Data Navigator
https://www.dvrpc.org/asp/DataNavigator/
A one-stop data repository for all geographically-based Census and DVRPC data. Regional, County, Municipal and some Census Tract data for various subject matters* are viewable online and downloadable.
*2012 - 2016 ACS data (demographic, economic, housing, social characteristics)
Census population counts (1930 - 2010) and estimates (2000 - 2009, 2010 - 2016)
DVRPC data (land use types [every 5 years 1990 - 2010]; 2045 population and employment forecasts)
Employment (place of residence/employment; mode to work for 2000 and 2010)
Crash data (total, # of fatal, injured, pedestrian, bicycle crashes for 2008 - 2016)
Building permits (1980 - 2016)

GIS Data
https://www.dvrpc.org/mapping/data/
A Geographic Information System (GIS) is an important planning tool that supports state, regional, county, and local planning and technical efforts. Nearly all projects incorporate GIS technology, whether it is for data collection and storage, or analysis and presentation. GIS allows planners to view and query spatial data, perform advanced analysis to discover relationships, patterns, and trends, and effectively present information to decision-makers and the public. Data is available for viewing, querying, and downloading and is organized into five themes: boundaries, demographics, planning, structures, and transportation.

Interactive Maps
https://www.dvrpc.org/mapping/Webmaps/
DVRPC has developed several interactive mapping applications as part of our continuing effort to support planning and improve decision-making in our region. Within each application, you can view geographic features, query selective data sets, create your own custom map and access detailed reports about certain features. These web mapping applications allow DVRPC to present geospatial information to the public without the need of special GIS software.

Regional Indicators (Tracking Progress) Update Coming Soon https://www.dvrpc.org/TrackingProgress/
Regional indicators are a means to monitor and evaluate implementation of Long-Range Plan goals and determine if the recommendations are being accomplished. Over 30 indicators are tracked, grouped under the four core principles of the Long-Range Plan. The online Tracking Progress indicators are updated periodically.

Products Search
https://www.dvrpc.org/Products/Search/
The DVRPC Products Database is continuously updated as reports and other items become available. Visitors can view publication abstracts and/or full PDF versions for over 1,000 reports from the late 1980s to present. In some cases, data in reports is available for download in .xls format.

• Analytical Data Reports;
• Data Bulletins;
• Data Snapshots;
and other data-driven publications, such as:
• Rating the Region;

What Will it Take to Support New Jersey’s Industry Clusters

Abstract: Provides the results and interpretation of a collaborative research project completed by the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce and PlanSmart New Jersey. The Chamber and PlanSmart NJ conducted this project to explore the concept of Regional Innovation Clusters (RICs), a theory that is explicitly promoted as a means to achieve targeted economic growth in various state level economic development initiatives. This report documents the relationship between New Jersey’s industry clusters and the state’s existing infrastructure to evaluate how infrastructure investment and economic development align on the ground.

What’s Land Use Got To Do With It? Examining the Connections Between New Jersey’s Economic Prosperity and Its Land Use Patterns, 2011

Abstract: Findings of an Industry Focus Group held on April 14, 2011 with representatives of the development, pharmaceutical, research and development, technology, education, banking, logistics, law, and energy sectors. The report found key challenges in the areas of attracting a high quality labor force, navigating the State’s complex and unpredictable regulatory system, and deep frustration over New Jersey’s property tax system and home rule environment.

Abstract: How to develop circulation plans that integrate walking, biking, public transportation, and the automobile in order to move goods and people in the most efficient, socially equitable, and environmentally benign ways.

NJT Transit Score Guidebook, 2011

Abstract: Explains a valuable community assessment tool, the Transit Score, and how it can be used in planning and other areas to advance transportation choices in communities and regions throughout New Jersey.

Abstract: Analyzed the local and state land use planning processes currently used in New Jersey to determine appropriate intervention points to retain New Jersey’s natural capital.
