her.

Yes, times have certainly changed since my school days.

The NJ Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DDHH) continues to provide Baby Alert systems to qualified people in New Jersey. This device emits a visual signal to parents with hearing loss so that they become aware their infant is crying in another room. If you would like an application, please contact DDHH at 800-792-8339 V/TTY or (609) 984-0390 Fax.

Editor’s Note: One of the goals of the Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing is to promote communication access and education about hearing loss. This story helps illustrate the importance of seeking hearing aids at the earliest possible age. The Universal Newborn Hearing Screening program in New Jersey helps detect possible hearing loss at birth. It is of utmost importance that parents/guardians assure that follow-up occurs when hearing loss is suspected. If anyone needs information or referral, contact DDHH at 609-984-7281 V/TTY.

Bye Bye Birdie

Signed performance on May 1, 2 p.m. at
Voorhees High School Theatre, Route 513, Lebanon Township, NJ.
Tickets, $9 - $15
Showkids Invitational Theatre, Inc.,
Ticket Office, 1999A Route 31, Clinton, NJ 08809
(908) 638-5959 Voice, www.showkids.org
It’s the late 50’s and teens across the U.S. are going crazy as Conrad Birdie is about to be drafted, leaving his agent, Albert and Albert’s secretary Rosie wondering what to do. For publicity, Conrad is set to give a farewell kiss to typical American teen, Kim McAfee, on the Ed Sullivan Show (upsetting both her boyfriend Hugo and her father). Meanwhile, Rosie tries to get Albert to propose only to be foiled by his Mama’s antics, This delightful musical, with updated scenes and songs from the Disney movie, features comic mishaps and happy endings for all ages with popular songs including, “Put on a Happy Face,” “A Lot of Livin’ to Do” and “The Telephone Hour.”
